Foreign Fruit Katie Goh,2025-05-06 A sharp sweet memoir of change identity and hybridity I loved it Katherine May author of Wintering Per person oranges are the most consumed fruit in the world Across the world no matter how remote or cold or incongruous a climate is oranges will be there What stories could I unravel from the orange's long ribboning peel What new meanings could I find in its variousness as it moves from east to west and from familiar to foreign What begins as a curiosity into the origins of the orange soon becomes a far reaching odyssey of citrus for Katie Goh Katie follows the complicated history of the orange from east to west and west to east from a luxury item of European kings and Chinese emperors to a modest fruit people take for granted This investigation parallels Katie's powerful search into her own heritage Growing up queer in a Chinese Malaysian Irish household in the north of Ireland Katie felt herself at odds with the culture and politics around her As a teenager Katie visits her ancestral home in Longyan China with her family to better understand her roots but doesn't find the easy digestible answers she hoped for In her mid twenties when her grandmother falls ill she ventures again to the land of her ancestors Malaysia where more questions of self and belonging are raised In her travels and reflections she navigates histories that she wants to understand but has never truly felt a part of Like the story of the orange Katie finds that simple and extractable explanations even about a seemingly simple fruit are impossible The story that unfolds is Katie's incredible endeavor to flesh out these contradictions to unpeel the layers of personhood a reflection on identity through the cipher of the orange Along the way the orange becomes so much more than just a fruit it emerges as a symbol a metaphor and a guide

Foreign Fruit A Personal History of the Orange is a searching wide ranging seamless weaving of storytelling with research and a meditative deeply moving encounter with the orange and the self
