

in squares, but in cubes and hyper-cubes, is one of the recreations of the science of mathematics.*

The artist, impatient of concept, but questing the beautiful, will care little about the mathematical aspect of the matter, but it should interest him to know that the magic lines of magic squares are rich in decorative possibilities.

A magic line is that endless line formed by following the numbers of a magic square in their natural sequence from cell to cell and returning to the point of departure. Because most magic squares are developed by arranging the numbers in their natural order in the form of a square and then subjecting them to certain rotations, the whole thing may be compared to the formation of string figures—the cat's cradle of one's childhood—in which a loop of string is made to assume various intricate and often amazing patterns—magic lines in space.

*See Philip Henry Wynne's Magic Tesserae in the author's Primer of Higher Space.

THEIR FORMATION

Without going at all deeply into the arcana of the subject it will not be amiss to suggest one of the methods of magic square formation by the simplest possible example, the magic square of 3. Arrange the digits in sequence in three horizontal lines, and relate them to the cells of a square as shown in Figure 22. This will leave four cells empty and four numbers outside the perimeter. Dispose these numbers, not in the empty cells which they adjoin, but in the ones opposite; in other words, rotate the outside numbers in a direction at right angles to the plane of the paper, about the lines which

Projective Ornament Inscribed:

Projective Ornament Claude Fayette Bragdon, 1915 Norman Bel Geddes Nicolas P. Maffei, 2018-02-22 Norman Bel Geddes has long been considered the founder of American industrial design. During his long career he worked on everything from theatre design, world fairs, and cars to houses and product and packaging design. Nicolas P. Maffei's magisterial biography draws on original material from the archive at the Harry Ransom Center, University of Texas at Austin, and places Bel Geddes' work within the fast-changing cultural and intellectual contexts of his time. Maffei shows how Bel Geddes' futuristic but pragmatic style, his notion of practical vision, was central to his work and highly influential on the professional practice of American industrial design in general.

Perspective and Projective Geometries James C. Morehead (Jr.), 1955 Histories of Ornament Gülru Necipoğlu, Alina Payne, 2016-03-08 This lavishly illustrated volume is the first major global history of ornament from the Middle Ages to today. Crossing historical and geographical boundaries in unprecedented ways and considering the role of ornament in both art and architecture, Histories of Ornament offers a nuanced examination that integrates medieval, Renaissance, baroque, and modern Euroamerican traditions with their Islamic, Indian, Chinese, and Mesoamerican counterparts. At a time when ornament has re-emerged in architectural practice and is a topic of growing interest to art and architectural historians, the book reveals how the long history of ornament illuminates its global resurgence today. Organized by thematic sections on the significance, influence, and role of ornament, the book addresses ornament's current revival in architecture, its historiography, and theories of its transcontinental mobility in medieval and early modern Europe and the Middle East, and its place in the context of industrialization and modernism. Throughout, Histories of Ornament emphasizes the portability and politics of ornament, figuration versus abstraction, cross-cultural dialogues, and the constant negotiation of local and global traditions. Featuring original essays by more than two dozen scholars from around the world, this authoritative and wide-ranging book provides an indispensable reference on the histories of ornament in a global context. Contributors include Michele Bacci (Fribourg University), Anna Contadini (University of London), Thomas B. F. Cummins (Harvard), Chanchal Dadlani (Wake Forest), Daniela del Pesco (Università degli Studi Roma Tre), Vittoria Di Palma (USC), Anne Dunlop (University of Melbourne), Marzia Faietti (University of Bologna), Maria Judith Feliciano (independent scholar), Finbarr Barry Flood (NYU), Jonathan Hay (NYU), Christopher P.
