Beyond Refuge Jason R. Swisher, 2023-01-27 Beyond Refuge explores abstractions practicalities impediments and assets proffered by research participants to illustrate what an educational transformation should and could look like via a theoretical framework for emancipatory education of forcibly displaced youth

Lessons from an Indian Day School Adrea Lawrence, 2011-10-18 Clara D True and Clinton J Crandall teacher and superintendent for the Indian Day School of the Santa Clara Pueblo were typical agents in the campaign waged by the federal government to assimilate Native Americans into mainstream American society As the primary Office of Indian Affairs officials for the Pueblo True and Crandall administered the school and also served as de facto health officials demographers arbiters and legal consultants as well as the eyes and ears of the government Drawing upon an extensive correspondence between True and Crandall from 1902 to 1907 Adrea Lawrence provides an intimate look at the daily lives and challenges that the two educators faced as they worked with a diverse community of Tewa Indians and Hispanos Through this long overlooked

correspondence Lawrence introduces us to two fascinating characters flawed but intent individuals charged with the task of carrying out the government's colonialist Indian education policy Through descriptions of such episodes as their disdain for older Indians suspicion of vaccination True and Crandall provide clear examples of the inherent contradictions in the federal government's culturally insensitive approach toward its Indian population Yet they were also great advocates for the Indians often stepping in to mediate in matters involving land and taxation The complex portrait of these educators that emerges is based not just on the letters but also on corresponding documents from Pueblo Indians periodicals legal cases statutes Indian Office circulars and anthropological studies conducted by both Native and non Native scholars Lawrence reveals the challenges federal employees faced as they tried to execute the federal policy of assimilation while dealing with educative issues relating to land disease citizenship and modes of education that confronted Santa Clara Pueblo and its neighbors Several recurring themes are traced through each chapter such as colonization as negotiation place as a participant True and Crandall's notions of good and bad Indians and the significance of the relationships among Pueblo Indians Hispanos and Anglos Simultaneously caring and condescending dedicated yet oblivious to cultural complexities True and Crandall in these letters offer a rare and nuanced look at the daily interactions between OIA employees and their charges It makes a unique contribution to both Native American and education history

Interculturalization and Teacher Education Cheryl Hunter, Donna Pearson, 2014-12-05 Institutions of higher education are keen to improve teachers intercultural experiences communication and understanding but offer few resources for bringing the research literature to direct application in teacher education programs This volume addresses that gap by examining what intercultural exchanges in teacher education look like why they are important and how they can be maintained The authors examine how socio cultural beliefs institutional structures and external accreditation bodies interact in the process of interculturalization highlighting the incentives and barriers as well as strategies to implement and maintain interculturalization projects Highlighting pragmatic examples this book addresses the challenges and benefits of interculturalization that can be applied to teacher education programs from both a theoretical and practitioner perspective

Family Rights and Religion John Eekelaar, 2020-09-10 The interaction between individual rights which are often seen in secular terms and religion is becoming an important and complex topic not only for academic study but for practical policy This volume collects a range of writings from journals edited collections and individual books which deal with different aspects of the interaction within the context of family life and which appear with their original pagination These studies have been selected because they throw a sharp light on central elements of the role of religion in determining the structure of the rights of family members in relation to one another both from an historical and contemporary perspective While many of the writings are focused on US and European systems selected writings covering other systems illustrate the universal nature of the topic The studies are accompanied by a reflective commentary from the editor which sets the writings in a broad context of social constitutional and philosophical thought with the aim of stimulating critical thought and discussion Learning Without Lessons David F. Lancy, 2024 In Learning Without Lessons David F. Lancy offers the first attempt to review the principles and practices for fostering learning in children that are found in small scale pre industrial communities across the globe and through history His analysis yields a consistent and coherent pedagogy that can be contrasted sharply with the taken for granted pedagogy found in the West His analysis finds that teachers classrooms lessons verbal instruction testing grading praise and the use of symbols are rare or absent from indigenous pedagogy Instead field studies document the prevalence of self guided learners who rely on observation listening learning in play from peers the hands on use of real tools and learning through voluntary participation in everyday activities such as foraging Excursions and Recursions Brandon Sams, Jennifer Job, James C. Jupp, 2012-12-01 The Curriculum and Pedagogy book series is an enactment of the mission and values espoused by the Curriculum and Pedagogy Group an international educational organization serving those who share a common faith in democracy and a commitment to public moral leadership in schools and society Accordingly the mission of this series is to advance scholarship that engages critical dispositions towards curriculum and instruction educational empowerment individual and collectivized agency and social justice The purpose of the series is to create and nurture democratic spaces in education an aspect of educational thought that is frequently lacking in the extant literature often jettisoned via efforts to de politicize the study of education Rather than ignore these conversations this series offers the capacity for educational renewal and social change through scholarly research arts based projects social action academic enrichment and community engagement Authors will evidence their commitment to the principles of democracy transparency agency multicultural inclusion ethnic diversity gender and sexuality equity economic justice and international cooperation Furthermore these authors will contribute to the development of deeper critical insights into the historical political aesthetic cultural and institutional subtexts and contexts of curriculum that impact educational practices Believing that curriculum studies and the ethical conduct that is congruent with such studies must become part of the fabric of public life and classroom practices this book series brings together prose poetry and visual artistry from teachers professors graduate students early childhood leaders school administrators curriculum workers and planners museum and agency directors curators artists and various under represented groups in projects that interrogate curriculum and pedagogical theories

Beyond Critique Bradley A. Levinson, Jacob P. K. Gross, Christopher Hanks, Julia Heimer Dadds, Kafi Kumasi, Joseph Link, 2015-12-03 This book introduces educational practitioners students and scholars to the people concepts questions and concerns that make up the field of critical social theory It guides readers into a lively conversation about how education can and does contribute to reinforcing or challenging relations of domination in the modern era Written by a group of experienced educators and scholars in an engaging style Critical Social Theories and Education introduces and explains the preeminent thinkers and traditions in critical social theory and discusses the primary strands of educational research and thought that have been informed and influenced by them
