Family Scripts Joan D. Atwood, 1996 This book is appropriate as a text for postgraduate marriage and family counselor therapist training and also as a professional development resource for practicing marriage and family counselors The first three chapters of this book introduce the notions of social construction assumptions and social scripting theory The remaining chapters then apply the theory of scripting to common clinical family situations seen in therapy such as death and grief in the family premarital child bearing adolescence couples therapy and chemical dependence in the family

Configuring History James J. Sosnoski, Patricia Harkin, Bryan Carter, 2006 The multidisciplinary essays in Configuring History describe how teachers can use virtual reality technology to teach the Harlem Renaissance Describing in detail the construction of Virtual Harlem Bronzeville and Montmartre all important sites in African American cultural history the essays delineate the technologies employed in the construction of these cityscapes and the learning theory configuring history that informs the project The book provides a model of a collaborative learning network linking classrooms at universities in the United States and in Europe and demonstrates the importance of collaboration between the sciences and the humanities for the future development of instructional technologies

Script-Based Semantics Salvatore Attardo, 2020-02-24 The book contains essays in honor of Victor Raskin The contributions are all directly related to some of the major areas of work in which Raskin's scholarship has spanned for decades The obvious connecting idea is the encyclopedic script based foundation of lexical meaning which informs his pioneering work in semantics in the 1970s and 1980s The first part of the book collects articles directly concerned with script based semantics which examine both the theoretical and methodological premises of the idea and its applications Script based semantics is the foundation of both Raskin s ground breaking work in humor research addressed by the articles in part 2 and in Ontological semantics addressed in part 3 the most recent development of script based semantics The fourth part is dedicated to a less known but equally important strand of Raskin s research the applications of linguistics to other fields including writing lexicography and professional applications e g tourism Overall the book provides and up to date in depth discussion of an influential strand of the discussion on semantics and its most recent developments and influence on other seemingly unrelated fields such as Cognitive Linguistics

Who Am I? Who Is She? Gerard P. Montague, 2013-05-02 Are persons physical things members of the species homo sapiens which exist solely in materialist form continuous in structure with other living things Or is the issue a more complex one are there more dimensions to being a person than mere physical biological existence These are matters of interest and discussion in many fields of study in this age of individuality In this wide ranging essay the author addresses various aspects of the issue including the history of self and identity The ancient tradition of dualism is rejected in favour of a straightforward holistic and naturalistic account of selfhood it is argued that the mind arises in an emergent sense from the body and personal identity is best expressed in terms of a self reflective and meaningful narrative The approach is principally from an analytic philosophy point of view but also takes on board psychological and sociological aspects of self and identity
