Looking North Northern England And The National Imagination:

Looking North Dave Russell, 2004-10 Investigating areas as diverse as travel literature fiction dialect the stage radio television feature film music and sport this book assesses the portrayal of the North of England within the national culture and how this has impacted upon attitudes to the region and its place within notions of Englishness The relationship between these cultural forms and the construction of regional identity has received only limited consideration and this fascinating work provides not only much new information but also a map for future writers The North although seen ultimately as other and the subject of much critical comment is also shown here as capable of stimulating the creative imagination and invigorating English culture in sometimes surprising ways Regional Identities in North-East England, 1300-2000 Adrian Gareth Green, A. J. Pollard, 2007 Is North East England really a coherent and self conscious region The essays collected here address this topical issue from the middle ages to the present day 'Race,' Space and Multiculturalism in Northern England Shamim Miah, Pete Sanderson, Paul Thomas, 2020-06-02 This book challenges the narrative of Northern England as a failed space of multiculturalism drawing on a historically contextualised discussion of ethnic relations to argue that multiculturalism has been more successful and locally situated than these assumptions allow The authors examine the interplay between race space and place to analyse how profound economic change the evolving nature of the state individual racism and the local creation and enactment of multiculturalist policies have all contributed to shaping the trajectory of ethnic faith identities and inter community relations at a local level In doing so the book analyses both change and continuity in discussion of and national local state policy towards ethnic relations particularly around the supposed segregation integration dichotomy and the ways in which racialised events are perceived and identities are created and reflected in state policy operations Drawing on the authors long involvement in empirical research policy and practice around ethnicity race and racism in the Northern England they effectively support critical and situated analysis of controversial racialised issues and set these geographically specific findings in the context of wider international experiences of and tensions around growing ethnic diversity in the context of profound economic and social changes Researching Northern English Raymond Hickey, 2015-12-15 Northern English has become the focus of intensive research in the past decade or so following on a series of dedicated conferences The present book brings together leading edge contributions on various aspects of language use variation and change in the North of England The volume covers the history of English in this area as well as providing incisive studies of both the varieties of English spoken in cities and in larger parts of the area In addition the collection contains a number of interface studies e g concerned with the borders of the North of England both to Scotland and the South of England or dealing with second language varieties of Northern English or with additional issues such as enregisterment All these contributions help to draw a comprehensive picture of this key area of the English speaking world and point the way forward for future research Storied Ground Paul Readman, 2018-02-22 The relationship between landscape and identity is explored to reveal how Englishness encompasses the urban and rural and the north and south

Face to Face Kausik Bandyopadhyay, 2021-03-30 While rivalry is embedded in any sporting event or performance soccer the world's most popular mass spectator sport has been an emblem of such rivalries since its inception as an organized sport Some of these rivalries grow to become long term and perennial by their nature extent impact and legacy from the local to the global level They represent identities based on widely diverse affiliations of human life locality region nation continent community class culture religion ethnicity and so on Yet at times such rivalries transcend barriers of space and time where soccer clubs nations personalities organizations styles and fans float and compete with intriguing identities The present volume brings into focus some of the most fascinating and enduring rivalries in the world of soccer It attempts to encapsulate analyse and reconstruct those rivalries between nations between clubs between personalities between styles of play between fandoms and between organizations in a historical perspective in relation to diverse identities competing ideologies contestations of power psychologies of attachment bonds of loyalty notions of enmity articulations of violence and affinities of fan culture some of the core manifestations of sporting rivalry The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Soccer Society

The BBC and national identity in Britain, 1922-53 Thomas Hajkowski, 2013-07-19 Examining the ways in which the BBC constructed and disseminated British national identity during the second quarter of the twentieth century this book is the first study that focuses in a comprehensive way on how the BBC through its radio programs tried to represent what it meant to be British The BBC and national identity in Britain offers a revision of histories of regional broadcasting in Britain that interpret it as a form of cultural imperialism The regional organization of the BBC and the news and creative programming designed specifically for regional listeners reinforced the cultural and historical distinctiveness of Scotland Wales and Northern Ireland The BBC anticipated and perhaps encouraged the development of the hybrid dual identities characteristic of contemporary Britain This book will be of interest to scholars and students of nationalism and national identity British imperialism mass media and media history and the four nations approach to British history

Health Divides Clare Bambra, 2016-08-30 HIGHLY COMMENDED IN THE BMA BOOK AWARDS 2017 Americans live three years less than their counterparts in France or Sweden Scottish men survive two years less than English men Across Europe women in the poorest communities live up to ten years less than those in the richest Revealing gaps in life expectancy of up to 25 years between places just a few miles apart this important book demonstrates that where you live can kill you Clare Bambra a leading expert in public health draws on case studies from across the globe to examine the social environmental economic and political causes of these health inequalities how they have evolved over time and what they are like today Bambra concludes by considering how health divides might develop in the future and what should be done so that where you live is not a matter of life and death Danny Dorling provides a foreword

Lancastrians Paul Salveson, 2023 In the early morning the mill girls clumping down the cobbled street all in clogs making a curiously formidable sound like an army hurrying into battle I suppose this is the typical sound of Lancashire George Orwell The Road to Wigan Pier This popular history explores the cultural heritage and identity of Lancashire stretching from the Mersey to the Lake District Paul Salveson charts the county's transformation from a largely agricultural region noted for its religious learning into the Industrial Revolution's powerhouse as an emerging self-confident bourgeoisie drove economic growth This capital boom came with a cultural blossoming creating today's Lancashire Industrialists strongly committed to the arts endowed galleries and museums producing a diverse world of science technology music and literature Lancashire developed a distinct business culture but this was also the birthplace of the world co-operative movement and the heart of democracy campaigns including Chartism and women's suffrage Lancashire has generally welcomed incomers who have long helped to inform its distinctive identity fourteenth century Flemish weavers nineteenth century Irish immigrants and Jewish refugees and more recently New Lancastrians from Asia Africa and Eastern Europe This long overdue book explores contemporary Lancastrian culture following modern upheavals and Lancashire's fragmentation compared with its old rival Yorkshire What future awaits the 6 million people of this rich historic region Catherine Cookson Country Julie Taddeo,2016-12-05 Britain's most widely read author of the late twentieth century Catherine Cookson published more than 100 books including The Fifteen Streets The Black Velvet Gown and Katie Mulholland Set in England's industrial northeast her novels depict the social economic and emotional hardships of that area In the first essay collection devoted to Cookson the contributors examine what Cookson's memoirs and historical fiction mean to readers including how her fans contribute to her position in the cultural imaginary constructions of gender class and English and Irish identity in her work the importance of place in her novels Cookson's place in the heritage industry and television adaptations of Cookson's works Cookson's work tackled topics that were still taboo in the early post World War II era such as domestic abuse rape and incest This collection places Cookson in historical context and shows how skillful she was at pushing generic boundaries Images of England Through Popular Music K. Gildart,2013-10-16 Drawing on archival sources and oral testimony Keith Gildart examines the ways in which popular music played an important role in reflecting and shaping social identities and working class cultures and through a focus on rock n roll rhythm blues punk mod subculture and glam rock created a sense of crisis in English society Regional Modernisms Neal Alexander,2013-10-14 Where did literary modernism happen This book answers this question re-evaluating the parameters of modernism in the light of recent developments in literary geography and literary history through an examination of novels poetry theatre and little magazines Essays identify and appraise the local attachments of modernist texts in particular geographical regions and question the idea of the regional in light of the alienating displacements of transnational modernity Designing Modern Britain Cheryl Buckley,2007-10 Employing numerous examples of classic British design Designing Modern Britain delves into the history of British design culture and thereby tracks the evolution of the British national identity Cinemas, Identities and Beyond D.
