Fear and Nature Christy Tidwell, Carter Soles, 2021-05-10 Ecohorror represents human fears about the natural world: killer plants and animals, catastrophic weather events and disquieting encounters with the nonhuman. Its portrayals of animals, the environment and even scientists build on popular conceptions of zoology, ecology and the scientific process. As such, ecohorror is a genre uniquely situated to address life, art and the dangers of scientific knowledge in the Anthropocene. Featuring new readings of the genre, Fear and Nature brings ecohorror texts and theories into conversation with other critical discourses. The chapters cover a variety of media forms from literature and short fiction to manga, poetry, television and film. The chronological range is equally varied, beginning in the nineteenth century with the work of Edgar Allan Poe and finishing in the twenty-first with Stephen King and Guillermo del Toro. This range highlights the significance of ecohorror as a mode. In their analyses, the contributors make explicit connections across chapters, question the limits of the genre and address the ways in which our fears about nature intersect with those we hold about the racial, animal and bodily other. A foundational text, this volume will appeal to specialists in horror studies, Gothic studies, the environmental humanities and ecocriticism. In addition to the editors, the contributors include Kristen Angierski, Bridgitte Barclay, Marisol Cortez, Chelsea Davis, Joseph K. Heumann, Dawn Keetley, Ashley Kniss, Robin L. Murray, Brittany R. Roberts, Sharon Sharp and Keri Stevenson.

Steel Soul Online Jaxer30, David is a lawyer with a passion for videogames even if his job doesn't let him play to his heart's content. He is happy with playing every Saturday or Sunday in his VR capsule and like everyone else waits impatiently for the release of Steel Soul Online, the first VR Mecha game that combined magic and technology and the largest ever made for said system. But his life changed completely one fateful night while riding his motorbike. Now in the world of SSO, he'll try to improve and overcome his peers, make new friends and conquer the world, but he has to do it in the most unconventional way possible in a world where death is lurking at every step. Dickens and the Despised Mother Shale Preston, 2013-01-25

This work offers an original interpretation of the mothers of the protagonists in Dickens's autobiographical novels. Taking Julia Kristeva's psychoanalytic concept of abjection and Mary Douglas's anthropological analysis of pollution as its conceptual framework, the book argues that Dickens's primary emotional response towards the mother who abandoned him to work in a blacking warehouse was disgust and suggests that we can trace similar signs of disgust in the narrators of his fictional autobiographies David Copperfield, Bleak House and Great Expectations. The author provides a close reading of Dickens's autobiographical fragment and opens up the possibility that Dickens's feelings towards his mother actually bore a significant influence on his fiction. The book closes with a provocative discussion of Dickens's compulsive Sikes and Nancy public readings. Un-Dead TV Brad Middleton, 2015-02-05 Vampires are ubiquitous in our popular culture from movies to television in fiction and art and even within the hallowed halls of academia But in the not so distant past these undead creatures held more fear than fascination they lived in the shadows and were the stuff of nightmares In 1897 Bram Stoker introduced Dracula to the Western world and our concept of vampires was changed forever For over sixty years the undead have bled the television airwaves appearing in every type of programming imaginable Un Dead TV catalogues over one thousand unique vampire appearances and is the first book of its kind to explore this phenomenon to the extent that it truly deserves
