Oeuvres Esthétiques In French Language:

The Aesthetic Thought of the French Enlightenment Francis X. J. Coleman, 2010-11-23 For most of the twentieth century the writings of aestheticians of the French Enlightenment were neglected by philosophers and students of the fine arts Coleman has applied philosophical analysis to the writings of Diderot Montesquieu Dubos Batteux Andre and Crousaz among others to reflect on the fine arts of the first two thirds of the eighteenth century Modern Theories of Art: From Winckelmann to Baudelaire Moshe Barasch, 1990-02 Annotation In this volume the third in his classic series of texts surveying the history of art theory Moshe Barasch traces the hidden patterns and interlocking themes in the study of art from Impressionism to Abstract Art Barasch details the immense social changes in the creation presentation and reception of art which have set the history of art theory on a vertiginous new course the decreased relevance of workshops and art schools the replacement of the treatise by the critical review and the interrelation of new modes of scientific inquiry with artistic theory and praxis The consequent changes in the ways in which critics as well as artists conceptualized paintings and sculptures were radical marked by an obsession with intense immediate sensory experiences psychological reflection on the effects of art and a magnetic pull to the exotic and alien making for the most exciting and fertile period in the history of art criticism Theories of Art: From Winckelmann to Baudelaire Moshe Barasch, 2000 This anthology examines Love's Labours Lost from a variety of perspectives and through a wide range of materials Selections discuss the play in terms of historical context dating and sources character analysis comic elements and verbal conceits evidence of authorship performance analysis and feminist interpretations Alongside theater reviews production photographs and critical commentary the volume also includes essays written by practicing theater artists who have worked on the play An index by name literary work and concept rounds out this valuable resource Theories of Art Moshe Barasch, 2000 First published in 2001 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature Cynthia Conchita Sugars, 2016 The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature provides a broad ranging introduction to some of the key critical fields genres and periods in Canadian literary studies The essays in this volume written by prominent theorists in the field reflect the plurality of critical perspectives regional and historical specializations and theoretical positions that constitute the field of Canadian literary criticism across a range of genres and historical periods The volume provides a dynamic introduction to current areas of critical interest including 1 attention to the links between the literary and the public sphere encompassing such topics as neoliberalism trauma and memory citizenship material culture literary prizes disability studies literature and history digital cultures globalization studies and environmentalism or ecocriticism 2 interest in Indigenous literatures and settler Indigenous relations 3 attention to multiple diasporic and postcolonial contexts within Canada 4 interest in the institutionalization of Canadian literature as a discipline 5 a turn towards book history and literary history with a renewed interest in early Canadian literature 6 a growing interest in articulating the affective character of the literary including an interest in affect theory mourning melancholy haunting memory and autobiography The book represents a diverse array of interests from the revival of early Canadian writing to the continued interest in Indigenous regional and diasporic traditions to more recent discussions of globalization market forces and neoliberalism It includes a distinct section dedicated to Indigenous literatures and traditions as well as a section that reflects on the discipline of Canadian literature as a whole Sentimental Figures of Empire in Eighteenth-Century Britain and France Lynn Festa,2006-10-15

Publisher description Secrets of Creativity Suzanne Nalbantian,Paul M. Matthews,2019-08-26 Secrets of Creativity What Neuroscience the Arts and Our Minds Reveal draws on insights from leading neuroscientists and scholars in the humanities and the arts to probe creativity in its many contexts in the everyday mind the exceptional mind the scientific mind the artistic mind and the pathological mind Components of creativity are specified with respect to types of memory forms of intelligence modes of experience and kinds of emotion Authors in this volume take on the challenge of showing how creativity can be characterized behaviorally cognitively and neurophysiologically The complementary perspectives of the authors add to the richness of these findings Neuroscientists describe the functioning of the brain and its circuitry in creative acts of scientific discovery or aesthetic production Humanists from the fields of literature art and music give analyses of creativity in major literary works musical compositions and works of visual art The Impact of Art on French Literature Helen Osterman Borowitz,1985 This book traces a direct line of tradition that unites the French précieux novel Romantic and Symbolist literature and Proust's novel cycle The French of Medieval England Thelma S. Fenster,Carolyn P. Collette,2017 Recent research has emphasised the importance of insular French in medieval English culture alongside English and Latin for a period of some four hundred years French variously labelled the French of England Anglo Norman Anglo French and Insular French rivalled these two languages The essays here focus on linguistic adaptation and translation in this new multilingual England where John Gower wrote in Latin while his contemporary Chaucer could break new ground in English

Encyclopedia of Literary Translation Into English: A-L O. Classe,2000 French Verse-Art Clive Scott,1980-05-15 This 1980 book is designed to help university students to master the technicalities and techniques of French verse The author assumes that part of the difficulty encountered by readers derives from the need to approach French verse through English verse this book undertakes therefore a differentiation of the two verse traditions Dr Scott's concern is to provide the groundwork of a terminology to discuss the origins and implications of that terminology and to show how terminological knowledge can be translated into critical speculation about poetry After three chapters which establish the essential features of the French line of verse and outline the difficulties the student is likely to encounter in trying to describe it and deal with it the book moves on to consider rhyme stanzas verse forms and free verse Scotland and France in the Enlightenment Deidre Dawson,Pierre Morère,2004 The Scottish and French Enlightenments are arguably the two intellectual movements of the eighteenth century that were most influential in shaping the modern age The essays in Scotland and France in the

Enlightenment explore a wide range of topics of historical relevance to eighteenth century scholars while engaging students with broad interdisciplinary interests in the humanities and social sciences The ways in which Scottish philosophy influenced French painting how the Encyclopaedia Britannica presented the French Revolution the impact of Macpherson's Ossian on the development of French Romanticism the moral education of children the relation between reflection and perception in the arts and in moral life humankind's relationship to other animals and the links between violence and imagination fear and sanity are only some of the topics covered This challenging selection of essays comparing Scottish and French enlightenment views of natural history jurisprudence moral philosophy history and art history complicates and enriches the notion of Enlightenment and will inaugurate a new field of Franco Scottish studies

Translations of French Sentimental Prose Fiction in Late Eighteenth-century England Josephine Grieder, 1975 Architecture in Words Louise Pelletier, 2006-09-27 What if the house you are about to enter was built with the confessed purpose of seducing you of creating various sensations destined to touch your soul and make you reflect on who you are Could architecture have such power This was the assumption of generations of architects at the beginning of modernity Exploring the role of theatre and fiction in defining character in architecture Louise Pelletier examines how architecture developed to express political and social intent Applying this to the modern day Pelletier considers how architects can learn from these eighteenth century attitudes in order to restore architecture's communicative dimension Through an in depth and interdisciplinary analysis of the beginning of modernity Louise Pelletier encourages today's architects to consider the political and linguistic implications of their tools Combining theory historical studies and research Architecture in Words will provoke thought and enrich the work of any architect

Framed Narratives Jay Caplan, 1985 Framed Narratives was first published in 1985 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions The work of French philosophe Denis Diderot 1713-1784 has inspired conflicting reactions in those who encounter him Diderot has been admired and despised he has moved his readers and irritated them often at the same time His work continually shifts between mutually exclusive positions neither of which provides an entirely satisfactory answer to the question at hand yet neither of which can be disregarded The nature of these paradoxes has been the fundamental problem in Diderot a problem that his interpreters have approached by imagining synthetic perspectives or frames within which the paradoxes could be resolved In Framed Narratives Jay Caplan focuses on the problem of framing in and of Diderot He proposes an interpretive model that draws upon the notion of dialogue developed by Mikhail Bakhtin For Bakhtin no utterance can be reduced to a univocal meaning one's discourse is always marked by other voices In Diderot Caplan shows the narrative device of the tableau engages the reader or beholder in a dialogic relationship with the author and the characters Diderot defines the players of those roles as members of a family one of whom is always missing and that sacrificial relationship becomes an integral part of the text Caplan then uses the concept of the tableau to interpret the rhetoric of gender genre and pathos in Diderot's works for and about the theater his novel The Nun the philosophical dialogue D'Alembert's Dream and his correspondence What emerges from these readings is not only an interpretation of certain texts but a description of Diderot's and by implication early bourgeois poetics Framed Narratives is in addition one of the first attempts to rely upon Bakhtin's concepts in the interpretation of specific texts in this case the work of an essentially dialogic writer A socio historical supplement to Framed Narratives is provided in Jochen Schulte Sasse's afterword Diderot and the Jews Leon Schwartz, 1981 Explores the many articles that appeared in the Encyclopédie of which Diderot was the editor in order to more clearly define and interpret the philosopher's true attitudes Although many of these articles were indeed harsh in their treatment of the Jews Diderot's thinking evolves to reveal a genuine regard for this group

Medievalism and the Academy Leslie J. Workman, Kathleen Verduin, David Metzger, David D. Metzger, 1999 The first of a two volume examination of medievalism and academic scholarship this collection is divided into four sections Canonizing Chaucer Antiquarian loomings Medievalism medieval studies and Medieval studies at the millennium Medievalism the continuing process of creating the middle ages engenders formal medieval studies from a wide variety of popular interests in the middle ages This volume accordingly explores the common ground between artistic and popular constructions of the middle ages and the study of the middle ages within the academy Essays treat the genesis of medieval studies in early modern antiquarianism the erection of academic medievalism through persistent indeed perverse appeals to heroic medieval manliness and attenuated female spirituality the current jeopardy of the book a medieval invention in the face of technological assault Contributors DAVID O MATTHEWS STEVE ELLIS ANTONIA WARD GRAHAM PARRY MARGARET CLUNIES ROSS ANNA SMOL DAVID ALLAN MATILDE MATEO MARYA DEVOTO ULRIKE WIETHAUS STEPHEN STEELE JAMES KENNEDY WILLIAM CALIN JESSE D HURLBUT JOAN GRENIER WINTHER WILLIAM PADEN

Seducing the Eighteenth-Century French Reader Paul J. Young, 2016-12-05 As he demonstrates that narratives of seduction function as a master plot for French literature in the eighteenth century Paul Young argues that the prevalence of this trope was a reaction to a dominant cultural discourse that coded the novel and the new practice of solitary reading as dangerous seductive practices Situating his study in the context of paintings educational manuals and criticism that caution against the act of reading Young considers both canonical and lesser known works by authors that include Rousseau Sade Bastide Laclos Crillon fils and the writers of two widely read libertine novels How these authors responded to a cultural climate that viewed literature and especially the novel as seductive sheds light on the perils and pleasures of authorship the ways in which texts interact with the larger cultural discourse and what eighteenth century texts tell us about the dangers of reading or writing Ultimately Young argues the seduction not in the text but by the text raises questions about the nature of pleasure in eighteenth century French literature and culture

The Cambridge History of Eighteenth-century Philosophy Knud Haakonssen, 2006 This two volume set presents a comprehensive and up to date history of eighteenth century philosophy The subject is treated systematically by topic not by individual thinker school or movement thus enabling a much more historically nuanced picture of the period to be painted Sensing the Nation's Law Stefan Huygebaert, Angela Condello, Sarah Marusek, Mark Antaki, 2018-03-22 This book examines how the nation and its fundamental law are sensed by way of various aesthetic forms from the age of revolution up until our age of contested democratic legitimacy Contemporary democratic legitimacy is tied among other things to consent to representation to the identity of ruler and ruled and of course to legality and the legal forms through which democracy is structured This book expands the ways in which we can understand and appreciate democratic legitimacy If democratic communities are imagined this book suggests that their rightfulness must be sensed analogously to the need for justice not only to be done but to be seen to be done This book brings together legal historical and philosophical perspectives on the representation and iconography of the nation in the European North American and Australian contexts from contributors in law political science history art history and philosophy
