MacCHEYNE, 1845 The Minds of the West Jon Gjerde, 2000-11-09 In the century preceding World War I the American Middle West drew thousands of migrants both from Europe and from the northeastern United States In the American mind the region represented a place where social differences could be muted and a distinctly American culture created Many of the European groups however viewed the Midwest as an area of opportunity because it allowed them to retain cultural and religious traditions from their homelands Jon Gjerde examines the cultural patterns or minds that those settling the Middle West carried with them He argues that such cultural transplantation could occur because patterns of migration tended to reunite people of similar pasts and because the rural Midwest was a vast region where cultural groups could sequester themselves in tight knit settlements built around familial and community institutions Gjerde compares patterns of development and acculturation across immigrant groups exploring the frictions and fissures experienced within and between communities Finally he examines the means by which individual ethnic groups built themselves a representative voice joining the political and social debate on both a regional and national level Andrew Fuller Paul Brewster, 2010 A biography of English pastor Andrew Fuller 1754-1815 highlighting his method of relating doctrine to ministry Book two of the Studies in Baptist Life Thought series Victorian Christianity and Emigrant Voyages to British Colonies c.1840 - c.1914 Rowan Strong, 2017-10-20 Victorian Christianity and Emigrant Voyages to British Colonies c 1840 c 1914 considers the religious component of the nineteenth century British and Irish emigration experience It examines the varieties of Christianity adhered to by most British and Irish emigrants in the nineteenth century and consequently taken to their new homes in British settler colonies Rowan Strong explores a dimension of this emigration history that has been overlooked by scholars the development of an international emigrants chaplaincy by the Church of England that ministered to Anglicans Nonconformists as well as others including Scandinavians Germans Jews and freethinkers Using the sources of this emigrants chaplaincy Strong also makes extensive use of the shipboard diaries kept by emigrants themselves to give them a voice in this history Using these sources to look at the British and Irish emigrant voyages to new homes this study provides an analysis of the Christianity of these emigrants as they travelled by ship to British colonies Their ships were floating villages that necessitated and facilitated religious encounters across denominational and even religious boundaries It argues that the Church of England provided an emigrants ministry that had the greatest longevity breadth and international structure of any Church in the nineteenth century The book also examines the principal varieties of Christianity espoused by most British emigrants and argues this religion was more central to their identity and consequently more significant in settler colonies than many historians have often hitherto accepted In this way the Church of England's emigrant chaplaincy made a major contribution to the development of a British world in settler colonies of the empire      Aiming at Heaven, Getting the Earth Marian E. Crowe, 2007-01-01 This book argues that there is still vitality in the English Catholic novel It analyzes the fiction of four contemporary Catholic novelists Alice Thomas Ellis David Lodge Sara Maitland and Piers Paul Read and situates their work both within the tradition of the Catholic novel as it developed in France and England and within the changing post Vatican II Catholic Church      The Oxford Handbook of Calvin and Calvinism Bruce Gordon, Carl R. Trueman, 2021 John Calvin was a leader of the European Reformation of the sixteenth century and the influence of his thought remains crucial in our world This collection explores the origins of Calvin's thought and the theological historical and cultural circumstances in which they have evolved from Geneva to our times      Epitaphs & inscriptions from burial grounds & old buildings in the north-east of Scotland, also an appendix of illustrative papers Andrew Jervise, 1875      Epitaphs & Inscriptions from Burial Grounds & Old Buildings in the North-east of Scotland Andrew Jervise, 1875      The Sunday at Home, 1864      So Long for Now: A World War II Memoir William M. Dwyer, 2009-07-13 In World War II Bill Dwyer served as a Stars Stripes correspondent with the US Fourth Infantry Division in Belgium Luxembourg and Germany often in company with Collier's correspondent Ernest Hemingway He was a member of a six man truce party who went behind enemy lines for three hours and worked to negotiate the surrender of Rothenburg a walled Bavarian city dating to the 14th century For this action he was awarded the Bronze Star
