in the early 16th century on an equal footing with the peninsula's other great art capitals Rome, Florence and Venice. Correggio only travelled to Parma when he was already at the height of his career in the late 1510s but he was to remain in the city for the rest of his life. Some twenty of his paintings covering his entire career have been selected to underscore the extraordinary emotive force and expressive range that the artist put not only into his religious works but also into his mythological paintings which were to have such a huge impact on later artists ranging from the Carracci brothers to Watteau and even to Picasso.
