Progress in Haematology: Volume 1 Christopher D. R. Dunn, Christopher J. Pallister, 1998-01-08 Volume 1 of a series of books intended to help students of medicine veterinary science dentistry and biomedical science interpret the latest findings in haematology provide a backdrop for future advances and provide more focused and in depth reading for those wishing to follow a laboratory or clinically based career Each of the contributions is written by an authority in the field and is information rather than reference rich providing an up to date resume of the latest advances in the subject and a focus for further reading Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1985 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70 National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), List of Serials and Monographs Indexed for Online Users, 1990 Cellular, Molecular, and Clinical Aspects of Allergic Disorders Sudhir Gupta, 2013-11-11 Impressive progress has been made in the general field of immunology which has made possible new understanding and pragmatic approaches to the patient with allergic disease Indeed one working in the field of immunology senses a major revolution of immunobiologic thinking much of which has relevance to the clinical practice of allergy To the practicing allergist pediatrician or internist who must deal with allergic patients the surging new information may seem confusing and bewildering As part of our comprehensive series on modern immunobiology which aims to digest this progress we believe it is appropriate to devote an entire volume to the fundamental principles new knowledge and clinical lore on which the modern practice of allergy must be based In the present volume we strive to bring together relevant contributions from leaders in the field of immunobiology with those whose work stands at the forefront of clinical practice The advancing understanding has in numerous instances reached the point of clinical application and we have tried to encompass in this volume the entire scope of modern allergy Medical Books and Serials in Print, 1984 Cumulated Index Medicus, 1976 The New Progress in Cancer Treatment Xu Ze, Xu Jie, Bin Wu, 2018-06-28 In the half century after the Second World War oncology has developed greatly both in the world and in China There are three traditional major treatments surgery which has been used to treat tumors for more than a hundred years radiotherapy which has been used for ninety years and chemotherapy which has been used for nearly seventy years In the 1980s there was the rise of biological therapy and immunotherapy The effects of oncological therapy have made a lot of progress Many tumors have achieved good results but there are still many solid tumors whose efficacy are still very poor In 1985 the author followed up more than three thousand patients who had undergone the general surgical operation and thorax surgical operation The results showed that most patients relapsed and metastasized within two to three years after surgery Some patients even relapsed in a few months This made me deeply realize that surgery is successful and standardized but the long term effect is not satisfied or that the long term treatment is a failure Current Catalog, 1989 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70 Medical and Health Care Books and Serials in Print, 1997 Progress in Liver Transplantation C.H. Gips, R.A. Krom, 2013-11-09

This book the first multicenter book on orthotopic liver transplantatio reflects the progress in this field The first experience in hepatic transplantation was documented in 1969 by Starzl and his group in Denver in the classic of the same name It was followed in 1983 by Liver transplantation edited by Caine in which the experience of the Cambridge King s College Hospital team was laid down Apart from these the book of Lie and Giitgemann appeared in 1974 These books are fundamental for all who want to become involved with experimental and clinical liver transplantation Developments in liver transplantation are fast faster than the production of this book and new knowledge now not only is coming from the pioneer centers but also from their off spring scattered over the world In only a few years there has been an enormous increase in the number of liver transplantations and certainly there have been performed at least as many transplants since 1980 as between 1963 the start of clinical liver transplantation and 1980 Even if our understanding is better many problems are the same as twenty years ago and for some there may be a long way to go before they are solved Progress in Allergy Vol. 17 P.
