Science And Technology In Central And Eastern Europe The Reform Of Higher Education:

Science and Technology in Central and Eastern Europe Anthony Tillet, Barry Lesser, 2014-02-04 The political upheavals in the former Soviet Union and its satellite states in Central and Eastern Europe have produced profound social educational and economic changes Once a centerpiece of the communist state the study of science and technology in the university has now fallen victim to economic and social disarray Support for the teaching and funding of science and technology is of primary importance for the economic health of any modern nation The ten chapters of this work examine what happens to a scientific and technological establishment that suddenly has to make its own way as exemplified in many countries worldwide today

Internationalisation of Social Sciences in Central and Eastern Europe Ilona Pálné Kovács, Dagmar

Kutsar, 2012-08-06 Internationalisation of Social Sciences in Central and Eastern Europe explores the way in which social sciences in comparison with other sciences in Europe have been divided by the political orders of West and East As part of the field of science policies in Europe this book contributes to the creation of a new understanding of the European academic landscape of social sciences with particular focus on CEE countries In its investigation of the emergence of social sciences in Central and Eastern Europe following the collapse of the totalitarian systems this book discusses how the internationalisation of the social sciences and the convergence between Western and Eastern social scientific life is hindered by factors including funding academic contacts and curriculum development The issues addressed within the text serve to prompt the realisation that coherence in European social sciences can be reached only if new academic traditions and cultures are developed and science policies harmonised This book is essential reading for undergraduate and graduate students of European Integration CEE or Transitional Studies and any courses related to science policies It is also relevant to science administrators and policy makers at national and European level

Educational Research and Higher Education Reform in Eastern and Central Europe Erich Leitner, 1998

The countries of Eastern and Central Europe are finding themselves in a process of momentous change which also concerns the restructuring of their higher education systems The present volume analyses how educational research acts as an impetus for higher education reform on the various national levels as well as in a supranational context The contributions to this volume examine the inner mechanisms of research into higher education as well as the issues surrounding higher education reform in Austria the Czech Republic Slovakia Hungary Slovenia Poland the Ukraine Russia Romania and Bulgaria

Theory and Practice of the Triple Helix Model in Developing Countries Mohammed Saad, Girma Zawdie, 2011-02-25 Theory and Practice of Triple Helix Model in Developing Countries contributes to the expanding literature on triple helix innovation focusing on developing countries The book is based on practical cases and experiences from Africa Latin America and Asia Relevant experiences and best practices from developed countries are also examined The book is presented as a response to the growing awareness about the need for policy shift from the traditional technology transfer practice to a policy position that is capable of providing a sustainable basis for innovation and technological progress in developing countries The book explores the triple helix system of innovation based on the dynamics of the interactive relationships between government industry and universities in the creation dissemination and sharing of knowledge in developing countries A major point addressed by the book is the extent to which the triple helix system of relationships between university industry and government can enhance the effectiveness of universities in developing countries as agents of innovation industrialization and sustainable development Adaptation of Western Economics by Russian Universities Tatiana Suspitsyna, 2005-08-23 This book examines an intercultural translation of economics as an academic field from Western to post Soviet university settings Documents, working papers. 2001, vol. 8: Documents 9155-9241 Council of Europe, 2001-01-01 Public Finance Reform During the Transition Lajos Bokros, Jean-Jacques Dethier, 1998-01-01 Public finance reform is simultaneously a process of fiscal adjustment and structural reforms in the public sector Under socialist rule Hungary's concept of public finance was nebulous since there was no clear delineation between private and public sectors As a transition country structural reforms were aimed at creating not only sustainable institutional arrangements but were aimed at creating a government sector adapted to a market economy as well The former socialist states were forced into abrupt transitions and there was little time for minds and institutions to adapt This volume aims to provide a comprehensive description of Hungary's experience of public finance reform in a former socialist economy including a history of the reform process an empirical analysis of trends in public spending and revenues evidence of Hungary's ability to move towards accession to the European Union EU a description of policy reforms in the public welfare system an analysis of the reforms in key aspects of the institutional framework and an examination of the tax system

From Actors to Reforms in European Higher Education Manja Klemenčič, 2022-09-05 This volume addresses the conceptions of actors and actorhood in higher education research It explores the range of actors that are or should be recognized and theorized in higher education research the processes that shape actorhood in the higher education reforms and explores the relations between the actors and higher education reforms Drawing on a range of theoretical frameworks and research projects the volume provides in depth analyses of higher education actors and reform issues through institutional system or international comparative perspective The volume celebrates and is in conversation with the intellectual contributions of Professor Pavel Zgaga whose work advances our understanding of actors and actorhood in higher education and higher education reforms East/West Education, 1997 Markets in Higher Education Pedro Teixeira, Ben B. Jongbloed, David D. Dill, Alberto Amaral, 2006-08-01 This volume presents the most comprehensive international discussion of the role of markets in higher education ever published It reflects on both the political and economic implications of the rising trend towards introducing market elements in higher education The book draws together many leading international scholars in the economic and policy analysis of higher education to explore different theoretical perspectives and present new empirical evidence on market mechanisms in higher education in several Western countries

The authors present a dispassionate and ideologically neutral view of the advantages and disadvantages of the introduction of market mechanisms in higher education and of its effects in terms of access equity quality of provision student learning research and scholarship and so on And they balance the performance of markets in higher education against the alternative of more or a different kind of governmental intervention
