A Score for The Lords' Masque by Thomas Campion Andrew J. Sabol, 1993 A Score for the Lords' Masque by Thomas Campion Thomas Campion, 1993 Mental Health, Spirituality, and Religion in the Middle Ages and Early Modern Age Albrecht Classen, 2014-07-28 This volume continues the critical exploration of fundamental issues in the medieval and early modern world here concerning mental health spirituality melancholy mystical visions medicine and well being The contributors who originally had presented their research at a symposium at The University of Arizona in May 2013 explore a wide range of approaches and materials pertinent to these issues taking us from the early Middle Ages to the eighteenth century capping the volume with some reflections on the relevance of religion today Lapidary sciences matter here as much as medical psychological research combined with literary and art historical approaches The premodern understanding of mental health is not taken as a miraculous panacea for modern problems but the contributors suggest that medieval and early modern writers scientists and artists commanded a considerable amount of arcane sometimes curious and speculative knowledge that promises to be of value and relevance even for us today once again Modern palliative medicine finds for instance intriguing parallels in medieval word magic and the mystical perspectives encapsulated highly productive alternative perceptions of the macrocosm and microcosm that promise to be insightful and important also for the post modern world Improvising Otherwise Fatima Lahham, 2025-04-30 This volume redefines how we approach early music and cultural histories intertwining feminist decolonial and creative perspectives Fatima Lahham delves into the improvisational practices of early modern England situating them within a rich tapestry of musical sources theological texts travel narratives and natural histories Inspired by Sara Ahmed's notion of the feminist ear the book amplifies voices and histories often unheard re-examining the cultural interplay between England and the Ottoman Empire in the seventeenth century This groundbreaking study bridges disciplines and engages with critical race studies to explore decolonial methodologies Lahham challenges traditional historiographies integrating improvisation studies and early modern creativity to transform our understanding of historical performance and inspire new practices today Tracks from her album punctuate the text fostering an innovative multi-modal reading experience while creative prompts invite readers to craft their own improvisations At once scholarly and imaginative this book expands the boundaries of historically informed performance and cultural studies By mobilizing improvisation as a tool for understanding and re-imagining history Imagining Otherwise offers a vital contribution to early music feminist theory and the study of England's global engagements Sound effects Laura Jayne Wright, 2023-06-27 This book shows that the sounds of the early modern stage do not only signify but are also significant Sounds are weighted with meaning offering a complex system of allusions Playwrights such as Jonson and Shakespeare developed increasingly experimental soundscapes from the storms of King Lear 1605 and Pericles 1607 to the explosive laboratory of The Alchemist 1610 Yet sound is dependent on the subjectivity of listeners this book is conscious of the complex relationship between sound as made and sound as heard Sound effects should not resound from scene to scene without examination any more than a pun can be reshaped in dialogue without acknowledgement of its shifting connotations This book listens to sound as a rhetorical device able to penetrate the ears and persuade the mind to influence and to affect
