Dillon,2025-04-15 Cultural Ecologies of the Land is a radical and challenging reassessment of the way we relate to the land and to infrastructure There was a time when the land defined us Now with each passing year we are increasingly detached from it It was once the centre stage of humanity now it is the setting for a technological drama What has happened and why does it matter This book is a multi layered account of people and environment shaping each other through cumulative moment to moment day to day change and a template for thinking about place locality belonging and identity Cultural Ecologies of the Land presents the existential crisis that many believe we now face as a systemic problem arising from social institutions and forms of behaviour that have been marginalised with our dependency on modern infrastructure It explains the part people have played in contributing to the crisis and how regenerating relationships with the land offers a route towards alleviating it This is not only about acknowledging our impact on Earth but also about understanding ourselves in relation to it how we engage with our surroundings make sense of them live and work in them and create narratives that connect and sustain us Who's who in Art Bernard Dolman,2008 Medievalia et Humanistica, No. 41 Reinhold F. Gleis, Maik Goth,2015-12-17

Since its founding in 1943 Medievalia et Humanistica has won worldwide recognition as the first scholarly publication in America to devote itself entirely to medieval and Renaissance studies. Since 1970 a new series sponsored by the Modern Language Association of America and edited by an international board of distinguished scholars and critics has published interdisciplinary articles. In yearly hardcover volumes the new series publishes significant scholarship, criticism and reviews treating all facets of medieval and Renaissance culture, history, art, literature, music, science, law, economics and philosophy. Volume 41 is a special issue which features twelve outstanding articles from the International Conference on Medieval and Renaissance Scottish Language and Literature. Land Law and People in Medieval Scotland Neville Cynthia J.

Neville, 2012-10-16 This ambitious book, newly available in paperback, examines the encounter between Gaels and Europeans in Scotland in the central Middle Ages, offering new insights into an important period in the formation of the Scots national identity. It is based on a close reading of the texts of several thousand charters, indentures, briefs and other written sources that record the business conducted in royal and baronial courts across the length and breadth of the medieval kingdom between 1150 and 1400. Under the broad themes of land law and people, this book explores how the customs, laws and traditions of the native inhabitants and those of incoming settlers interacted and influenced each other. Drawing on a range of theoretical and methodological approaches, the author places her subject matter firmly within the recent historiography of the British Isles and demonstrates how the experience of Scotland was both similar to and a distinct manifestation of a wider process of Europeanisation.
