Screen Tastes From Soap Opera To Satellite Dishes:

Screen Tastes Charlotte Brunsdon, 2005-07-26 Charlotte Brunsdon's key writings on film and television are brought together with new introductions which contextualise and update the arguments. The focus is on the tastes and pleasures of the female consumer as she is produced by popular film and television. Prime Time Soap Operas on Indian Television

Shoma Munshi, 2012-07-26 This book focuses on urban family soaps on television and analyses them as an important resource for anthropological insights into contemporary social issues and practices. It studies the popular and everyday while also concentrating on the middle class. REDESIGNING WOMEN Amanda D. Lotz, 2010-10-01 In the 1990s American television audiences witnessed an unprecedented rise in programming devoted explicitly to women. Cable networks such as Oxygen Media Women's Entertainment Network and Lifetime targeted a female audience and prime time dramatic series such as Buffy the Vampire Slayer, Judging Amy, Gilmore Girls, Sex and the City and Ally McBeal empowered heroines: single career women and professionals struggling with family commitments and occupational demands. After establishing this phenomenon's significance, Amanda D. Lotz explores the audience profile, the types of narrative and characters that recur, and changes to the industry landscape in the wake of media consolidation and a profusion of channels. Employing a cultural studies framework, Lotz examines whether the multiplicity of female-centric networks and narratives renders certain gender stereotypes uninhabitable and how new dramatic portrayals of women have redefined narrative conventions. Redesigning Women also reveals how these changes led to narrowcasting or the targeting of a niche segment of the overall audience and the ways in which the new sophisticated portrayals of women inspire sympathetic identification while also commodifying viewers into a marketable demographic for advertisers. A Taste for Gardening Lisa Taylor, 2016-03-16 Is the garden a consumption site where identities are constructed? Do gardeners make aesthetic choices according to how they are positioned by class and gender? This book presents the first scholarly analysis of the relationship between media interest in gardening and cultural identities. With an examination of aesthetic dispositions as a symbolic mode of communication closely aligned to people's identities and drawing on ethnographic data gathered from encounters with gardeners, this book maps a typology of gardening taste, revealing that gardening how plants are chosen, planted, and cared for is a classed and gendered practice manifested in specific types of visual aesthetics. This timely and original book develops a new area within cultural studies while contributing to debates about lifestyle and lifestyle media consumption, class, and methodology. A must read for anybody concerned with or intrigued by the cultural construction of identification practices. Television Studies Jonathan Gray, Amanda D. Lotz, 2012 Major short introduction to the field of television studies. Clearly lays out the birth of this discipline, shows its links with other fields of study, and explains key concepts and theoretical debates. Includes interview material with scholars whose work has defined the field. The Rise of K-Dramas JaeYoon Park, Ann-Gee Lee, 2019-06-07 Korean dramas gained popularity across Asia in the late 1990s and their global fandom continues to grow. Despite cultural differences non Asian audiences find K dramas appealing They range from historical melodrama and romantic comedy to action horror sci fi and thriller Devotees pursue an immersive fandom consuming Korean food fashion and music learning Korean to better understand their favorite shows and travelling to Korea for firsthand experiences This collection of new essays focuses on the cultural impact of K drama and its fandom and on the transformation of identities in the context of regional and global dynamics Contributors discuss such popular series as Boys over Flowers My Love from the Star and Descendants of the Sun
