Scribbling The Cat Travels With An African Soldier:

Scribbling the Cat Alexandra Fuller, 2005-04-26 When Alexandra Bo Fuller was home in Zambia a few years ago visiting her parents for Christmas she asked her father about a nearby banana farmer who was known for being a tough bugger Her father s response was a warning to steer clear of him he told Bo Curiosity scribbled the cat Nonetheless Fuller began her strange friendship with the man she calls K a white African and veteran of the Rhodesian war With the same fiercely beautiful prose that won her acclaim for Don t Let s Go to the Dogs Tonight Fuller here recounts her friendship with K K is seemingly a man of contradictions tattooed battle scarred and weathered by farm work he is a lion of a man feral and bulletproof Yet he is also a born again Christian given to weeping when he recollects his failed romantic life and more than anything else welling up inside with memories of battle For his war like all wars was a brutal one marked by racial strife jungle battles unimaginable tortures and the murdering of innocent civilians and K like all the veterans of the war has blood on his hands Driven by K s memories Fuller and K decide to enter the heart of darkness in the most literal way by traveling from Zambia through Zimbabwe formerly Rhodesia and Mozambique to visit the scenes of the war and to meet other veterans It is a strange journey into the past one marked at once by somber reflections and odd humor and featuring characters such as Mapenga a fellow veteran who lives with his pet lion on a little island in the middle of a lake and is known to cope with his personal demons by refusing to speak for days on end What results from Fuller s journey is a remarkably unbiased and unsentimental glimpse of men who have killed mutilated tortured and scrambled to survive during wartime and who now must attempt to live with their past and live past their sins In these men too we get a glimpse of life in Africa a land that besets its creatures with pests plagues and natural disasters making the people there at once more hardened and more vulnerable than elsewhere Scribbling the Cat is an engrossing and haunting look at war Africa and the lines of sanity

African Women Writing Resistance Jennifer Browdy de Hernandez,Pauline Dongala,Omotayo Jolaosho,Anne Serafin,2010-08-19 African Women Writing Resistance is the first transnational anthology to focus on women s strategies of resistance to the challenges they face in Africa today The anthology brings together personal narratives testimony interviews short stories poetry performance scripts folktales and lyrics Thematically organized it presents women s writing on such issues as intertribal and interethnic conflicts the degradation of the environment polygamy domestic abuse the controversial traditional practice of female genital cutting Sharia law intergenerational tensions and emigration and exile Contributors include internationally recognized authors and activists such as Wangari Maathai and Nawal El Saadawi as well as a host of vibrant new voices from all over the African continent and from the African diaspora Interdisciplinary in scope this collection provides an excellent introduction to contemporary African women s literature and highlights social issues that are particular to Africa but are also of worldwide concern It is an essential reference for students of African studies world literature anthropology cultural studies postcolonial studies and women s studies A Choice Outstanding Academic Book Outstanding Book selected by the Public Library Association Best Books for High Schools Best Books for Special Interests and Best Books for Professional Use selected by the American Association of School Libraries Interrogation in War and Conflict Christopher Andrew,Simona Tobia,2014-04-29 This edited volume offers a comparative and interdisciplinary analysis of interrogation and questioning in war and conflict in the twentieth century Despite the current public interest and its military importance interrogation and questioning in conflict is still a largely under researched theme This volume s methodological thrust is to select historical case studies ranging in time from the Great War to the conflicts in former Yugoslavia and including the Second World War decolonization the Cold War the Troubles in Northern Ireland and international justice cases in The Hague each of which raises interdisciplinary issues about the role of interrogation These case studies were selected because they resurface previously unexplored sources on the topic or revisit known cases which allow us to analyse the role of interrogation and questioning in intelligence security and military operations Written by a group of experts from a range of disciplines including history intelligence psychology law and human rights Interrogation in War and Conflict provides a study of the main turning points in interrogation and questioning in twentieth century conflicts over a wide geographical area The collection also looks at issues such as the extent of the use of harsh techniques the value of interrogation to military intelligence security and international justice the development of interrogation as a separate profession in intelligence as well as the relationship between interrogation and questioning and wider society This book will be of much interest to students of intelligence studies strategic studies counter terrorism international justice history and IR in general The Cambridge History of Travel Writing Nandini Das,Tim Youngs,2019-01-24 Bringing together original contributions from scholars across the world this volume traces the history of travel writing from antiquity to the Internet age It examines travel texts of several national or linguistic traditions introducing readers to the global contexts of the genre From wilderness to the urban from Nigeria to the polar regions from mountains to rivers and the desert this book explores some of the key places and physical features represented in travel writing Chapters also consider the employment in travel writing of the diary the letter visual images maps and poetry as well as the relationship of travel writing to fiction science translation and tourism Gender based and ecocritical approaches are among those surveyed Together the thirty seven chapters here underline the richness and complexity of this genre Zimbabwe's New Diaspora JoAnn McGregor,Ranka Primorac,2010-06-01 Zimbabwe's crisis since 2000 has produced a dramatic global scattering of people This volume investigates this enforced dispersal and the processes shaping the emergence of a new diaspora of Zimbabweans abroad focusing on the most important concentrations in South Africa and in Britain Not only is this the first book on the diasporic connections created through Zimbabwe's multifaceted crisis but it also offers an innovative combination of research on the political economic cultural and legal dimensions of movement across borders and survival thereafter with a discussion of shifting identities and cultural change It highlights the ways in which new movements are connected to older flows and how displacements across physical borders are intimately linked to the reworking of conceptual borders in both sending and receiving states The book is essential reading for researchers students in migration diaspora and postcolonial literary studies Trauma, Resistance, Reconstruction in Post-1994 South African Writing Jaspal Kaur Singh,Rajendra Chetty,2010 The re conceptualization of South Africa as a democracy in 1994 has influenced the production and reception of texts in this nation and around the globe The literature emerging after 1994 provides a vision for reconciling the fragmented past produced by the brutality of apartheid policies and consequently shifting social relations from a traumatized past to a reconstructed future The purpose of the essays in this anthology is to explore within the literary imagination and cultural production of a post apartheid nation and its people how the trauma and violence of the past are reconciled through textual strategies What role does memory play for the remembering subject working through the trauma of a violent past Grid-locked African Economic Sovereignty Warikandwa, Tapiwa Victor, Nhemachena, Artwell, 2019-02-06 The emergent so called Fourth Industrial Revolution is regarded by some as a panacea for bringing about development to Africans This book dismisses this flawed reasoning Surfacing how investors are actually looting and plundering Africa how the industrial internet of things the gig economies digital economies and cryptocurrencies breach African political and economic sovereignty the book pioneers what can be called anticipatory economics which anticipate the future of economies It is argued that the future of Africans does not necessarily require degrowth postgrowth postdevelopment postcapitalism or sharing solidarity economies it requires attention to age old questions about African ownership and control of their resources Investors have to invest in ensuring that Africans own and control their resources Further it is pointed out that the historical imperial structural creation of forced labour is increasingly morphing into what we call the structural creation of forced leisure which is no less lethal for Africans Because both the structural creation of forced labour and the structural creation of forced leisure are undergirded by transnational neo imperial plunder theft robbery looting and dispossession of Africans this book goes beyond the simplistic arguments that Euro America developed due to the industrial revolutions Built on the Ruins of Empire Blake Whitaker, 2022-06-07 During the Cold War the British government oversaw the transition to independence of dozens of colonies Often the most challenging aspect of this transition was the creation of a national army from colonial forces In Built on the Ruins of Empire Blake Whitaker examines this process in Kenya and Zambia and how it set the course for the creation of the army in Zimbabwe He also looks at three themes as they intersect in African military history British decolonization race relations and the Cold War While the transition to independence was a difficult process in places such as Ghana and Nigeria it was compounded by the racial tensions in Kenya Zambia and Zimbabwe All three were settler colonies home to a sizable community of white Europeans who controlled the levers of power and economic prosperity Built on the Ruins of Empire focuses on the difficulties that arose in creating a cohesive and apolitical military force in these racially charged Cold War environments and demonstrates that the challenges faced by the British training missions in Kenya and Zambia taught London important lessons about the emerging postcolonial world Whitaker uniquely analyzes the successes and failures of the British military assistance programs and their quest to solidify British influence while examining how Britain's position and influence in the wider world was fading just as Zimbabwe was achieving independence Going Places Robert Burgin, 2013-01-08 Successfully navigate the rich world of travel narratives and identify fiction and nonfiction read alike with this detailed and expertly constructed guide Just as savvy travelers make use of guidebooks to help navigate the hundreds of countries around the globe smart librarians need a guidebook that makes sense of the world of travel narratives Going Places A Reader's Guide to Travel Narratives meets that demand helping librarians assist patrons in finding the nonfiction books that most interest them It will also serve to help users better understand the genre and their own reading
