Deification in Eastern Orthodox Theology Emil Bartos, 2007-01-01 In recent years Eastern Orthodox thought has had an increasing influence on key aspects of contemporary Western Christian thought particularly as regards the doctrine of the Trinity and mystical spirituality However the foundations and fundamental presuppositions of Eastern Christianity's theological system have remained largely unstudied and thus unknown in the West In this important study Emil Bartos examines the doctrine of deification which provides the conceptual basis for the way Staniloae and other Orthodox theologians understand the major doctrines of the Christian faith The idea that God became man that man might become God sounds almost heretical to many Western ears yet this affirmation is repeated countless times in the writings of the Eastern Fathers Beginning with the apophaticism that lies at the heart of Eastern theology Bartos examines each of the key doctrines of anthropology christology soteriology and ecclesiology as they relate to deification in Staniloae's thought Bartos' study represents not merely a contribution to contemporary dialogue between Eastern and Western theologians but also a much needed introduction to an aspect of Christian thought down the centuries that is largely neglected in the Christian West

Romania Keith Hitchins,1994 From the mid nineteenth century until the Second World War the energies of Rumanian political and intellectual lites were absorbed by the building of their nation In this comprehensive and scholarly study Keith Hitchins traces these complex processes and explores how Rumania s leaders attempted to transform the ideology of modern nationhood into strong political economic and social institutions and to find ways of preserving independence in an international political and economic order dominated by the great powers As the new Rumania took shape the threads of historical continuity remained strikingly evident in government a strong administrative centralization prevailed despite the maturing of parliamentary institutions and the diversity of political expression the national economy remained beholden to agriculture despite the steady growth of industry and in cultural life traditional values persisted despite the adoption of modern forms In foreign relations the most pressing aim was to unite all Rumanians in a single state and to defend its sovereignty within an uncertain international order In all these endeavours the measure of achievement was the West After the Second World War when the Communist Party came to power this historical continuity was broken The experiment in nation building gave way to a new ideology and Rumania now turned to the Soviet political and economic model

Re-Configuring Romanian Culture on its Way Towards Modernity Alexandra Chiriac,2022-09-26 As a direct result of an international conference organized in the year 2021 the volume tries to shed light on the way in which the translation activity contributed to the Romanian culture and language drawing from different traditions and cultures it came in contact with directly or indirectly and thus mingling the own Slavonic church tradition with the new and revolutionary ideas of the Western world and using this mix to modernise the society language and the politics in this region Furthermore this eclectic collection of articles highlights the fact that it was neither the exclusive merit of the Transylvanian scholars nor of the Moldavian or Wallachian ones to have contributed decisively to the formation of the national consciousness and to the standardisation of the language but it was rather the collaboration the circulation of people and ideas that furthered the modernity in all three Romanian Principalities Without disregarding the regional specificity of the Romanian Enlightenment the volume focuses on the interconnections of the agents involved in the cultural transfer on the networks they created for the dissemination of knowledge and political thought and on the common effort to render the new ideas and concepts of the foreign cultures in a national language that could be accessible to the Romanians Invocations of Europe Sabina salvation ni reyasa mok a and Vai e ika one of the oldest philosophical systems of Indian philosophy and provides an overview of theories in other related Indian philosophical systems and classical doctrines of salvation The book examines liberation the fourth goal of life and arguably one of the most important topics in Indian philosophy from a comparative philosophical perspective Contextualising classical Greek Philosophy which contains the three goals of life Aristotle s Ethics and explains salvation as first understood in the theology of the Hellenistic and Patristics periods the author analyses six classical philosophical schools of Indian philosophy in which there is a marked emphasis on the ultimate ontological elements of the world and self Analysing Vai e ika and the manner in which this lesser known system has put forward its own theory of salvation ni reyasa the author demonstrates its significance and originality as an old and influential philosophical system He argues that it is essential for the study of other Indian sciences and for the study of all comparative philosophy An extensive introduction to Indian soteriology this book will be an important reference work for academics interested in comparative religion and philosophy Indian philosophy Asian religion and South Asian Studies Historians and Nationalism Monika Baár,2010-02-25 Peripheral cultures have been largely absent from the European canon of historiography Seeking to redress the balance Monika Ba r discusses the achievements of five East Central European historians in the nineteenth century Joachim Lelewel Polish Simonas Daukantas Lithuanian Frantisek Palack Czech Mih ly Horv th Hungarian and Mihail Kogalniceanu Romanian Comparing their efforts to promote a unified vision of national culture in their respective countries Ba r illuminates the complexities of historical writing in the region in the nineteenth century Drawing on previously untranslated documents Ba r reconstructs the scholars shared intellectual background and their nationalistic aims arguing that historians on the European periphery made significant contributions to historical writing and had far more in common with their Western and Central European contemporaries than has been previously assumed Dystopia(n) Matters Fátima Vieira,2013-07-16 The volume is divided into two parts separated by an Intermezzo The first part Dystopia Matters benefits from the contribution of reputed scholars of the field of Utopian Studies who were asked to make a statement explaining why dystopia is important The Intermezzo completes this part and offers the reader an informed discussion of the concepts of utopia dystopia and anti utopia whilst providing ground for the case studies presented in the second part in the sections devoted to literature film and theatre In one way or another despite the variety of approaches all contributors argue for the idea that if dystopia has invaded most forms of contemporary discourse its sibling utopia has not been eradicated from the scene Furthermore the studies show that the tension between the two concepts is instrumental to our cautious conscious and tentative construction of the future PNEVMATOLOGIA SFÂNTULUI SIMEON NOUL TEOLOG. The Politics of National Character Balázs Trencsényi, 2012-02-22. The book is a comparative analysis of the ideological constructions of national specificity in Romania, Bulgaria, and Hungary. Studying the growing infatuation with national essence, it seeks to understand the radicalization of nationalism in East Central Europe in connection with the shift of the notions of historicity and temporality. Trencsényi provides a contextual analysis of the symbolic resources and available ideological references that were used for creating these discourses in the respective countries. While focusing on the interwar period when these conceptions became central to the political debate, he also reconstructs the long-term historical evolution of the discourse of national characterology. Through this prism, the work offers a contextual reconstruction of the main debates of these elites on national identity from the mid-19th century until 1945. In the light of the three case studies, the volume contributes to discussions of the problem of modernism and anti-modernism in twentieth-century political thought, posing the question of the intellectual responsibility of intellectuals in constructing radical ideological frameworks. This book offers a broad intellectual panorama, discerning the common regional features as well as the considerable divergence between these three cases, while also placing them into a wider European intellectual framework of the emergence of radical nationalism.

The MIHI EST construction Mihaela Iliaș, 2023-12-18. This book examines the Romanian mihi est construction. Mi e foame, frică, teamă (I am hungry, afraid) is a structure that has disappeared from all other Romance languages to be replaced with a habeo structure. The mihi est pattern is in Romanian the most common way of expressing psychological or physiological states. By means of synchronic and diachronic corpus studies, the book investigates the status of the core arguments of the mihi est structure: i.e. the dative experiencer and the nominative state noun, as well as its evolution throughout the centuries. The data analysis reveals that the dative experiencer syntactically behaves like nominative subjects, whereas the state noun shows predicate behavior. As for the evolution of the mihi est structure, the analysis shows a certain tendency toward innovation, since in present-day Romanian it can coerce nouns coming from other semantic fields into the construction's psychological or physiological interpretation. Could this be another unique trait of Romanian, which causes it to seemingly go against the tendency of most Romance languages toward canonical marking of core arguments?
