A Nation Can Rise No Higher Than Its Women Bayyinah S. Jeffries,2014-04-04 A Nation Can Rise No Higher Than Its Women African American Muslim Women in the Movement for Black Self Determination 1950 1975 challenges traditional notions and interpretations of African American particularly women who joined the Original Nation of Islam during the Civil Rights Black Power era This book is the first major investigation of the subject that engages a wide scope of women from The Nation and utilizes a wealth of primary documents and personal interviews to reveal the importance of women in this community Jeffries reveals that women were respected in the movement and maintained a very clear and often sought after voice in the advancement of the Original Nation of Islam A Nation Can Rise No Higher Than Its Women replaces the typical portrait of the subservient and irrelevant African American Muslim woman with a far more accurate picture of their integral leadership and substantial contributions to the rise of Islam and black consciousness in the self determination movement in the United States and beyond during the Civil Rights Black Power era

Encyclopedia of African American Business History Juliet E. K. Walker, 1999-11-30 Black business activity has been sustained in America for almost four centuries From the marketing and trading activities of African slaves in Colonial America to the rise of 20th century black corporate America African American participation in self employed economic activities has been a persistent theme in the black experience Yet unlike other topics in African American history the study of black business has been limited General reference sources on the black experience with their emphasis on social cultural and political life provide little information on topics related to the history of black business This invaluable encyclopedia is the only reference source providing information on the broad range of topics that illuminate black business history Providing readily accessible information on the black business experience the encyclopedia provides an overview of black business activities and underscores the existence of a historic tradition of black American business participation Entries range from biographies of black business people to overview surveys of business activities from the 1600s to the 1990s including slave and free black business activities and the Black Wallstreet to coverage of black women s business activities and discussions of such African American specific industries as catering funeral enterprises insurance and hair care
