Crofton Croker,2011-12-22 Varla Ventura fan favorite on Huffington Post s Weird News frequent guest on Coast to Coast and bestselling author of The Book of the Bizarre and Beyond Bizarre introduces a new Weiser Books Collection of forgotten crypto classics Magical Creatures is a hair raising herd of affordable digital editions curated with Varla s affectionate and unerring eye for the fantastic From T Crofton Croker s funereal tale of a graven world under the sea to the traditional chant of the Mermaid s Prophecy this collection will charm any lover of the ladies and gentlemen of the deep blue sea      At Sea with the Scientifics Joseph Matkin,1993-03-01 When HMS Challenger sailed from Portsmouth in 1872 a young assistant ship s steward Joseph Matkin was among the crew Throughout the three and a half year voyage Matkin maintained a journal from which he composed the many letters he sent home to his family in England In his letters he commented on oceanographic operations reported on shipboard events of special concern to the crew and discussed at length the history geography and peoples of the many exotic and remote ports at which the ship called on its famous circumnavigation of the globe The Challenger expedition established the foundations of oceanography and is second only to Darwin s voyage aboard the Beagle for its contributions to nineteenth century science The massive quantity of specimens and information acquired was written up in the fifty volume series of Challenger Reports and personal accounts were published by officers and scientists No ocean voyage had ever been so well documented Yet no account of the seaman s life below decks was known to exist until the early 1980s when two substantial collections of Matkin's letters surfaced. The letters are unique in their perspective and fascinating for their depth and literacy. Matkin, the son of a printer, was well aware of the significance of the voyage and strove to present a learned account in a proper style. His letters convey a wealth of detail about shipboard logistics, the crew's attitudes toward scientific operations, and officer-scientist crew relations. Unwittingly, Matkin also illuminates himself and the middle class society of which he was a part. Matkin's letters, published here for the first time, bring freshness and immediacy to this great Victorian scientific enterprise. Philip F. Rehbock has edited and annotated the letters, providing a particularly readable work of travel literature for anyone interested in oceanography, voyaging, maritime social history, and naval affairs.

How to Win a Football Match in Cameroon Arnold Pannenborg, 2008. Footballers Essomba and Ashu, team manager Kalla, and spiritual adviser Z are the key characters in this anthropological study of football in Cameroon, which is based on research carried out in 2003. It might seem that a well-organized club with professional executives, a team of talented players, and an experienced coach would be sufficient to win a match. However, a successful team also requires a powerful African big man of specific ethnic affiliation, a considerable budget for motivation, bribery, and the right kind of spiritual assistance, magic. But even then, internal struggles within the club and team, caused by corrupt executives, coach's players, and godfathers, witchcraft, and sorcery, and/or other factors such as spectator violence, may mean that the team still loses. The book consists of seven chapters that correspond to the days of the week. During this week, Olympique de Buea is preparing for a match on Sunday. Each chapter is devoted to one theme. Monday is about the different football leagues in Cameroon. Tuesday deals with expenditures, club sponsorship, and the role of the African big man. Wednesday discusses tribalism in the football leagues and the teams. Thursday explains aspects of bribery, nepotism, and corruption. Friday elaborates on the spiritual forces in football, particularly witchcraft and sorcery within the clubs. Saturday focuses on match preparation and the role of spiritual advisers. Sunday discusses a match between Olympique de Buea and Bamboutos de Mbouda and considers the role of ancestors, supporters, and referees during football matches. ASC Leiden abstract.
