Development theme is a component of Encyclopedia of Development and Economic Sciences in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems EOLSS which is an integrated compendium of twenty one Encyclopedias This theme introduces welfare economics and sustainable development in four topics dealing with four important issues to be considered in implementing sustainable development These are the use of ethics and discounting and economic growth models in balancing the interests of future generations against those of the present the advantages and limitations of national accounting methodologies as means of evaluating sustainability the international dimensions of sustainable development arising out of environmental and economic linkages among nations and the nature of institutions required to promote sustainable development These two volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences University and College students Educators Professional practitioners Research personnel and Policy analysts managers and decision makers and NGOs     The New

Macroeconomics Huw David Dixon, Neil Rankin, 1995-10-19 Brings together leading researchers from the USA and Europe to examine the literature on the new macroeconomics     Neuroeconomics and the Decision-Making Process

Christiansen, Bryan, 2016-03-17 Neuroeconomics has emerged as a field of study with the goal of understanding the human decision making process and the mental consideration of multiple outcomes based on a selected action In particular neuroeconomics emphasizes how economic conditions can impact and influence the decision making process and alternately how human actions have the power to impact economic conditions Neuroeconomics and the Decision Making Process presents the latest research on the relationship between neuroscience economics and human decision making including theoretical foundations real world applications and models for implementation Taking a cross disciplinary approach to neuroeconomic theory and study this publication is an essential reference source for economists psychologists business professionals and graduate level students across disciplines

Microsimulation Modelling of the Corporate Firm Frank W. van Tongeren, 2013-03-09 My interest in microsimulation started to develop when I was exposed to the works of Guy Orcutt and his associates on microsimulation of households in the USA and those of Gunnar Eliasson and his associates on simulation of Swedish firms Their approaches promised the exciting possibility to represent an by simulating the behaviour of individual microeconomic entire economic system units on a computer The construction of a large scale microsimulation model seemed to be a worthwhile adventure which could yield much more detailed results than existing models It was also evident that microsimulation of firms is a relatively underdeveloped area in spite of the large number of operational microsimulation models of households in the USA and Europe Developing the computer implementation has been an integral part of the research Translating initially vague ideas into mathematical formulae and subsequently into a structured computer language provides a testing ground for 10Bical consistency of ideas When writing this book I have purposefully abstained from describing the computer program and dedicated solution algorithms The reason is that the book is primarily directed towards readers interested in economics and therefore uses the language of economics and not that of computer science The simulation model has been programmed for the personal computer in Turbo Pascal Sophisticated memory management techniques have lifted constraints on the number of firms which can be simulated on the PC

Foundations and Applications of Complexity Economics J. Barkley Rosser, Jr.,2021-05-21 This book presents a survey of the aspects of economic complexity with a focus on foundational interdisciplinary ideas The long awaited follow up to his 2011 volume Complex Evolutionary Dynamics in Urban Regional and Ecologic Economic Systems From Catastrophe to Chaos and Beyond this volume draws together the threads of Rosser s earlier work on complexity theory and its wide applications in economics and an expanded list of related disciplines The book begins with a full account of the broader categories of complexity in economics dynamic computational hierarchical and structural before shifting to more detailed analysis The next two chapters address problems associated with computational complexity especially those of computability and discuss the Godel Incompleteness Theorem with a focus on reflexivity The middle chapters discuss the relationship between entropy econophysics evolution and economic complexity respectively with applications in urban and regional dynamics ecological economics general equilibrium theory as well as financial market dynamics The final chapter works to bring together these themes into a broader framework and expose some of the limits concerning analysis of deeper foundational issues With applications in all disciplines characterized by interconnected nonlinear adaptive systems this book is appropriate for graduate students professors and practitioners in economics and related disciplines such as regional science mathematics physics biology environmental sciences philosophy and psychology

Oligopoly and Dynamic Competition Mario Baldassarri,2016-07-27 The book has three main objectives Firstly to provide an up dated analysis of the most important theoretical developments secondly to present significant empirical verifications and thirdly to assess the micro macro debate and the relations which link the market structure to the function of the economic system

The General Theory of Economic Evolution Kurt Dopfer,Jason Potts,2007-09-27 The first book to chart the development of the field of evolutionary economics this book provides an integrated generic framework to define the rules of an economic system how they are coordinated and the causes and consequences of their change Packed with pedagogical features including essay and tutorial questions case studies and an extensive bibliography this book proposes a new analytic framework for the study of the nature and causes of long run economic growth and development in market systems analyzes the foundations of the neoclassical tradition before developing a thesis through micro meso and macro domains drawing conclusions as to what can be learned from the point of view of policy analysis focuses on an open systems analytical framework and successfully formulates and refines the analytical foundations of a new general theory of economic evolution This volume is essential reading for scholars and students of economic evolution and as well as for anyone who seeks to better understand the complex evolutionary nature of the structure and dynamics of the knowledge based economy in today s society

The Economics of E-Commerce and Networking Decisions Y. Ng,H. Shi,G. Sun,2003-12-19 This volume is a collection of selected papers using the framework of inframarginal analysis of the division of labour held at Monash University on 6 7 July 2001 This framework pioneered mainly by Professor Xiaokai Yang with joint researches involving all the three editors and many of the authors has been recommended by Professor James Buchanan Nobel Laureate in Economics as the most important analysis in economics in the world today

Perspectives in Industrial Organization B. Dankbaar,John Groenewegen,H. Schenk,2012-12-06 This book contains the key note lectures and a selection of papers that were presented at the 15th Conference of the European Association for Research in Industrial Economics EARIE held under the auspices of GRASP at Erasmus University Rotterdam in 1988 plus an introductory chapter by the Editors Upon suggestions by the Editors all papers have been revised for this book some more extensively than others Robin Marris has added to his lecture a synopsis of the contributions to the Round Table on the Micro Macro Interface which he chaired during the Conference The papers cover issues that seem to be both interesting and relevant for the 1990s While some of the papers are cast in a rather established research frame enabling the use of regular academic routines others are first attempts at delineating the contours of areas that are peripheral to what is often considered as the core of Industrial Organization In their introductory chapter the Editors set forth that a neglect of those areas may well relegate Industrial Organization to social irrelevancy Therefore it is hoped that the book will also contribute to a reflection on the main lines of Industrial Organization research for the 1990s thus helping to create a healthy perspective for this part of economics at a time when macroeconomics is undergoing a severe crisis

Meta-Science of Tawhid Masudul Alam Choudhury,2019-07-23 This book explores the methodological foundation of Islamic thought premised on the cardinal principle of Tawhid meaning the Oneness of God as the universal law The consequential methodological worldview arising from the monotheistic unity of knowledge is explained as the theory of consilience meaning unity of knowledge as the primal ontological reality leading to its epistemological and phenomenological essentials of reasoning and thereby configuring reality Masudul Alam Choudhury presents a non mathematical exposition of the theory and applications of Meta Science of Tawhid and brings out the essential monotheistic methodological worldview of science

The Reform of Network Industries Massimo Florio,2017-12-29 Network industries such as electricity gas rail local public transport telecommunications and postal services are recognised by the EU as crucial for fostering European social and territorial cohesion Providing an overview of key policy reforms in these industries and an empirical evaluation this thought provoking book offers a critical perspective on the functioning of the networks that provide vital services to EU citizens

Post-Keynesian Theories of the Firm Nobantu L. Mbeki,2023-04-07 Within Post Keynesian economics there is a spectrum of approaches to theories of the firm but what they have in common to their great benefit is a proper integration of the concept of radical uncertainty data that cannot be known. This book revisits Kalecki's theory of the firm to show that it constitutes fertile theoretical ground on which to systematically understand the resultant indeterminacy when firms operate under conditions of radical uncertainty. The author proposes a way of generalising radical uncertainty by integrating some of the separate approaches within Post Keynesian economics centred around Kalecki's work. Through this it is shown that radical uncertainty does more than just change the ultimate motivation of firms from short run profit maximisation to more complex motivation; its interconnectivity with the environment is central to the emergence, existence and motivation of firms and critically also firm strategy. It is argued that firms do not simply respond to uncertainty; it is the systematic cause of their intentional behaviour. Through developing these arguments, the book also contributes to the methodology of Kalecki and Shackle as well as Kaleckian price theory. This book will be important reading for anyone interested in theories of the firm, Post Keynesian economics and heterodox approaches to economics more broadly.
