

Describing The Role Of Pastoral Leaders In Church

7 pages | 1581 words

INTRODUCTION

The success and growth of any church organization is hinged on its pastoral leadership. According to John Maxwell; "Everything rises and falls on leadership." The quality of leadership in any organization will determine the success or fall of it. [Jeremiah 3vs 15]. According to Eric Reed, every church deserves to be well fed and well lead to the glory of God. Well fed churches are nourished in rich doctrine through the preaching of the word and discipleship. Well -fed churches are organized with clarity of vision and a plan for accomplishing it. Shepherding and leading God's people is at the centre of pastoral leadership but its effectiveness is determined by the ability, character and wisdom of those involved.

LEADERSHIP CHARACTERISTICS OF PASTORAL LEADERS IN THE CHURCH TODAY

It is the leadership characteristics of pastoral leaders in the church today that defines them and determines their effectiveness in God's church. Integrity : It is a major concern these days that some Pastoral leaders are not worthy of trust or belief. Their integrity has become so questionable in the eyes of both the believers and the world. The big question that has remained in the minds of most believers is "Can the pastoral leaders be trusted?" while it is expected of pastoral leaders to lead by example in all manner of conduct and behaviour, some of them have not done so but have rather behaved wickedly than godly. While it is true that no man is perfect , the behaviour and character of pastoral leaders should be above reproach. More is expected of pastoral leaders though not perfection (Matthew 5vs20). We have leaders who abuse and steal church monies, who are habitual liars, who are in adulterous affairs, who fornicate, drink alcohol, consult spirit mediums etc. Rick Warren says, "Integrity is the foundation to leadership. The most damaging thing a leader can do is to violate trust." Due to lack of integrity in some leaders , it has become difficult to trust even the genuine and sound pastoral leaders. Leaders should be trustworthy, relied upon and dependable. Communication : Pastoral leaders who are good communicators have had their churches understand where they are going, the direction and the vision of their church. People are doing things with confidence and clarity of vision because it has been well spelt out and communicated. For any relationship to be successful there must be good and meaningful communication on a regular basis. In communicating there are three things that matter most.

Trustworthy - here the question is "Can you be trusted

The attitude - do you care about those you are communicating with knowledge - do you know what you are talking about. These three values are key in effective communication. We have leaders who use verbal communication but their actions do not correspond with their words. This kind of communication, "Do as I say, not as I do" does not work in pastoral leadership because Christian leaders are to lead by example in all aspects of conduct. Effective communication also...

The Message of Love Patrick Mitchel, 2019-09-19 Love such a deceptively simple and popular little word It is universally agreed that we need love to live and flourish as human beings and yet within our contemporary culture there are numerous confusing competing and evolving ideas about what love is There are few greater subjects in Christian theology than love yet it is a surprisingly complex and challenging concept to understand let alone live out faithfully Patrick Mitchel's conviction is that Christians need to be thinking about and practising love in compelling and authentic ways Our task is not only to articulate what love is but also to show to the world what true Christian love looks like in practice The only thing that counts is faith expressing itself through love Gal 5:6 NIV Mitchel's exposition explores love in the Old Testament how the love of God is supremely revealed in the mission and death of Jesus Christ love in the life and teaching of Jesus and the church's calling to be a community of love He
