Harlaftis, S. Tenold, J. Valdaliso, 2012-11-02 Maritime transport has been the main driver of trade growth and the emergence and development of a global economy This collection of essays from distinguished economists and historians takes an international and comparative perspective covering topics ranging from technological advance and the role of the state to maritime business development World Mining Directory Ann-Marie Moreno, Andreas Tegen, 1998 The Multinational Traders Geoffrey G Jones, 2013-02-01 This book is a detailed account of the evolution and theory of multinational trading companies The book features contributions from an international selection of US European and Asian economists and business historians which demonstrate the importance of trading companies in trade and investment flows in the world economy from the nineteenth century to the present The authors adopt evolutionary and comparative perspectives to examine diversification strategies and organizational structures This innovative study provides a major new dimension to our knowledge of the history and theory of international business Creating Global Capitalism Espen Storli, Marten Boon, 2024-10-04 This book provides a unique insight into the world of commodity trading companies often depicted as the hidden companies of the global economy and showcases how they were instrumental in bringing about the economic integration of new commodities and far flung regions into the first global economy in the late nineteenth and early twentieth century The late nineteenth century witnessed an unprecedented phase of global economic integration As organisers of global trade trading companies specialising in commodities were instrumental in creating this first global economy From soybeans to cultural artefacts from seal hides to rubber trading companies connected far flung regions at or beyond the frontier of empires to a growing global market for these commodities Satisfying the unsatiable appetite for commodities of industrializing economies in North America Europe and East Asia their nimble organisations and specialised trading skills allowed trading companies to harness imperial geopolitics latch onto local networks and move across borders This book brings together a collection of case studies of commodity trading companies across a range of commodities and regions between the 1870s and the 1930s Through the lens of global value chains the contributions showcase how these companies continuously adapted their businesses to a world that was at once economically more integrated but politically increasingly competitive in this age of high imperialism and national competition The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Business History
