Metaphor And Art Interactionism And Reference In The Verbal And Nonverbal Arts:

Metaphor and Art Carl R. Hausman, 1989-04-28 Metaphors and Action Schemes Robert L. Schwarz, 1997 All our abstract ideas are based on metaphors and action schemes Jean Piaget did voluminous research on how thought develops in children through assimilation of action schemes George Lakoff and Mark Johnson have done pioneering work on metaphors and action schemes in everyday thinking This book builds on those foundations looking at the role played by metaphors and action schemes in the history of ideas The author begins his argument by taking a critical look at the philosophy of metaphor from Aristotle to the present While he sees metaphor as simply conceiving one thing in terms of another he points out that this is an inexhaustible process because the context in which the process takes place is always changing Change opens up new possibilities of similarity Thus the metaphor is an open door into a space of infinite possibilities Metaphor David Punter, 2007-06-12 Metaphor is a central concept in literary studies but it is also prevalent in everyday language and speech Recent literary theories such as postmodernism and deconstruction have transformed the study of the text and revolutionized our thinking about metaphor In this fascinating volume David Punter establishes the classical background of the term from its philosophical roots to the religious and political tradition of metaphor in the East relates metaphor to the public realms of culture and politics and the way in which these influence the literary examines metaphor in relation to literary theory philosophy psychoanalysis and postcolonial studies illustrates his argument with specific examples from western and eastern literature and poetry This comprehensive and engaging book emphasizes the significance of metaphor to literary studies as well as its relevance to cultural studies linguistics and philosophy Contexts of Metaphor Michiel Leezenberg, 2021-10-01 This study presents an approach to metaphor that systematically takes contextual factors into account It analyses how metaphors both depend on and change the context in which they are uttered and specifically how metaphorical interpretation involves the articulation of asserted implied and presupposed material It supplements this semantic analysis with a practice based account of metaphor at the conceptual level which stresses the role of sociocultural factors in concept formation

Nietzsche on Language, Consciousness, and the Body Christian J. Emden, 2010-10-01 Nietzsche and the philosophy of language have been a well trafficked crossroads for a generation but almost always as a checkpoint for post modernism and its critics This work takes a historical approach to Nietzsche s work on language connecting it to his predecessors and contemporaries rather than his successors Though Nietzsche invited identification with Zarathustra the solitary wanderer ahead of his time for most of his career he directly engaged the intellectual currents and scientific debates of his time Emden situates Nietzsche s writings on language and rhetoric within their wider historical context He demonstrates that Nietzsche is not as radical in his thinking as has been often supposed and that a number of problems with Nietzsche disappear when Nietzsche s works are compared to works on the same subjects by writers of the 18th and 19th centuries Further the relevance of rhetoric and the history of rhetoric to philosophy and the history of philosophy is reasserted in consonance with

Nietzsche's own statements and practices Important in this regard are the role of fictions descriptions and metaphor

Cinematic Metaphor in Perspective Sarah Greifenstein, Dorothea Horst, Thomas Scherer, Christina Schmitt, Hermann Kappelhoff, Cornelia Müller, 2018-10-08 Over centuries scholars have explored how metaphor contributes to thought language culture This collection of essays reflects on M ller Kappelhoff and colleagues transdisciplinary film studies and linguistics approach formulated in Cinematic Metaphor Experience Affectivity Temporality The key concept of cinematic metaphor opens up reflections on metaphor as a form of embodied meaning making in human life across disciplines The book documents collaborative work reflecting intense sometimes controversial discussions across disciplinary boundaries In this edited volume renowned authors explore how exposure to the framework of Cinematic Metaphor inspires their views of metaphor in film and of metaphor theory and analysis more generally Contributions include explorations from the point of view of applied linguistics Lynne Cameron cognitive linguistics Alan Cienki media studies Kathrin Fahlenbrach media history Michael Wedel philosophy Anne Eusterschulte and psychology Raymond W Gibbs Jr The Purple Island and Anatomy in Early Seventeenth-century Literature, Philosophy, and Theology Peter Mitchell, 2007 Sets out to reconstruct and analyze the rationality of Phineas Fletcher's use of figurality in The Purple Island 1633 a poetic allegory of human anatomy This book demonstrates that the analogies and metaphors of literary works share coherence and consistency with anatomy textbooks

Semantics and the Body Horst Ruthrof, 1997-12-06 In traditional semantics the human body tends to be ignored in the process of constructing meaning Horst Ruthrof argues by contrast that the body is an integral part of this hermeneutic activity Strictly language based theories and theories which conflate formal and natural languages run into problems when they describe how we communicate in cultural settings Semantics and the Body proposes that language is no more than a symbolic grid which does not signify at all unless it is brought to life by non linguistic signs Ruthrof reviews and analyses various orthodox theories of meaning from the views of Gottlob Frege at the beginning of the twentieth century to those of theorists in the postmodern period then offers an alternative approach of his own His theory features corporeal semantics and holds that meaning has ultimately to do with the body and that the meaning of linguistic expressions is indeterminate without the aid of visual tactile olfactory and other bodily signs This approach also remedies what Ruthrof sees also as a loss of interpretive will in the postmodern era Pedagogy in many fields could be enriched by a systemic integration of non verbal semiosis into the linguistically dominated syllabus Those involved in discourse analysis literature art criticism film theory pedagogy and philosophy will find the implications of Ruthrof's study considerable Handbook of Visual Communication Kenneth L. Smith, Sandra Moriarty, Keith Kenney, Gretchen Barbatsis, 2004-12-13 This Handbook of Visual Communication explores the key theoretical areas in visual communication and presents the research methods utilized in exploring how people see and how visual communication occurs With chapters contributed by many of the best known and respected scholars in visual communication this volume brings together significant and influential work in the visual communication discipline The theory chapters included here define the twelve major theories in visual communication scholarship aesthetics perception representation visual rhetoric cognition semiotics reception theory narrative media aesthetics ethics visual literacy and cultural studies Each of these theory chapters is followed by exemplar studies in the area demonstrating the various methods used in visual communication research as well as the research approaches applicable for specific media types The Handbook serves as an invaluable reference for visual communication theory as well as a useful resource book of research methods in the discipline It defines the current state of theory and research in visual communication and serves as a foundation for future scholarship and study As such it is required reading for scholars researchers and advanced students in visual communication and it will be influential in other disciplines in which the visual component is key including advertising persuasion and media studies The volume will also be useful to practitioners seeking to understand the visual aspects of their media and the visual processes used by their audiences

Oscillation in Literary Modernism John Francis Harty, 2009 While the two modernist novels considered in this book Samuel Beckett's Murphy and Malcolm Lowry's Under the Volcano were initially understood within the categories of stoic and tragic despair more recent criticism has focused upon their carnivalesque dimension The identification of these hermeneutic polarities presented the author with the challenging problem which underlies the present analysis namely the question concerning the structural relationship between the contesting thematics Drawing upon the paradigm of oscillation as established within the natural sciences and adding a figurative dimension to the concept the author has adapted this model as a key to unravelling the narrative buoyancy and structural coherence which sustain these novels of Modernism The book elucidates how the carnivalesque challenge to despair contributes towards innovative narrative configurations galvanizing the thematic antipodes into vertiginous microcosms of defiant selfhood

The Arts in Mind Ruth HaCohen, 2017-11-30 A major shift in critical attitudes toward the arts took place in the eighteenth century The fine arts were now looked upon as a group divorced from the sciences and governed by their own rules The century abounded with treatises that sought to establish the overriding principles that differentiate art from other walks of life as well as the principles that differentiate them from each other This burst of scholarly activity resulted in the incorporation of aesthetics among the classic branches of philosophy heralding the cognitive turn in epistemology Among the writings that initiated this turn none were more important than the British contribution The Arts in Mind brings together an annotated selection of these key texts A companion volume to the editors Tuning the Mind which analyzed this major shift in world view and its historical context The Arts in Mind is the first representative sampling of what constitutes an important school of British thought The texts are neither obscure nor forgotten although most histories of eighteenth century thought treat them in a partial or incomplete way Here they are made available complete or through representative extracts together with an editor's introduction to each selection providing essential biographical and intellectual background The treatises included are representative of the changed climate of opinion which entailed new issues such as those of perception symbolic function and the role of history and culture in shaping the world

Aesthetics After Metaphysics Miguel Beistegui, 2012-08-21 This book focuses on a dimension of art which the philosophical tradition from Plato to Hegel and even Adorno has consistently overlooked such was its commitment explicit or implicit to mimesis and the metaphysics of truth it presupposes De Beistegui refers to this dimension which unfolds outside the space that stretches between the sensible and the supersensible the space of metaphysics itself as the hypersensible and show how the operation of art to which it corresponds is best described as metaphorical The movement of the book then is from the classical or metaphysical aesthetics of mimesis Part One to the aesthetics of the hypersensible and metaphor Part Two Against much of the history of aesthetics and the metaphysical discourse on art he argues that the philosophical value of art doesn't consist in its ability to bridge the space between the sensible and the supersensible or the image and the Idea and reveal the sensible as proto conceptual but to open up a different sense of the sensible His aim then is to shift the place and role that philosophy attributes to art

A Companion to Art Theory Paul Smith, Carolyn Wilde, 2008-04-15 The Companion provides an accessible critical survey of Western visual art theory from sources in Classical Medieval and Renaissance thought through to contemporary writings

Parallels, Interactions, and Illuminations Ersu Ding, 2010-11-15 The first major work in Sino Western comparative semiotics Parallels Interactions and Illuminations is a trans disciplinary and intercultural effort that makes intellectual connections not only across such diverse academic fields as epistemology anthropology linguistics sociology and cultural studies but also between Chinese and Western theories of the sign in the conviction that they can shed light on one another In this groundbreaking work Ersu Ding studies two traditions of semiotic realism represented by Plato and Husserl in the West and by Mo Zi and Ouyang Jian in China They share two fundamental assumptions with regard to meaning that there exist ultimate qualities of things and states of affairs in the extrasemiotic world and that the meanings of words or other types of sign are derivatives of these essentials A pioneering work that remains extraordinarily accessible Parallels Interactions and Illuminations explores a wide range of issues including intersubjective negotiation of meaning the relationship between metaphor and culture and the production and dissemination of myths

The Language of Art History Salim Kemal, Ivan Gaskell, 1991 The first volume in the series Cambridge Studies in Philosophy and the Arts offers a range of responses by distinguished philosophers and art historians to some crucial issues generated by the relationship between the art object and language in art history Each of the chapters in this volume is a searching response to theoretical and practical questions in terms accessible to readers of all human science disciplines The editors one a philosopher and one an art historian provide an introductory chapter which outlines the themes of the volume and explicates the terms in which they are discussed The contributors open new avenues of enquiry involving concepts of presence projective properties visual conventions and syntax and the appropriateness of figurative language in accounting for visual art The issues they discuss will challenge the boundaries to thought that some contemporary theorising sustains
