Metaphors for Learning Erich A. Berendt, 2008-03-13 In Contemporary Metaphor Theory CMT research has predominantly focused on the English language with few studies of others and even less systematic comparative work This volume focuses on the discourse domain of LEARNING formal technical and informal aspects and brings together a variety of language perspectives some specifically comparative on aspects of learning from historical transformations in metaphoric language use through contemporary social values and classroom discourse to planning for the future in educational policy to see how conceptual metaphoric patterns and conventional metaphors with related figurative language impact on social values and culturally conditioned perspectives in learning Most papers reflect Lakoffian conceptual metaphoric research including critical evaluation of analytical issues Languages included are Arabic Chinese English Hungarian Japanese Malay Polish Russian and the South African language area Most papers utilize extensive data including such genre as technical writing essays conversational interaction newspaper corpus and proverbs

Disability & the Politics of Education Susan Lynn Gabel, Scot Danforth, 2008 Disability and the Politics of Education An International Reader is a rich resource that deals comprehensively with the many aspects of the complex topic of disability studies in education For nearly two decades global attention has been given to education as a human right through global initiatives such as Education for All EFA and the Salamanca Statement Yet according to UNESCO reaching the goals of EFA remains one of the most daunting challenges facing the global community Today millions of the world's disabled children cannot obtain a basic childhood education particularly in countries with limited resources Even in the wealthiest countries many disabled children and youth are educationally segregated from the nondisabled particularly if they are labeled with significant cognitive impairment International agencies such as the United Nations and the World Bank have generated funds for educational development but unfortunately these funds are administered with the assumption that west is best thereby urging developing countries to mimic educational policies in the United States and the United Kingdom in order to prove their aid worthiness This McDonaldization of education reproduces the labeling resource allocation and social dynamics long criticized in disability studies The authors in this volume explore these subjects and other complexities of disability and the politics of education In doing so they demonstrate the importance and usefulness of international perspectives and comparative approaches

Research in STEM Education: Active Approaches and Methods towards Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) Jin Su Jeong, David Gonzalez-Gomez, Jianpeng Guo, James Robbe Kraly, 2022-04-25 Engaging with Contemporary Challenges through Science Education Research Olivia Levrini, Giulia Tasquier, Tamer G. Amin, Laura Branchetti, Mariana Levin, 2021-09-24 This book starts with the premise that beauty can be an engine of transformation and authentic engagement in an increasingly complex world It presents an organized picture of highlights from the 13th European Science Education Research Association Conference ESERA 2019 held in Bologna Italy The collection includes contributions that discuss contemporary issues such as climate change multiculturalism and the flourishing of new interdisciplinary areas of investigation including the application of cognitive neuroscience artificial intelligence and digital humanities to science education research It also highlights learners difficulties engaging with socio scientific issues in a digital and post truth era The volume demonstrates that deepening our understanding is the preferred way to address these challenges and that science education has a key role to play in this effort In particular the book advances the argument that the deep and novel character of these challenges requires a collective search for new narratives and languages an expanding knowledge base and new theoretical perspectives and methods of research The book provides a contemporary picture of science education research and looks to the theoretical and practical societal challenges of the future

Thinking with Metaphors in Medicine Alan Bleakley, 2017-07-06 While medical language is soaked in metaphor medicine that is medical culture clinical practice and medical education outwardly rejects metaphor for objective literal scientific language Arguing that this is a misstep this book critically considers what embracing the use of metaphors similes and aphorisms might mean for shaping medical culture and especially the doctor patient relationship in a healthy way It demonstrates how the landscape of medicine may be reshaped through metaphor shift and is an important work for all those interested in the use of language in medicine

Metaphor and Analogy in Science Education Peter J. Aubusson, Peter Aubusson, Allan G. Harrison, Steve Ritchie, 2006 This book brings together powerful ideas and new developments from internationally recognised scholars and classroom practitioners to provide theoretical and practical knowledge to inform progress in science education This is achieved through a series of related chapters reporting research on analogy and metaphor in science education Throughout the book contributors not only highlight successful applications of analogies and metaphors but also foreshadow exciting developments for research and practice Themes include metaphor and analogy best practice as reasoning for learning applications in teacher development in science education research philosophical and theoretical foundations Accordingly the book is likely to appeal to a wide audience of science educators classroom practitioners student teachers teacher educators and researchers

Identity Work in the Contemporary University Jan Smith, Julie Rattray, Tai Peseta, Daphne Loads, 2015-12-24 Academic identities research is a growing area of scholarly enquiry especially as academics themselves question the evolving nature of their roles in rapidly changing university environments Performative frameworks in many countries around the world reflect these changes and this volume brings a number of disciplinary perspectives to bear on how we understand the lived experiences of academic life in a global context Contributors explore the power of conceptual tools drawn from Philosophy Psychology Sociology and Politics to challenge increasingly instrumental neoliberal political approaches to higher education supported by empirical evidence Worthwhile teaching learning and research require significant personal investment and the book pays particular attention to the deeply affective dimensions of current academic practices In Part One tools to conceptualise academic identity work drawn from foundational academic disciplines are applied to contemporary higher education practices Part Two foregrounds how working in universities today proceeds with a particular focus on how academics respond to the multiplicity of institutional demands The most pressing perceived demand supported by contributions in Part Three is publication the need to be visible to count is now a global imperative with the affective dimensions not yet well understood at policy level In Part Four those who support colleagues negotiating a reconfigured academic terrain explore productive approaches towards this task to ensure that academic practice remains rooted in the values previously outlined This book will be of interest to those working in universities globally who seek a deeper appreciation of the contextual drivers that shape academic work

The Oxford Handbook of Religion and Education Liam Francis Gearon,Arniika Kuusisto,2025-04-29 The Oxford Handbook of Religion and Education offers a multi disciplinary work of scholarship and research highlighting the global significance of a critical interface of cultural and social political and theological importance Drawing on historical perspective and contemporary reflection the collection provides a uniquely transformative analysis of why the interface of religion and education is of such critical significance With contributions from some of the leading thinkers in the field this Handbook presents a cumulatively powerful argument to reassess the complexities of the intersection of religion and education With ambitious and yet accessible intellectual engagements the Handbook here furthers a central thesis that the interface of religion and education is not merely a matter of arcane disputation about a domain of ancient origin or a rudimentary matter of formal educational process but a vibrant domain of critical contestation fundamental to knowing understanding and living in the modern world

Conceptual metaphor and embodied cognition in science learning Tamer Amin,Fredrik Jeppsson,Jesper Haglund,2018-10-03 Scientific concepts are abstract human constructions invented to make sense of complex natural phenomena Scientists use specialised languages diagrams and mathematical representations of various kinds to convey these abstract constructions This book uses the perspectives of embodied cognition and conceptual metaphor to explore how learners make sense of these concepts That is it is assumed that human cognition including scientific cognition is grounded in the body and in the material and social contexts in which it is embedded Understanding abstract concepts is therefore grounded via metaphor in knowledge derived from sensory and motor experiences arising from interaction with the physical world The volume consists of nine chapters that examine a number of intertwined themes how systematic metaphorical mappings are implicit in scientific language diagrams mathematical representations and the gestures used by scientists how scientific modelling relies fundamentally on metaphor and can be seen as a form of narrative cognition how implicit metaphors can be the sources of learner misconceptions how conceptual change and the acquisition of scientific expertise involve learning to coordinate the use of multiple implicit metaphors and how effective instruction can build on recognising the embodied nature of scientific cognition and the role of metaphor in scientific thought and learning The volume also includes three extended commentaries from leading researchers in the fields of cognitive linguistics the learning sciences and science education in which they reflect on theoretical methodological and pedagogical issues raised in the book This book was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Science Education Navigating the Education Research Maze Dolene Rossi, Francis Gacenga, Patrick Alan Danaher, 2016-11-25 This book depicts rigorous and vigorous accounts of strategies used successfully by researchers to negotiate their way through the research maze The metaphor of the maze evokes several different and sometimes contradictory elements of contemporary education research including complexity confusion messiness multiplicity and risk While these are not necessarily or wholly negative attributes it is important for researchers to be able to articulate and implement effective strategies for engaging wholeheartedly with these situations to navigate the education research maze The book is structured around three main themes politics ethics philosophies and theories of education research mazes mazes in and with specific research methods and mazes in and with specific research tasks and technologies Each account develops broader lessons for enhancing the impact quality relevance and significance of research in other disciplines as well as education Institutional Research in South African Higher Education Jan Botha, Nicole J Muller, 2016-11-01 The book provides a thorough overview of Institutional Research IR i e applied higher education research undertaken within universities in South Africa It is a collection of essays focusing on the character and institutional setting of IR how IR is embedded into the mechanisms of steering shaping and reforming higher education and what the major results were of IR in select thematic areas The book is a valuable resource for higher education researchers and social researchers in South Africa interested in higher education It also deserves to be read by practitioners and policymakers in the field of higher education in South Africa It serves as an interesting case study for higher education researchers all over the world
