Methodology Of The Heart Evoking Academic And Daily Life:

A Methodology of the Heart Ronald J. Pelias, 2004 Education without ethics without sentiments without heart is simply soulless factual academics and nothing more In his array of authentic essays Ronald J Pelias poetically evokes the spiritual aspects of life in a seemingly dispassionate field the academy A Methodology of the Heart presents a procession of situational compositions confronting matters such as family relationships student teacher communications and general life at the university In his comical yet candid book Pelias depicts the emotional battle for understanding and honesty within the conventional boundaries of higher education It introduces such subjects as autoethnography autobiography personal narratives memoir creative non fiction and performative writing It is absolutely a crucial addition to all book collectors with autoethnographic or communication interests as well as to the general reader attracted to daily life and higher education

A Methodology of the Heart Evoking Academic and Daily Life ,2015 Life After Leaving Sophie Tamas, 2016-06-16 After leaving her twelve year marriage Sophie Tamas went to the local women s shelter to ask if she had been abused The result is Life after Leaving a performative arts based journey into the aftermath of spousal abuse and the endless struggle to make sense of loss We see Sophie s world the academic lectures the therapy sessions the childrearing the dealings with an ex spouse the house reconstruction as she looks for answers in the literature and in the lives of other women Both lyrical and theoretical autoethnographic and analytical her captivating story builds to a chorus of voices as her study participants express the loving longing pain hope and frustration of their experiences after leaving abusive relationships The text closes with insightful and surprising suggestions for reframing recovery An earlier version of this manuscript was short listed for the AERA Arts Based Dissertation Award and won the 2011 Outstanding Dissertation Award from the International Institute for Qualitative Methodology Sponsored by the International Institute for Qualitative Methodology University of Alberta

Promoting Qualitative Research Methods for Critical Reflection and Change Wang, Viktor, 2021-04-16 The philosophical foundation of emancipatory knowledge lies in critical theory In this paradigm instrumental and communicative knowledge are not rejected but are limited If we do not question current scientific and social theories and accepted truths we may never realize how we are constrained by their inevitable distortions and errors Without the possibility of critical questioning of ourselves and our beliefs such constraining knowledge can be accepted by entire cultures The research paradigm that is relevant for constructing this kind of knowledge is the critical paradigm Data are always qualitative and have specific methods of research Quantitative research unquestionably has a place and is fundamental to scientific advances but qualitative research delves into what it is to be human Through qualitative research we gain insight into communicative knowledge its rich nature and the mechanisms by which communicative knowledge is formed and interpreted Qualitative research enables the necessary exploration and critical analysis of social systems and uncovers and facilitates critical reflections on the inevitable assumptions which shape social behavior and interaction thereby stimulating and empowering change Promoting Qualitative Research Methods for Critical Reflection and Change provides readers with a comprehensive array of qualitative research methods which can be implemented in a variety of contexts for a variety of purposes The chapters explore the impact uses and methodologies for qualitative research across various fields of research This book is ideal for practitioners researchers academicians and students interested in the use of qualitative research methods

Education and Care Elizabeth Henderson, 2017-10-16 Autoethnography in Early Childhood Education and Care both embraces and explores autoethnography as a methodology in early childhood settings subsequently broadening discourses within education research through a series of troubling narratives It breaks new ground for researchers seeking to use non-conventional practices in early years research Drawing together research and literature from several disciplines this unique book challenges the perception of what it means to be an early years practitioner powerful and compelling narratives from the author's first-hand experiences offer both a creative and scholarly insight into the issues faced by those working in early childhood settings This text offers insight into working with autoethnography its purpose and methodological tensions provides professionals engaged in caring relational approaches with a series of vignettes for training and further reflection encourages a wider debate and discussion of core values at a critical time in early years practice and other caring professions skilfully and sensitively illustrates how to adopt a creative research imagination This book is a valuable read for researchers postgraduate students and other professionals working in early childhood education and care seeking to give expression to their voices through creative methodologies such as autoethnography in qualitative research Imaginative Methodologies in the Social Sciences Dr Kieran Keohane, 2014-04-28 Challenging the mainstream orthodoxy of social scientific methodology which closely guards the boundaries between the social sciences and the arts and humanities this volume reveals that authors and artists are often engaged in projects parallel to those of the social sciences and vice versa thus demonstrating that artistic and cultural production does not necessarily constitute a specialist field but is in fact integral to social reality Research Methods in Outdoor Studies Barbara Humberstone, Heather Prince, 2019-07-23 Over the last two decades Outdoor Studies has emerged as an innovative and vibrant field of study This is the first book to offer a comprehensive appraisal of established and cutting edge research methods as applied to Outdoor Studies Covering qualitative quantitative and mixed methods the book examines key methodologies themes and technologies such as digital research mobile methodologies ethnography interviews research design research ethics and ways of disseminating research Featuring contributions from leading researchers from a variety of disciplinary backgrounds this is an essential text for any Outdoor Studies course or for researchers looking for innovative and creative research techniques Between the Two Ken Gale, Jonathan Wyatt, 2009-10-02 In this unique work Ken Gale and Jonathan Wyatt bring together three areas of scholarship collaborative writing as method of inquiry the philosophical approaches of the French philosopher Gilles Deleuze and the performativity of both writing and the self The book is a reflexive exploration into the theory and practice of collaborative writing with their between the twos sequences of exchanged writings using a variety of forms and genres at the book s heart Their collaboration offers an experimental transgressive and nomadic inquiry into subjectivity Based upon the authors joint doctoral dissertation the book draws for its theoretical base primarily from the work of Deleuze from both his philosophical figures and the insights that he offers into his collaborations with others It also tells a story conveying a sense of a relationship developing over time This book will interest both academics and postgraduate students in the field of qualitative inquiry including those involved in narrative inquiry cultural communication and performance studies and autoethnography Reclaiming Humanity in Palestinian Hunger Strikes Ashjan Ajour, 2021-12-14 2022 Winner of the Palestine Book Awards Rooted in feminist ethnography and decolonial feminist theory this book explores the subjectivity of Palestinian hunger strikers in Israeli prisons as shaped by resistance Ashjan Ajour examines how these prisoners use their bodies in anti colonial resistance what determines this mode of radical struggle the meanings they ascribe to their actions and how they constitute their subjectivity while undergoing extreme bodily pain and starvation These hunger strikes which embody decolonisation and liberation politics frame the post Oslo period in the wake of the decline of the national struggle against settler colonialism and the fragmentation of the Palestinian movement Providing narrative and analytical insights into embodied resistance and tracing the formation of revolutionary subjectivity the book sheds light on the participants views of the hunger strike as they move beyond customary understandings of the political into the realm of the spiritualisation of struggle Drawing on Foucault s conception of the technologies of the self Fanon s writings on anti colonial violence and Badiou s militant philosophy Ajour problematises these concepts from the vantage point of the Palestinian hunger strike

Children, Young People and Care John Horton,Michelle Pyer,2017-04-28 The very notions of childhood and youth are intimately connected to contemporary norms practices and spaces of care caring and care giving The provision of care is widely figured as both the primary responsibility of parents carers and practitioners who work with children and young people and the primary factor in shaping children and young people s development education socialisation wellbeing and contentment However children and young people themselves are rarely figured as key actors in the provision of care An overwhelming presumption that children and young people are to be cared for has effectively marginalised their agency and responsibilities as carers or in relation to practices and spaces of care Bringing together a significant array of multidisciplinary work on children young people and families this collection draws together new research on the diverse lives and experiences of children and young people as carers as cared for and in relation to spaces and institutions of care It is the first collection specifically devoted to the subject of care in relation to childhood and youth As such the book will be a key resource for academics practitioners and students seeking leading edge empirical and conceptual material on this topic

Doing Poetic Inquiry Helen Owton,2017-09-14 This book offers a phenomenologically inspired approach to sharing stories via poetic inquiry a research approach that is rapidly gaining popularity within psychology and the wider social sciences Owton begins by framing how poetry can appeal to all of the senses how it can offer readers a shared experience of the world and why poetry should be used as a research approach Chapters explore various aspects of poetic inquiry including poetry as data turning data into poetry poetry as literature review and poetry as reflective writing The final chapters consider how one might draw on characterising traits to judge poetic inquiry and how poetry might resonate with audiences to effect wider dissemination of research This interdisciplinary exploration will be of interest to scholars in psychology sociology social work and literature as well as to medical and sports practitioners Reviewing Qualitative Research in the Social Sciences

Audrey Trainor,Elizabeth Graue,2013 Foundational characteristics of qualitative research include flexibility variation in application critique and innovation all of which derive from its subjective roots in interpretivism and constructivism While the scholars who design qualitative research projects envision these qualities as strengths such a breadth of practices and the assumptions that undergird them may present challenges during the peer review process As a result those who review and consume qualitative research often have important and difficult to answer questions about the project's design strategies, tools and analysis with few guidelines for gauging the merit of the work. The mission of this book is to provide a useful guide for researchers, reviewers and consumers who are charged with judging the quality of qualitative studies. In order to embrace the challenges and controversies that accompany this goal, the editors have solicited experts representing multiple disciplines and methods of qualitative inquiry. Their contributions represent the rich diversity in the field while simultaneously producing a pragmatic and useful guide. While it is neither possible nor desirable to compartmentalize qualitative approaches and issues into neatly organized categories, the construct of method has been chosen as a common organizing device. The introductory chapter explains the need for such a book and underscores the foundational strengths of qualitative research: flexibility, variation, critique and innovation. The remaining chapters review the principal approaches to qualitative research with care taken not to standardize, rigidly define or oversimplify any approach. For ease of use, all methodological chapters are organized around the following elements of inquiry which reviewers tend to examine: definition, sampling, data collection, data analysis, representation and congruency.

Affective Capitalism in Academia Daniel Nehring, Kristiina Brunila, 2023-01-16
Drawing on affect theory and research on academic capitalism, this book examines the contemporary crisis of universities. With 11 international and comparative case studies, it offers a unique exploration of the contemporary role of affect in academic labour and the organisation of scholarship and explores diverse features of contemporary academic life from the colonality of academic capitalism to performance management and the experience of being performance managed.

Reading Autoethnography James M. Salvo, 2019-10-22
Reading Autoethnography situates autoethnographic insights within the context of two fundamental concerns of critical qualitative inquiry: justice and love. Through philosophical engagement, it gives close readings of written passages taken from leading autoethnographers and frames the philosophical project of autoethnography as one that is both political and interpersonal. It does this to highlight how autoethnographic lessons can allow us to think through how we may achieve a flourishing for all, something that is both related to justice as it pertains to the political and when situations are in excess of justice, related to love as it pertains to feeling at home in the world with others. As such, this book will be of interest to those who have a burgeoning interest in autoethnography and seasoned autoethnographers alike, anyone interested in critical qualitative inquiry as a discourse promoting justice and love, and any scholar who has encountered the ethical question of 'What ought we do?'

Emancipatory and Participatory Methodologies in Peace, Critical, and Community Psychology Mohamed Seedat, Shahnaaz Suffla, Daniel J.

Christie, 2017-10-17
Offering a unique set of case studies that invites readers to question and reimagine the concept of community engagement, this collected work provides an overview and analysis of numerous creative participatory research methods designed to improve well-being at both the individual and societal level. In a world where there are enormous differences in the wealth and health of people, it is increasingly recognized that sustainable peace requires both a broad based public commitment to nonviolence combined with noticeable increments in the wellbeing of people who occupy the lowest socioeconomic strata of societies This volume focuses on the latter how to use qualitative research methods to improve well being of research participants and thus the wider society The participatory research examples described in these chapters are meant to encourage researchers scholars and practitioners to question assumed knowledge about community engagement research and practice and to inspire social justice oriented scholarship The cases studies and methods portrayed are as varied as the situations and cultures in which they take place In most of the case studies the personal is linked to the political with a social justice imperative as participants from marginalized communities express an understanding of their own position within power hierarchies deconstruct power relations and experience a sense of agency In other instances the methods are no less participatory but the aim is more focused on inner and outer harmony psychological wellbeing conflict resolution and intergroup reconciliation In all the cases studies there is a strong emphasis on methods in which community members are at the center of efforts to promote social change The methods described include group storytelling community arts asset mapping dialogues creative writing embroidery filmmaking Photovoice writing back to power and other means of engaging in emancipatory praxis and promoting personal wellbeing Taken together the chapters illustrate creative ways in which community members embedded in disadvantaged contexts can engage in a dynamic process that stimulates individual and collective agency Ultimately this volume will provide readers with a deeper understanding of a wide range of creative qualitative research methods and will encourage establishment of an effective social justice agenda essential to human wellbeing and sustainable peace
