Whitchurch, 1994 This long awaited fourth edition has the same goal as the preceding editions to understand families in terms of the kinds of interaction through which family life is constructed The changes in the family as an institution have influenced these processes just as they have influenced the ways we understand and write about them But even in these postmodern circumstances an underlying premise of the volume is that two partners establish a family because they have selected each other as distinctively meaningful to one another They will affirm modify elaborate or retreat from various aspects of the relationship through interaction over time and in changing circumstances This volume contains the best available interdisciplinary work on the social psychology of the family More than half of the selections are new to this edition which incorporates a variety of theoretical and research perspectives that provide the reader with a range of authoritative and up to date sources on the family and interpersonal relations The newer forms of family organization that have emerged in the more recent literature specifically single parent families stepfamilies and families of gay and lesbian domestic partners are included Authors have been drawn from a variety of disciplines including sociology communication family studies human development psychology anthropology and social work Ethnography and Human Development Richard Jessor, Anne Colby, Richard A. Keesing, 1981 Collaborative Research

And Social Change Donald D Stull, 2019-03-13 Community case studies are basic to anthropology yet there are relatively few examples in which the promotion of social change has been the explicit goal of the research The case studies included here are all natural experiments that involve long term community based research close collaboration between researchers and representatives of the h American Book Publishing Record , 1996 A Crack in the Mirror Jay

Ruby, 2016-11-11 Like Conrad s Marlow whose tale of journeying into the heart of darkness gives us as much insight into one man s personality as it does into the mysteries of the dark world he explored so the anthropologist s record of another culture contains more than objective scientific data about his investigation Embedded within it are clues to the personality of anthropology itself the attitudes approaches even prejudices that at any given stage in history are inextricable from the ideology of the anthropologist Therefore the mirror he holds up to show us another culture can never be a perfect one His own professional attitude toward his subject as well as his choice of medium are factors that create cracks in the mirror of anthropology through which we believe we view the life of other cultures Hence the concept of reflexivity and the striving to recognize how it warps in the portrayal of anthropological truth lie at the core of the twelve finely wrought essays collected in this volume Wide ranging in geography as well as viewpoint they highlight various methods and media film ethnography text through which an anthropologist chooses to portray a culture and the various forms such as art theater and ritual through which a culture portrays itself Recognizing the link between these two processes provides the key to cultural and methodological self awareness Reflexivity is defined and clarified in the introduction and in three of the essays and the remaining nine essays evince the principle through fieldwork and startling case studies Essays by Jay Ruby and Eric Michaels shed new light on the enormous potential of film and video showing how a form generally thought to be nonscientific can in fact give fresh insight into the scientific premises underlying the discipline s methodology Essays by Barbara Babcock and Carol Ann Parssinen focus on the novel and ethnography examining existing works Anthropologists as well as students of film art and theater will find that this intriguing work begins to redefine traditional distinctions between science and the arts and brings to light fresh resources that are utilized in the search for anthropological truth Contributors Richard Schechner Victor

Turner Barbara Myerhoff Jay Ruby Eric Michaels Dennis Tedlock George Marcus Paul Rabinow Barbara Babcock Carol Ann Parssinen and Dan Rose Ethnographic Research Jonathan Y. Okamura,1985 Intimate Communications Gilbert Herdt,Robert J. Stoller,1990 Intimate Communications is the first systematic effort to explore and interpret erotic experience and gender identity in a cross cultural perspective This is a dialogic work that emphasizes the need for exact descriptions of people s statements feelings and fantasies presenting data from individual interviews with the Sambia of Papua New Guinea Using the ethnographic methods of anthropology informed by the clinical techniques of psychoanalysis Gildbert Herdt and Robert J Stoller explore the culture and erotics of the Sambia and the role of subjectivity in ethnographic research

Fieldwork Bruce Jackson,1987 Fieldwork deals with the practical mechanical ethical and theoretical aspects of collecting data Jackson discusses how fieldworkers define their role how they relate to others in the field and how they go about recording for later use what occurred in their presence This treatment offers an abundance of useful information to those who do folklore fieldwork as well as those who work in any of the other social sciences or humanities An appendix relates the author s own experiences while documenting Texas s death row Our Common Denominator Christoph Antweiler,2016-04-01 Since the politicization of anthropology in the 1970s most anthropologists have been reluctant to approach the topic of universals that is phenomena that occur regularly in all known human societies In this volume Christoph Antweiler reasserts the importance of these cross cultural commonalities for anthropological research and for life and co existence beyond the academy The question presented here is how anthropology can help us approach humanity in its entirety understanding the world less as a globe with an emphasis on differences but as a planet from a vantage point open to commonalities Library of Congress Catalog Library of Congress,1974-07 Beginning with 1953 entries for Motion pictures and filmstrips Music and phonorecords form separate parts of the Library of Congress catalogue Entries for Maps and atlases were issued separately 1953 1955 Avant-garde Jazz Musicians David Glen Such,1993 Rethinking Women's Roles Denise O'Brien,Sharon W.
