Bowman Jr., 2012-01-05 A most accessible but thoroughly practical primer on apologetics The Rationality of Theism

Godehard Brüntrup, R.K. Tacelli, 2013-04-17 In May 1998 a distinguished group of philosophers met in Munich to discuss the rationality of theism. This volume is a collection of the papers read at that conference. While in recent years the rationality of theistic belief has been widely discussed, the Munich conference was an event of some moment in the history of philosophical dialogue for the first time. German and English speaking philosophers of religion, representatives of both the Continental and the Anglo-Saxon traditions, joined together to grapple with a common philosophical theme. This multiplicity of perspectives brought a unique richness to the analysis of rationality that no one tradition by itself could provide. Readers will find that richness displayed in the pages of this book. Professional philosophers will find here a great deal to stimulate and challenge them, but graduate students, capable undergraduates, and all others with a serious interest in the philosophy of religion will be well rewarded for their efforts to come to grips with these thought-provoking papers Apologetics in Africa Kevin

Muriithi Ndereba, 2024-02-01 Divided into four major sections, this textbook provides an in-depth exploration of the biblical, philosophical, cultural, and practical concerns facing African Christians as they proclaim and defend the gospel in Africa. Written by a diverse group of pastors and scholars, it provides a much-needed interdisciplinary and contextualized approach to apologetics. It also seeks to bridge the gap between academic research and ministry practice, touching on such topics as hermeneutics, biblical criticism, church history, the nature of evil, religious inclusivism, Muslim-Christian engagement, eldership, rites, domestic violence, cults, and the digital age. Biblically robust, contextually relevant, ministry-oriented, and accessible, this is a remarkable resource for enriching the life and ministry of Christians in Africa and beyond Logic and Theism Jordan

Howard Sobel, 2003-11-10 This is a wide-ranging 2004 book about arguments for and against beliefs in God. The arguments for the belief are analysed in the first six chapters and include ontological arguments from Anselm to Gödel, the cosmological arguments of Aquinas and Leibniz, and arguments from evidence for design and miracles. The next two chapters consider arguments against belief. The last chapter examines Pascalian arguments for and against belief in God. There are discussions of Cantorian problems for omniscience, of challenges to divine omnipotence, and of the compatibility of everlasting, complete knowledge of the world with free will. There are appendices that present formal proofs in a system for quantified modal logic, a theory of possible worlds, notes on Cantorian set theory, and remarks concerning non-standard hyperreal numbers. This book will be a valuable resource for philosophers of religion and theologians, and will interest logicians and mathematicians as well.

God and Evidence Rob Lovering, 2013-06-20 God and Evidence presents a new set of compelling problems for theistic philosophers. The problems pertain to three types of theistic philosopher which Lovering defines here as theistic inferentialists, theistic non-inferentialists, and theistic fideists. Theistic inferentialists believe that God exists; that there is inferential probabilifying evidence of God's existence and that this evidence is discoverable not simply in principle but in practice Theistic non inferentialists believe that God exists that there is non inferential probabilifying evidence of God's existence and that this evidence is discoverable not simply in principle but in practice Theistic fideists believe that God exists that there is no discoverable probabilifying evidence inferential or non inferential of God's existence and that it is nevertheless acceptable morally if not otherwise to have faith that God exists Lovering argues that each type of theistic philosopher faces a problem unique to his type and that they all share two particular problems Some of these problems take us down an entirely new discursive path others down a new discursive path branching off from an old one Encountering Religious Pluralism Harold Netland, 2001-08-14 Harold Netland traces the emergence of the pluralistic ethos that challenges Christian faith and mission interacting heavily with philosopher John Hick and providing a framework for developing a comprehensive evangelical theology of religions
