Sacred Rhetoric Preaching As A Theological And Pastoral Practice Of The Church:

Sacred Rhetoric Michael Pasquarello III, 2012-06-01 Modern approaches to preaching today are largely fixated on how to s how to make preaching more relevant more interesting more entertaining Michael Pasquarello suggests that this fixation may stem from a preaching imagination more beholden to technical scientific reason than theological wisdom Rather than devising new techniques or strategies for effective speaking Pasquarello offers something more salutary portraits of ten exemplary preachers from the Christian tradition Included in Pasquarello s gallery are Augustine of Hippo Gregory the Great Benedict Bernard of Clairvaux Bonaventure Thomas Aquinas Erasmus Hugh Latimer Martin Luther and John Calvin These excellent preachers conceived of Christian speech as a unique theological practice learned through prayerful attention to the Bible and aimed at communion with God Sacred Rhetoric invites readers to join an extended conversation with the past in order to become faithful preachers of the gospel in a post Christian society Preachers seminarians and students of Christian history will find much to learn from Pasquarello s fresh perspective and passion for the past Christian Preaching Michael Pasquarello III, 2011-06-28 Michael Pasquarello has written a must read book articulating a Trinitarian vision for preaching His compelling argument is richly informed by traditional biblical hermeneutics creedal history understood as storied attestation of the witness of Scripture and liturgical theology and practice considered as embodied performance of the Bible s divine narrative Here is a clear summons to the church to abandon all lesser homiletic aims and to prayerfully and faithfully proclaim the holy gospel to the glory of God Charles L Bartow Princeton Theological Seminary Like all of Michael Pasquarello s work his newest book not only upholds the classical Christian tradition but also breathes new vitality into it In an era in which preaching is reduced to persuasive communication Pasquarello reminds us that the Christian message has a content that originates in and gives expression to the Father Son and Holy Spirit Richard Lischer Duke Divinity School One of the refreshing things about this fine book by Michael Pasquarello is that when he thinks about the ministry of preaching he is not afraid to measure the breadth historically or plumb the depths theologically Pasquarello has written this book like a good sermon faithfully thoughtfully prayerfully and with a profound word to speak We are in his debt Thomas G Long Candler School of Theology Boldly challenging homiletical accommodation to American culture Pasquarello seeks to change the subject of preaching from method and marketing to the Triune God who is the source and goal of our speech A welcome theological vision of preaching Charles L Campbell Columbia Theological Seminary Christian Preaching brings together two disciplines that have sadly grown apart such that they almost developed irreconcilable differences preaching and theology Pasquarello offers a brilliant critique of theology as technique and draws on the theology and sermons of Irenaeus Augustine Luther Wesley and others convincingly demonstrating that effective pragmatic preaching requires substantive theological engagement and vice versa This book accomplishes its purpose so well that it should be used not only in preaching courses but also in basic theology courses No preacher should be let loose on a congregation without passing through Pasquarello s

Christian Preaching D Stephen Long Marquette University The Beauty of Preaching Michael Pasquarello, 2020-08-27

What does beauty have to do with healing the fragmentation within our churches According to Michael Pasquarello everything Amid the cacophony of ugly political invective that dominates nearly every space today including church only God has the power to unify and heal through his truth and goodness revealed in his beauty And every Sunday those in the pulpit have the opportunity and responsibility to share this beauty with their parishioners Tapping into a long tradition that can be traced back to Augustine Michael Pasquarello explores a theological definition of beauty that has tremendous revelatory power in a post Christendom world A church manifesting this beauty is not merely a gathering of people but a place where God's new creation appears in the midst of the old creation ushered in by a pastor willing to make God the primary actor within the doxological craft of preaching

Christian Preaching Michael Pasquarello, 2006 There are many books that give preachers hints about engaging speaking or methods for creating sermons This homiletics primer focuses not on the how to of preaching but on the theological foundation of the very act of preaching itself introducing students and pastors to a thorough understanding of why they preach or will preach Michael Pasquarello III takes a biblical and historical look at preaching calling all preachers to think theologically regardless of denomination audience or preaching style when they proclaim the Word of God Each chapter concludes with a sermon example that shows the practical way that such theology works itself into the pulpit Publisher

Sacred Rhetoric David M. Barbee, Brent C. Sleasman, 2024-03-06 There have always been historical and philosophical connections between the study of religion and rhetoric and yet the phrase sacred rhetoric is rarely found within scholarly conferences presentations and publications The editors of this collection intend to fill this void by presenting a collection of essays which define in the broadest terms possible sacred rhetoric as necessary discourse of on religion The contributors represent multiple perspectives and disparate academic fields such as philosophy biblical studies rhetoric and communication and each essay is united by a common concern for public discourse that examines the intersection between religion rhetoric culture and identity Collectively these essays dissect the manner in which religious actors or religious themes inform various layers of cultural discourse The goal is to foster discussion based upon a greater awareness of the issues at stake and contribute to ongoing discourse about identity and meaning

Sacred Rhetoric Pasquarello, 2005-11-15 Much of today's preaching is fixated on how to make preaching more relevant more interesting more fun Michael Pasquarello suggests that this fixation may stem from a preaching imagination more beholden to technical scientific reason than theological wisdom In place of reasonable new techniques or strategies for effective speaking Pasquarello offers something more salutary exemplars of preaching from the Christian tradition From Augustine to Calvin these preachers conceived of Christian speech as a theological practice learned through prayerful attention to the Bible and aimed at communion with God Sacred Rhetoric is an invitation to join an extended conversation with the past in order to become faithful preachers of the gospel in a post Christian society Preachers seminarians and students of Christian history will find much to learn from Pasquarello's fresh perspective and passion for the past Homiletical Theology David Schnasa Jacobsen, 2015-02-13 Karl Barth famously argued that all theology is sermon preparation. But what if all sermon preparation is actually theology? This book pursues a thoroughgoing theological vision for the practice of preaching as a way of doing theology. The idea is not just that homiletics is the realm of theological application. That would leave preaching in the position of simply implementing a theology already arrived at. Instead, the vision in these pages is of a form of theology that begins with preaching itself: its practice, its theories, and its contexts. Homiletical theology is thus a unique way of doing theology, even a constructive theological task in its own right. Homiletician David Schnasa Jacobsen has assembled several of the leading lights of contemporary homiletics to help to see its task ever more deeply as theological, yet in profoundly diverse ways. Along the way, readers will not only discover how homileticians do theology homiletically, but will deepen the way in which they understand their own preaching as a theological task. Contributors include Ronald J. Allen, Professor of Preaching and Gospels and Letters at Christian Theological Seminary; John S. McClure, Charles G. Finney Professor of Preaching and Worship at Vanderbilt Divinity School; Alyce M. McKenzie, George W. and Nell Ayers Le Van Professor of Preaching and Worship at Perkins School of Theology, Southern Methodist University; Michael Pasquarello III, Granger E. and Anna A. Fisher Professor of Preaching at Asbury Theological Seminary; Luke A. Powery, Dean of the Chapel and Associate Professor of the Practice of Homiletics at Duke University; Teresa Stricklen Eisenlohr, Ph.D., Associate for Worship Office of Theology and Worship at the Presbyterian Church U.S.A. Augustine's Theology of Preaching Peter T. Sanlon, 2014-07-01 Scholarship has painted many pictures of Augustine: the philosophical theologian, the refuter of heresy, or contributor to doctrines like Original Sin, but the picture of Augustine as preacher says Sanlon has been seriously neglected. When academics marginalize the Sermones ad Populum, the real Augustine is not presented accurately. In this study, Sanlon does more than rehabilitate a neglected view of Augustine. How do the theological convictions that Augustine brought to his preaching challenge, sustain, or shape our work today? By presenting Augustine's thought on preaching to contemporary readers, Sanlon contributes a major new piece to the ongoing reconsideration of preaching in the modern day, a consideration that is relevant to all branches of the twenty-first century church. Theology Is for Preaching Chase R. Kuhn, Paul Grimmond, 2021-03-10 Is it right to just preach the text? Why do we preach and do theology? How do we relate them? And how do they relate to God's word? Theology Is for Preaching helps preachers with theology and theologians with preaching. Though diverse in contexts and disciplines, the contributors share a commitment to equipping the saints to rightly handle the word of truth. Through essays on foundations, methods, employing theology for preaching, and preaching for theology, this volume will equip preachers and theologians to engage deeply with the text of the Bible and communicate its meaning with clarity. The Reformation and the Irrepressible Word of God Scott M. Manetsch, 2019-05-28 The Protestant Reformers were transformed by their encounters with Scripture. Bringing together the reflections of church historians and theologians delivered at Trinity

Evangelical Divinity School these essays consider historical hermeneutical theological and practical issues regarding the Bible revealing that the irrepressible Word of God continues to transform hearts and minds
