Sacred Stories, Spiritual Tribes Nancy Tatom Ammerman, 2013-09-12 Nancy Tatom Ammerman examines the stories Americans tell of their everyday lives from dinner table to office and shopping mall to doctor's office about the things that matter most to them and the routines they take for granted and the times and places where the everyday and ordinary meet the spiritual

Traditional Narratives of the Arikara Indians: Stories of Alfred Morsette, English translations, 1991-01-01 Until the late eighteenth century the Arikaras were one of the largest and most influential Indian groups on the northern plains For centuries they have lived along the Missouri River first in present South Dakota later in what is now North Dakota Today they share the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation in North Dakota with the Mandans and Hidatsas Although their postcontact history and aspects of their culture are well documented Douglas R Parks's monumental four volume work Traditional Narratives of the Arikara Indians represents the first comprehensive attempt to describe and record their language and literary traditions Volumes 1 and 2 present transcriptions of 156 oral narratives in Arikara and include literal interlinear English translations Volumes 3 and 4 contain free English translations of those narratives making available for the first time a broad representative group of Arikara oral traditions that will be invaluable not only to anthropologists and folklorists but to everyone interested in American Indian life and literature The narratives cover the entire range of traditional stories found in the historical and literary tradition of the Arikara people who classify their stories into two categories true stories and tales Here are myths of ancient times legends of power bestowed historical narratives and narratives of mysterious incidents that affirm the existence today of supernatural power in the world along with tales of the trickster Coyote and stories of the risqué Stuwí and various other animals In addition there are accounts of Arikara ritualism prayers and descriptions of how personal names are bestowed and how the Death Feast originated

Sacred Sites and Sacred Stories Across Cultures David W. Kim, 2021-01-18 This book offers global perspectives from Mediterranean Asian Australian and American cultures on sacred sites and their related stories in regional history Contemporary society witnesses many travelers visiting sacred sites temples mountains castles churches houses throughout the world These visits often involve discovery of new historical facts through the origin stories of the associated tribe region or nation The transmission of oral tradition and myth carries on the significant meaning of those religious sites This volume unveils multi angle perspectives of symbolic and mystical places The contributors describe the religio political experiences of each regional case and analyze the religiosity of local people as a lens through which readers can re examine the concept of iconography syncretism and materialism In addition contributors interpret the growth of new religions as the alternative perspectives of anti traditional religions This new approach offers significant insight into comprehending the practical agony and sorrow of regional people in the context of contemporary history Sacred Stories Charles H. Simpkinson, Anne Adamcewicz Simpkinson, 1993 This is an eclectic assortment of stories by popular authors storytellers psychologists and spiritual teachers Reading Our Lives William L. Randall, Elizabeth McKim, 2008-06-03 Against the background of Socrates insight that the unexamined life is not worth living Reading Our Lives The Poetics of Growing Old investigates the often overlooked inside dimensions of aging Despite popular portrayals of mid and later life as entailing inevitable decline this book looks at aging as potentially a process of poiesis a creative endeavor of fashioning meaning from the ever accumulating texts memories and reflections that constitute our inner worlds At its center is the conviction that although we are constantly reading our lives to some degree anyway doing so in a mindful matter is critical to our development in the second half of life Drawing on research in numerous disciplines affected by the so called narrative turn including cognitive psychology neuroscience and the psychology of aging authors Randall and McKim articulate a vision of aging that promises to accommodate such time honored concepts as wisdom and spirituality one that understands aging as a matter not merely of getting old but of consciously growing old Nonviolent Story Robert R. Beck, 2009-03-01 What do the gospels contribute to our understanding of nonviolent versus violent means of conflict resolution Many biblical scholars contend that the gospels have little to say on this subject Others seek answers in ethical principles found in Jesus s teachings which may or may not be interpreted as accepting or rejecting violence In Nonviolent Story Robert Beck proposes a new way of reading the Gospel of Mark one that points to a challenging message of nonviolent resistance as reflected in the story of Jesus s life and ministry According to narrative analysis the message of the Gospel is found in the structure of the story itself Beck contends that the narrative form of Mark s gospel portrays Jesus as a protagonist who does not avoid conflict but enters into it without himself resorting to violence He thus serves as a model of the nonviolent resistance that inspired Gandhi and Martin Luther King Jr By using literary analysis to explore Mark s gospel Beck opens up a counter story that challenges the prevailing American cultural myth of constructive violence Beck uses the Western tales of Louis L Amour as the narrative essence of this pop mythology and the total opposite of the story told by Mark When Stories Wound Nathaniel Samuel, 2025-02-15 How do we live responsibly in a world shaped by narrative When Stories Wound explores the significance of narrative for moral agency and engages the harm that our current polarizations have inflicted and our apathy and indifference towards it When Stories Wound urges readers to be conscious of the stories we live and to re imagine what responsibility looks like and experience of cancer The purpose of the Counseling and Pastoral Theology series is to address clinical issues that arise among particular populations currently neglected in the literature on pastoral care and counseling This series is committed to enhancing both the theoretical base and the clinical expertise of pastoral caregivers by providing a pastoral theological paradigm that will inform both assessment and intervention with persons in these specific populations Living Our Story Larry A. Golemon, 2010-12-31 Living Our Story explores how good narrative work the retrieval construction and performance of valued stories takes place in ministry Authors Larry A Golemon Lee Ramsey N Graham Standish Tim Shapiro Carol Johnson Mike Mather Niles Elliot Goldstein and Diana Butler Bass examine this question from a variety of perspectives including the role of the pastor or rabbi as narrative leader the sacred and mundane stories that shape congregational life and identity storytelling as a means of community building and story sharing as a practice of hospitality Through the stories they themselves tell these authors show how stories witness to God's presence in the unfolding of human life and how the best leaders craft stories that reveal how God is at work among the people and inspire them to become a part of this larger story
