Liberty and Justice for All? Kathleen G. Donohue, 2012 A wide ranging exploration of the culture of American politics in the early decades of the Cold War Dark Days in the Newsroom Edward Alwood, 2007-06-28 Dark Days in the Newsroom traces how journalists became radicalized during the Depression era only to become targets of Senator Joseph McCarthy and like minded anti Communist crusaders during the 1950s Edward Alwood a former news correspondent describes this remarkable story of conflict principle and personal sacrifice with noticeable lan He shows how McCarthy's minions pried inside newsrooms thought to be sacrosanct under the First Amendment and details how journalists mounted a heroic defense of freedom of the press while others secretly enlisted in the government's anti communist crusade Relying on previously undisclosed documents from FBI files along with personal interviews Alwood provides a richly informed commentary on one of the most significant moments in the history of American journalism Arguing that the experiences of the McCarthy years profoundly influenced the practice of journalism he shows how many of the issues faced by journalists in the 1950s prefigure today's conflicts over the right of journalists to protect their sources Critical theory and demagogic populism Paul K. Jones, 2020-11-03 Populism is a powerful force today but its full scope has eluded the analytical tools of both orthodox and heterodox populism studies This book provides a valuable alternative perspective It reconstructs in detail for the first time the sociological analyses of US demagogues by members of the Frankfurt School and compares these with contemporary approaches Modern demagoguery emerges as a key under researched feature of populism since populist movements whether left or right are highly susceptible to demagogic capture The book also details the culture industry s populist contradictions including its role as an incubator of modern demagogues from the 1930s through to today s social media and Trumpian psychotechnics Featuring a previously unpublished text by Adorno on modern demagoguery as an appendix it will be of interest to researchers and students in critical theory sociology politics German studies philosophy and history of ideas as well as all those concerned about the rise of demagogic populism today Michael Moore and the

Rhetoric of Documentary Thomas W Benson, Brian J Snee, 2015-04-27 In the first in depth study of Moore s feature length documentary films editors Thomas W Benson and Brian J Snee have gathered leading rhetoric scholars to examine the production rhetorical appeals and audience reception of these films Contributors critique the films primarily as modes of public argument and political art Each essay is devoted to one of Moore s films and traces in detail how each film invites specific audience responses Presidents and Civil Liberties from Wilson to Obama Samuel Walker, 2012-04-16 This book is a history of the civil liberties records of American presidents from Woodrow Wilson to Barack Obama It examines the full range of civil liberties issues First Amendment rights of freedom of speech press and assembly due process equal protection including racial justice women s rights and lesbian and gay rights privacy rights including reproductive freedom and national security issues The book argues that presidents have not protected or advanced civil liberties and that several have perpetrated some of the worst violations Some Democratic presidents Wilson and Roosevelt moreover have violated civil liberties as badly as some Republican presidents Nixon and Bush This is the first book to examine the full civil liberties records of each president thus placing a president s record on civil rights with his record on national security issues and also to compare the performance on particular issues of all the presidents covered The Rhetoric of the New Political

Documentary Thomas W Benson, Brian J Snee, 2008-05-23 The Rhetoric of the New Political Documentary explores the most visible and volatile element in the 2004 presidential campaign the partisan documentary film This collection of original critical essays by leading scholars and critics including Shawn J and Trevor Parry Giles Jennifer L Borda and Martin J Medhurst analyzes a selection of political documentaries that appeared during the 2004 election season The editors examine the new political documentary with the tools of rhetorical criticism combining close textual analysis with a consideration of the historical context and the production and reception of the films The essays address the distinctive rhetoric of the new political documentary with the films typically having been shot with relatively low budgets in video and using interviews and stock footage rather than observation of uncontrolled behavior The quality was often good enough and interest was sufficiently intense that the films were shown in theaters and on television which provided legitimacy and visibility before they were released soon afterwards on DVD and VHS and marketed on the Internet The volume reviews such films as Michael Moore's Fahrenheit 9/11 two refutations of Moore's film Fahrenheit 9/11 and Celsius 41/11 Unprecedented The 2000 Presidential Election and George W Bush Faith in the White House films that experimented with a variety of angles and rhetorics from a mix of comic disparagement and earnest confrontation to various emulations of traditional news and documentary voices The Rhetoric of the New Political Documentary represents the continued transformation of American political discourse in a partisan and contentious time and showcases the independent voices and the political power brokers that struggled to find new ways to debate the status quo and employ surrogate independents to create a counterrhetoric

Television Histories Gary R. Edgerton, Peter C. Rollins, 2021-09-15 From Ken Burns's documentaries to historical dramas such as Roots from A&E's Biography series to CNN television has become the primary source for historical information for tens of millions of Americans today Why has television become such a respected authority What falsehoods enter our collective memory as truths How is one to know what is real and what is imagined or ignored by producers directors or writers Gary Edgerton and Peter Rollins have collected a group of essays that answer these and many other questions The contributors examine the full spectrum of historical genres but also institutions such as the History Channel and production histories of such series as The Jack Benny Show which ran for fifteen years The authors explore the tensions between popular history and professional history and the tendency of some academics to declare the past off limits to nonscholars Several of them point to the tendency for television histories to embed current concerns and priorities within the past as in such popular shows as Quantum Leap and Dr Quinn Medicine Woman The result is an insightful portrayal of the power television possesses to influence our culture Joseph McCarthy Arthur Herman, 2000 A daring and controversial second look at Senator Joseph McCarthy that declares that many of his notorious accusations were actually true 16 page photo insert
