which create a new vision of Rome through adaptation allusion and critique Whether ancient or modern these studies show how Rome and Roman texts are recast for each new audience Chambers's Encyclopaedia David Patrick, William

Geddie, 1923 The Search for the Twelve Apostles William Steuart McBirnie, 2013-03-22 Simon Peter Andrew James the son of Zebedee John Philip Bartholomew Thomas Matthew James the son of Alphaeus Jude Simon Judas and Matthias what happened to the men who answered Jesus call to follow him What impact did they have on the world Where did they go and what did they do after Jesus resurrection and ascension In these fascinating profiles Dr McBirnie offers readers a snapshot of the lives of each apostle His information was compiled by traveling to places where the apostles lived and visited by studying the Scriptures and biblical history by listening to local traditions and by engaging in his own original research Picking up where the book of Acts leaves off McBirnie brings these men to life as he explores the legends traditions and real lives of the Twelve as they built the foundation of Christianity Seeing Roman Britain, by Leonard Cottrell... Foreword by John

Morris,... Leonard Cottrell, John Morris, 1956 Law, Society, and Authority in Late Antiquity Ralph W. Mathisen, 2001-08-02 The sixteen papers in this volume investigate the links between law and society during Late Antiquity 260 640 CE On the one hand they consider how social changes such as the barbarian settlement and the rise of the Christian church resulted in the creation of new sources of legal authority such as local and vulgar law barbarian law codes and canon law On the other they investigate the interrelationship between legal innovations and social change for the very process of creating new law and new authority either resulted from or caused changes in the society in which it occurred The studies in this volume discuss interactions between legal theory and practice the Greek east and the Roman west secular and ecclesiastical Roman and barbarian male and female and Christian and non Christian including pagans Jews and Zoroastrians

King Arthur Tony Sullivan, 2020-04-30 An investigation of the evidence for King Arthur based on the earliest written sources rather than later myths and legends This book differs from the usual Arthur theories in that it favors no particular conjecture simply analyses and clarifies the evidence presenting it all in chronological order Starting from Roman Britain the evidence shows how the legend evolved and at what point concepts such as Camelot Excalibur and Merlin were added It covers the historical records from the end of Roman Britain using contemporary sources such as they are from 400 800 including Gallic Chronicles Gildas and Bede It details the first written reference to Arthur in the Historia Brittonum c 800 and the later Annales Cambriae in the tenth century showing the evolution of the legend in later Welsh and French stories While not starting from or aiming at a specific person the book compares the possibility of Arthur being purely fictional with a historical figure alongside a list of possible suspects The evidence is presented and the reader is invited to make up their own mind before a discussion of the author's own assessment What impressed me about this book is Sullivan's passion for this subject and his willingness to go the extra mile to show both sides of the argument It was extremely fascinating to see how he treated this book like a criminal investigation using different fields of study to figure out the origins of the legend how it evolved and whether or not there was a king named Arthur Adventures of a Tudor Nerd The Idea of the Castle in Medieval England Abigail Wheatley, 2015 Medieval castles have traditionally been examined as feats of military engineering tools of feudal control This book presents a different perspective by exploring the castle as a cultural reflection of the society that produced it seen through art literature
