Screening Love and War in Troy: Fall of a City Antony Augoustakis, Monica S. Cyrino, 2022-01-13 This is the first volume of essays published on the television series Troy: Fall of a City BBC One and Netflix 2018. Covering a wide range of engaging topics such as gender, race, and politics, international scholars in the fields of classics, history, and film studies discuss how the story of Troy has been recreated on screen to suit the expectations of modern audiences. The series is commended for the thought provoking way it handles important issues arising from the Trojan War narrative that continue to impact our society today. With discussions centered on epic narrative, cast and character, as well as tragic resonances, the contributors tackle gender roles by exploring the innovative ways in which mythological female figures such as Helen, Aphrodite, and the Amazons are depicted in the series. An examination is also made into the concept of the hero and how the series challenges conventional representations of masculinity. We encounter a significant investigation of race, focusing on the controversial casting of Achilles, Patroclus, Zeus, and other series characters with Black actors. Several essays deal with the moral and ethical complexities surrounding warfare power and politics The significance of costume and production design are also explored throughout the volume The Fall of Fort Sumter, Or, Love and War in 1860-61 John Ballou Newbrough, 1867
