Love's Knowledge Martha C. Nussbaum, 1990 This volume brings together Nussbaum's published papers on the relationship between literature and philosophy especially moral philosophy The papers many of them previously inaccessible to non specialist readers deal with such fundamental issues as the relationship between style and content in the exploration of ethical issues the nature of ethical attention and ethical knowledge and their relationship to written forms and styles and the role of the emotions in deliberation and self knowledge Nussbaum investigates and defends a conception of ethical understanding which involves emotional as well as intellectual activity and which gives a certain type of priority to the perception of particular people and situations rather than to abstract rules She argues that this ethical conception cannot be completely and appropriately stated without turning to forms of writing usually considered literary rather than philosophical It is consequently necessary to broaden our conception of moral philosophy in order to include these forms Featuring two new essays and revised versions of several previously published essays this collection attempts to articulate the relationship within such a broader ethical inquiry between literary and more abstractly theoretical elements Baconiana, 1900 The Eclectic Magazine John Holmes Agnew, Walter Hilliard Bidwell, 1869 Catalog of Copyright Entries. Quotable English couplets Mulki Radhakrishna Shetty, 2007 Love-life in Nature Wilhelm Bölsche, 1926 Love in Contemporary British Drama Korbinian Stöckl, 2021-01-18 Despite the recent turn to affects and emotions in the humanities and despite the unceasing popularity of romantic and erotic love as a motif in fictional works of all genres the subject has received surprisingly little attention in academic studies of contemporary drama Love in Contemporary British Drama reflects the appeal of love as a topic and driving force in dramatic works with in depth analyses of eight pivotal plays from the past three decades Following an interdisciplinary and historical approach the study collects and condenses theories of love from philosophy and sociology to derive persisting discourses and to examine their reoccurrence and transformation in contemporary plays Special emphasis is put on narratives of love's compensatory function and precariousness and on how modifications of these narratives epitomise the peculiarities of emotional life in the social and cultural context of the present Based on the assumption that drama is especially inclined to draw on shared narratives for representations of love the book demonstrates that love is both a window to remnants of the past in the present and a proper subject matter for drama in
