Schwann CD.,1989-07 Serenade Toni Bentley,2024-02-06 Toni Bentley a dancer for George Balanchine the greatest ballet maker of the 20th century tells the story of Serenade his iconic masterpiece and what it was like to dance and live in his world at New York City Ballet during its legendary era At age seventeen Toni Bentley was chosen by Balanchine then in his final years to join the New York City Ballet From both backstage and onstage she carries us through the serendipitous history and physical intricacies and demands of Serenade its dazzling opening with seventeen women in a double diamond pattern its radical even jazzy use of the highly refined language that is ballet its place in the choreographer s own dramatic story of his immigration to the United States from Soviet Russia its mystical and literal embodiment of the tradition of classical ballet in just thirty three minutes Bentley takes us inside the rarefied intense and thrilling world Balanchine created through his lifelong devotion to celebrating and expanding female beauty and strength a world that inevitably passed upon his death An intimate elegy to grace and loss and to the imprint of a towering artist and his transcendent creation on Bentley s own life Serenade A Balanchine Story is a rich narrative by a dynamic artist about the nature of art itself at its most ephemeral and glorious Stratosphere Troposphere Interactions K.

Mohanakumar,2008-07-03 Stratospheric processes play a significant role in regulating the weather and climate of the Earth system Solar radiation which is the primary source of energy for the tropospheric weather systems is absorbed by ozone when it passes through the stratosphere thereby modulating the solar forcing energy reaching into the troposphere The concentrations of the radiatively sensitive greenhouse gases present in the lower atmosphere such as water vapor carbon dioxide and ozone control the radiation balance of the atmosphere by the two way interaction between the stratosphere and troposphere The stratosphere is the transition region which interacts with the weather systems in the lower atmosphere and the richly ionized upper atmosphere Therefore this part of the atmosphere provides a long list of challenging scientific problems of basic nature involving its thermal structure energetics composition dynamics chemistry and modeling The lower stratosphere is very much linked dynamically radiatively and chemically with the upper troposphere even though the temperature characteristics of these regions are different The stratosphere is a region of high stability rich in ozone and poor in water vapor and temperature increases with altitude The lower stratospheric ozone absorbs the harmful ultraviolet UV radiation from the sun and protects life on the Earth On the other hand the troposphere has high concentrations of water vapor is low in ozone and temperature decreases with altitude The convective activity is more in the troposphere than in the stratosphere

Principles of Animal Biometeorology Roberto Gomes da Silva,Alex Sandro Campos Maia,2012-11-13 The book begins by describing in detail the mechanisms of energy exchange radiative convective conductive and evaporative together with techniques for their determination The discussion extends to the importance of CO<sub>2</sub> ozone and methane together with that of aerosol pollutants and the evolution of atmospheric CO<sub>2</sub> Subsequent chapters apply the results of the biophysical methods to mammals birds and aquatic animals Discussion includes problems of shelter and shade for animals in tropical environments and techniques for the thermal evaluation for shelters and for several tree types The details of heat exchange between animals and the environment are presented in separate chapters covering Mammals and Birds and Aquatic Mammals A chapter on Shade and Shelter describes the importance of shade for animals factors of shade efficiency the protections offered by shelter and methods of calculating the protection afforded by both shade and shelter A Special Methods chapter offers a variety of techniques for evaluating cutaneous and respiratory evaporation and practical methods for sampling of hairs and the evaluation of hair coat characteristics Geology and the Environment Bernard W.
