Doing Social Research Shoma Choudhury Lahiri, 2020 In an ex-colonial nation such as India, the discipline of sociology grew by absorbing multiple influences from local milieu and national concerns. Changes in disciplinary trends worldwide also influenced the ways in which sociological knowledge was produced. However, research methodology is still not considered a distinct field in Indian academia, because of which emerging issues and concerns around the methodology of sociological research or changing trends do not receive adequate attention. Doing social research tries to fill this gap by providing scholars with an introduction to a range of qualitative methods: oral history, content analysis, ethnography, life history, method narrative analysis, used to conduct research in new and emerging fields. Given the profound changes in the nature of sociology and sociological practice, the chapters present sociological research as a messy, multi-layered exercise, historically situated and dependent upon varied ideas, practices, and perspectives. The contributors make use of the historical
