Chapters in this contributed volume present both theoretical contributions and results of research carried out with students and teachers from 11 countries: Belgium, Brazil, Chile, Israel, Italy, Mexico, the Netherlands, Portugal, Spain, UK, and USA, who speak seven different languages: Portuguese, Spanish, English, Italian, French, Dutch, and Hebrew. By bringing together research developed in diverse cultural contexts, it enriches the debates in the interdisciplinary field of writing studies by analyzing a wide range of topics at the interface between research and educational implications for the teaching and learning of writing by children. The book consists of five parts, each one addressing a specific set of topics. Part I presents studies on topics related to written language representation systems, phonological and morphological awareness, and on the relationship between grammar and the quality of texts of different genres. Part II includes studies related to compositional processes of writing texts and the factors involved in these processes. Part III focuses on the difficulties faced by students during the acquisition and development of writing Part IV is dedicated to chapters that discuss and compare writing practices in different social environments Finally chapters in part V deal with teaching and learning of writing in the school setting Development of Writing Skills in Children in Diverse Cultural Contexts Contributions to Teaching and Learning will be of interest to researchers and students in the fields of psychology education and linguistics as well as to other social scientists in the broader interdisciplinary field of writing studies
