Out of Eden: The Peopling of the World Stephen Oppenheimer, 2012-03-01 In a brilliant synthesis of genetic archaeological linguistic and climatic data Oppenheimer challenges current thinking with his claim that there was only one successful migration out of Africa In 1988 Newsweek headlined the startling discovery that everyone alive on the earth today can trace their maternal DNA back to one woman who lived in Africa 150 000 years ago It was thought that modern humans populated the world through a series of migratory waves from their African homeland Now an even more radical view has emerged that the members of just one group are the ancestors of all non Africans now alive and that this group crossed the mouth of the Red Sea a mere 85 000 years ago It means that not only is every person on the planet descended from one African Eve but every non African is related to a more recent Eve from that original migratory group This is a revolutionary new theory about our origins that is both scholarly and entertaining a remarkable account of the kinship of all humans Further details of the findings in this book are presented at www.bradshawfoundation.com

Human Rights Watch/ Africa. Angola Between War and Peace Arms Trade and Human Rights Abuses Since the Lusaka Protocol , Chinese Investment in Africa David N. Abdulai,2016-11-03 China leads the world when it comes to investment and influence on the African continent The extent of Chinese investment in Africa is well known and much has been written about China s foray into Africa However most of the available material has approached this issue by looking at China as the New Colonialist more interested in Africa s vast natural resources than working in partnership for sustained development Whilst China s interest in Africa s resources is evident it is just half of the story China s foray into Africa goes beyond its appetite for natural resources and into the realm of geo politics and international political economics For example China is all too aware of how it can cultivate Africa s support on global issues at the United Nations and at other international fora Breaking free from the binary arguments and analysis which characterize this topic Professor Abdulai presents a refreshing perspective that China s foray into Africa can produce win win outcomes for China and Africa if Africans really know what they want from China Hitherto each African country has tended to engage China with an individual bucket list acting in isolation and not as part of a wider continent indeed Africa and the African Union does not yet have a coordinated policy towards China For Africa to be able to do that it needs to know where China is coming from the factors that contributed to its awakening and success and the benefits and possible pitfalls of this foray in order to better position itself for a win win engagement with China This book will be a valuable read for policy makers think tanks and students of Africa China studies programmes alike The World Looks Like This From Here Kopano Ratele,2019-09-01 Builds a compelling case for thinking and doing psychology differently in and for Africa What does the world look like from Africa What does it mean to think feel express without apology for being African How does one teach society and children to be African with full consciousness and pride In institutions of learning what would a textbook on African centred psychology look like How do researchers and practitioners engage in African social psychology African centred child development African neuropsychology or any area of psychology that situates African realities at the centre Questions such as these are what Kopano Ratele grapples with in this lyrical philosophical and poetic treatise on practising African psychology in a

decolonised world view Employing a style common in philosophy but rarely used in psychology the book offers thoughts about the ideas contestation urgency and desire around a psychological praxis in Africa for Africans While setting out a framework for researching teaching and practicing African psychology the book in part coaxes in part commands and in part urges students of psychology lecturers researchers and therapists to reconsider and reach beyond their received notions of African psychology

Don't Look Behind You! Peter Allison,2009-09-01 Incredible true tales from a world renowned safari guide and celebrated author Romantic notions aside being a safari guide isn't always particularly enjoyable or glamorous Quite often it is beset with challenges like having to spend a night in a thorn tree with marauding hyenas below But safari guide Peter Allison lives for such moments Here the author of the widely praised Whatever You Do Don't Run details his time spent in safari camps not only in Botswana but also in South Africa Mozambique and Namibia places he loves despite how much it feels like they might just be trying to kill him In Don't Look Behind You Allison recounts adventures few would live to tell Like the time he and a group of bored guides launched a makeshift raft into a foaming flooded river teeming with hippos and crocodiles Or the afternoon he heard monkeys telling him that a leopard was walking around the camp and then realized the leopard was in his tent with him in it In addition to relating his encounters with animals Allison shares the stories of those tourists who have long been pushing him toward early retirement Normally respectful of all his fellow creatures no matter how many feet they have Allison fantasizes about leaving one in particular behind on the Skeleton Coast a place that receives less than half an inch of rain a year and is patrolled by lions and hyenas Join Peter Allison for another riveting rollicking behind the scenes dose of everyone's dream experience going on safari and come through amazed but thankfully without a scratch
