Moguls Hollywoods Merchants Of Myth:

The Moguls Norman J. Zierold, 1991 Relates the story of Hollywood's founders and Golden Age powerbrokers who built the studio system and in the process created the American film Hollywood Highbrow Shyon Baumann, 2018-06-05 Today's moviegoers and critics generally consider some Hollywood products even some blockbusters to be legitimate works of art But during the first half century of motion pictures very few Americans would have thought to call an American movie art Up through the 1950s American movies were regarded as a form of popular even lower class entertainment By the 1960s and 1970s however viewers were regularly judging Hollywood films by artistic criteria previously applied only to high art forms In Hollywood Highbrow Shyon Baumann for the first time tells how social and cultural forces radically changed the public's perceptions of American movies just as those forces were radically changing the movies themselves The development in the United States of an appreciation of film as an art was Baumann shows the product of large changes in Hollywood and American society as a whole With the postwar rise of television American movie audiences shrank dramatically and Hollywood responded by appealing to richer and more educated viewers Around the same time European ideas about the director as artist an easing of censorship and the development of art house cinemas film festivals and the academic field of film studies encouraged the idea that some American movies and not just European ones deserved to be considered art

Stephens, Michael Christaldi, Marc Wanamaker, 2013 For over 100 years Paramount Pictures has been captivating movie and television audiences worldwide with its alluring imagery and compelling stories Arising from the collective genius of Adolph Zukor Jesse L Lasky and Cecil B DeMille during the 1910s Paramount Pictures is home to such enduring classics as Wings Sunset Boulevard The Ten Commandments Love Story The Godfather the Indiana Jones series Chinatown Forrest Gump Braveheart Titanic and Star Trek Early Paramount Studios chronicles Paramount's origins culminating in the creation and expansion of the lot at 5555 Melrose Avenue the last major motion picture studio still in Hollywood Never Done Erin Hill, 2016-10-05 Histories of women in Hollywood usually recount the contributions of female directors screenwriters designers actresses and other creative personnel whose names loom large in the credits Yet from its inception the American film industry relied on the labor of thousands more women workers whose vital contributions often went unrecognized Never Done introduces generations of women who worked behind the scenes in the film industry from the employees wives who hand colored the Edison Company's films frame by frame to the female immigrants who toiled in MGM's backrooms to produce beautifully beaded and embroidered costumes Challenging the dismissive characterization of these women as merely menial workers media historian Erin Hill shows how their labor was essential to the industry and required considerable technical and interpersonal skills Sketching a history of how Hollywood came to define certain occupations as lower paid women's work or feminized labor Hill also reveals how enterprising women eventually gained a foothold in more prestigious divisions like casting and publicity Poring through rare archives and integrating the firsthand accounts of women employed in the film industry the book gives a voice to women whose work was indispensable yet largely invisible As it traces this long history of women in Hollywood Never Done reveals the persistence of sexist assumptions that even today leave women in the media industry underpraised and underpaid For more information <http://erinhill.squarespace.com>

Maturi, Mary Buckingham Maturi, 1998 Before Burt Lancaster and Charlton Heston before Bogart and Gable even before Rudolph Valentino there was Francis X Bushman Named the King of the Movies at San Francisco s Panama Pacific Exposition of 1915 Bushman virtually created the Hollywood model of the male heartthrob that hundreds of others have sought to imitate over the years Born in 1883 Bushman had his first acting jobs in stock companies in his hometown of Baltimore His film career started in 1911 when he starred in a one reeler entitled His Friend s Wife Over the next seven years he became one of the top stars in movies But his divorce from his wife Josephine and subsequent remarriage to leading lady Beverly Bayne effectively ended his career He did manage a triumphant return to the big screen as Messala in Ben Hur 1926 but mostly thereafter he had smaller parts or was on stage From contemporary sources and conversations with many of Bushman s surviving relatives this is the compelling tale of one of Hollywood s first superstars and how his career laid the foundation for the matinee idols who followed The Slide Area Anthony Slide, 1992-12 The Slide Area is a monthly book review column by film historian Anthony Slide which has appeared in Classic Images since January 1989 This anthology collects over 300 reviews published in the column through December 1991 For each book the reviewer provides bibliographic data information as to content and his own inimitable commentary which combines both a thorough knowledge of the subject to hand and an understanding of each title s relative merit Lillian Gish has called Slide Our preeminent historian of the silent film era and the Los Angeles Times has described him as a one
