Owls Do Cry The Pocket Mirror An Angel A:

Owls Do Cry Janet Frame, 1994 Wrestling with the Angel Michael King, 2002-03-07 Janet Frame born in 1924 is New Zealand's most celebrated and least public author Her early life in small South Island towns seemed at times engulfed in a tide of doom one brother still born another epileptic two sisters dead of heart failure while swimming Frame herself committed to mental hospitals for the best part of a decade Later her surviving sister was temporarily felled in adulthood by a stroke an uncle cut his throat and a cousin shot his lover his lover's parents and then himself This then is an inspiring biography of a woman who climbed out of an abyss of unhappiness to take control of her life and become one of the great writers of her time And to enable her biographer to write this book scrupulously and honestly Janet Frame spoke for the first time about her whole life She also made available her personal papers and directed her family and friends to be equally communicative The result is a biography of astonishing intimacy and frankness written by multi award winning author Dr Michael King Janet Frame in Focus Josephine A. McQuail, 2018-01-26 New Zealand author Janet Frame 1924 2004 during her lifetime published 11 novels three collections of short stories a volume of poetry and a children's book The details of her life her tragic early years her confinement in a psychiatric hospital and her miraculous reprieve overshadow her work and she remains largely neglected by scholars These essays focus on Frame's autobiography short stories and novels Contributors from around the world explore a range of topics including her mother's Christadelphian faith her relationships with two 20th century icons William Theophilus Brown and John Money and a view of Frame in the context of trauma studies Two of the essays were presented at the 2014 Northeast Modern Language Association convention Janet Frame Claire Bazin, 2011 Claire Bazin explores the extraordinary life of Janet Frame and highlights the author's significant contribution to postcolonial and gender studies Staying Home and Being Rotten Shonagh Koea, 1992-01-01 This novel is a compelling black comedy of manners and relationships When the parcel first reaches Rosalind's mail box she is unable to take it out or even to contemplate opening it It throws her into a series of painful recollections and comic tragic events which gradually reveal the nature of the unfortunate experience she has undergone and eventually leads to an unexpected and for the reader superbly satisfying resolution of her pain and distress The novel combines the robust good humour of Henry Fielding with the sensitivities of Jane Austen and the satirical playfulness of Evelyn Waugh This delightful combination produces a black comedy of manners which once taken up can't be put down This is not merely a good book but a work of brilliance It establishes Shonagh Koea as a leading New Zealand novelist and a writer of international significance Alistair Paterson

The Janet Frame Reader Janet Frame, 1995 Extracts from her fiction autobiography poetry and prose Back cover

Dangerous Writing Carmen Luz Fuentes-Vásquez, 2013 This book examines the literary construction of personal identity through autobiographical narratives by three significant writers analysed together for the first time the Scottish Willa Muir 1890 1970 the Canadian Margaret Laurence 1926 1987 and the New Zealander Janet Frame 1924 2004 These apparently dissimilar authors suffered not only geographical but also political marginality they were women from the working class or struggling middle class striving to be considered as professional writers and emerging from countries that might be felt to be under the shadows of economic and political world powers such as England and the United States During their lifetimes they exerted themselves to overcome prejudices about class gender and ethnicity They experienced war and the post war era and lived through most of the twentieth century being accurate witnesses and critics of their times As it discusses major writers who are iconic for the development of the literatures of their respective countries this book also attracts readers who are interested in learning more about the lives of these remarkable women the way their socio historical and geographical circumstances affected their writing and how they expressed such concerns in their autobiographies and other fictional and non fictional works besides considering them in relation to contemporary women writers and autobiographers who underwent similar experiences
