Scholarship and Christian Faith Douglas Jacobsen, Rhonda Hustedt Jacobsen, 2004-04-08 This book enters a lively discussion about religious faith and higher education in America that has been going on for a decade or more During this time many scholars have joined the debate about how best to understand the role of faith in the academy at large and in the special arena of church related Christian higher education The notion of faith informed scholarship has of course figured prominently in this conversation But argue Douglas and Rhonda Jacobsen the idea of Christian scholarship itself has been remarkably under discussed Most of the literature has assumed a definition of Christian scholarship that is Reformed and evangelical in orientation a model associated with the phrase the integration of faith and learning The authors offer a new definition and analysis of Christian scholarship that respects the insights of different Christian traditions e g Catholic Lutheran Anabaptist Wesleyan Pentecostal and that applies to the arts and to professional studies as much as it does to the humanities and the natural and social sciences The book itself is organized as a conversation Five chapters by the Jacobsens alternate with four contributed essays that sharpen illustrate or complicate the material in the preceding chapters The goal is both to map the complex terrain of Christian scholarship as it actually exists and to help foster better connections between Christian scholars of differing persuasions and between Christians and the academy as a whole

The Rhetoric of RHETORIC Wayne C. Booth, 2009-02-09 In this manifesto distinguished critic Wayne Booth claims that communication in every corner of life can be improved if we study rhetoric closely Written by Wayne Booth author of the seminal book The Rhetoric of Fiction 1961 Explores the consequences of bad rhetoric in Jackson,2024-11-04 This book brings Maximus the Confessor s logoi doctrine into dialogue with modern day evolutionary biology It explores the extent to which the logoi as described by Maximus exhibit features that are concordant with evolution before going on to consider more discordant aspects that cannot be ignored The author addresses the curious resonance between the logoi and evolution in a systematic way through a close reading of primary textual material allied with a deep understanding of both the classical Darwinian and extended evolutionary syntheses The study joins with other Maximian interpreters in attesting to the incarnational and theophanic nature of the logoi but seeks to extend this distinctively Eastern Christo cosmology into the problematic territory of biological evolution a territory historically dominated by Western scholarship The book will be of interest to scholars of religion and science as well as Patristics and the Eastern Orthodox theological traditions Evolution and Emergence William R. Stoeger,2007-04-05 A collection of essays by experts in the field exploring how nature works at every level to produce more complex and highly organized objects systems and organisms from much simpler components and how our increasing understanding of this universal phenomenon of emergence can lead us to a deeper and richer appreciation of who we are as human beings and of our relationship to God Several chapters introduce the key philosophical ideas about reductionism and emergence while others explore the fascinating world of emergent phenomena in physics biology and the neurosciences Finally there are contributions probing the meaning and significance of these findings for our general description of the world and ourselves in relation to God from philosophy and theology The collection as a whole will extend the mutual creative interaction among the sciences philosophy and theology

From Passions to Emotions Thomas Dixon,2003-06-05 Today there is a thriving emotions industry to which philosophers psychologists and neuroscientists are contributing Yet until two centuries ago the emotions did not exist In this path breaking study Thomas Dixon shows how during the nineteenth century the emotions came into being as a distinct psychological category replacing existing categories such as appetites passions sentiments and affections By examining medieval and eighteenth century theological psychologies and placing Charles Darwin and William James within a broader and more complex nineteenth century setting Thomas Dixon argues that this domination by one single descriptive category is not healthy Overinclusivity of the emotions hampers attempts to argue with any subtlety about the enormous range of mental states and stances of which humans are capable This book is an important contribution to the debate about emotion and rationality which has preoccupied western thinkers throughout the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries and has implications for contemporary debates

The Entangled Trinity Ernest L. Simmons,2014 The Doctrine of the Trinity is an exercise in wonder It is drawn from the wonder of our own existence and the diverse experiences of the divine encountered by the early Christian community From the earliest days of Christianity theologians of the church have drawn upon the most sophisticated language and understandings of their time in an attempt to clarify and express that faith In this volume Ernest Simmons ssks what the current scientific understanding of the natural world might contribute to our reflection upon the relationship of God and the world in a Triune fashion

The Power of Paradox: Impossible Conversations Markus Locker,2019-05-07 This book argues that all truths systems include paradoxes Paradoxes such as found in the sciences philosophy and religion offer themselves as mutually shared partners in a dialogue of arguably incommensurable truths on the basis of their underlying truth Paradoxes leap beyond the epistemic border of individual truth claims A dialogue of truths grounded in paradox reaches before and at the same time past singular truths A paradox based dialogue of truths elevates the communication of disciplines such as the sciences and religion to a meta discourse level from which differences are not perceived as obstacles for dialogue but as complementary aspects of a deeper and fuller truth in which all truths are grounded

Being Religious Mladen Turk,2013-07-12 What makes us religious What is religion This book presents relevant research and theoretical proposals for evolutionary theories of religion and socially and ecologically adaptive theories of religion Most attempts to study religious behaviors through evolutionary biology and related disciplines are still very fragmentary Mladen Turk brings those theoretical approaches in dialogue with religious studies and theology through interpretation and critique that centers on revealing hidden theological assumptions and interpreting theoretical leaps of those approaches to religion In Being Religious Turk expounds understanding of religion as a complex interplay of various capacities arising from and influencing our biological and cultural makeup Our religious behaviors can influence our relationship towards each other and towards our environment in significant ways He shows how some aspects of complex religious behaviors can be understood better in light of human cognition and evolutionary biology At the same time he interprets this knowledge as being preliminary and at times inadequate in its claims of completeness and exhaustiveness because religious behaviors are niched within other religious behaviors and dependent on factors that various mono causal theoretical approaches cannot fully conceptualize
