Prayers of Jewish Women Markus H. McDowell, 2006 Markus McDowell examines how the literature of the Second Temple period portrays women at prayer through an examination of the literary context and character of those prayers The goal of this work is a greater understanding of how women were portrayed in literary sources and an offering of some fresh insights for the study of women's religious and social roles in the ancient world The texts are analyzed and categorized within five areas social location content form occasion and gender perspective The prayers are also compared and contrasted with men's prayers in the same sources The analysis includes locating as much as possible the historical literary and cultic context of each document in which these prayers appear By examining all prayers in these texts uttered by women not just prayers of named or prominent women and then comparing them with all the prayers of men in those same texts certain patterns appear This study adds to our knowledge of women and religion in Second Temple Judaism by primarily exploring patterns that appear among the prayers in the literature of the Second Temple period While there are fewer prayers by women than men in this literature the prayers of women are not portrayed as significantly different from those of men in terms of social location content form or occasion At the same time the prayers of women exhibit other patterns of language and in a minor way form and occasion that differ from the prayers of men

Changing Our Minds Susan Hardy Aiken, Karen Anderson, Myra Dinnerstein, Judy N. Temple, 1988-01-01 What happens when traditionally trained academics begin to reconsider their disciplines in light of recent feminist scholarship This book was written by academics outside Women s Studies programs who have changed their minds about the foundations of their disciplines The authors share a commitment to explore the cultural construction of gender and the gendered construction of culture Each chapter simultaneously examines and exemplifies the transformation of knowledge that resulted from their intensive study of feminist scholarship Taken together they not only demonstrate some of the range variety and intellectual vigor possible in discipline specific reformulations but also participate in the kind of trans disciplinary thinking characteristic of the philosophy of Women s Studies from its inception In the concluding chapter the editors consider how efforts to transform traditional ways of knowing are inflected and infected by the politics of gender within academics

Regional, Critical, and Historical Approaches Peter Antes, Armin W. Geertz, Randi R. Warne, 2008-12-19 Internationally recognized scholars from many parts of the world provide a critical survey of recent developments and achievements in the global field of religious studies The work follows in the footsteps of two former publications Classical Approaches to the Study of Religion edited by Jacques Waardenburg 1973 and Contemporary Approaches to the Study of Religion edited by Frank Whaling 1984 85 New Approaches to the Study of Religion completes the survey of the comparative study of religion in the twentieth century by focussing on the past two decades Many of the chapters however are also pathbreaking and point the way to future approaches The Passion of Anne Hutchinson Marilyn J. Westerkamp, 2021-06-03 When English colonizers landed in New England in 1630 they constructed a godly commonwealth according to precepts gleaned from Scripture For these Puritan Christians religion both provided the center and defined the margins of existence While some Puritans were called to exercise power as magistrates and ministers and many more as husbands and fathers women were universally called to subject themselves to the authority of others Their God was a God of order and out of their religious convictions and experiences Puritan leaders found a divine mandate for a firm clear hierarchy Yet not all lives were overwhelmed other religious voices made themselves heard and inspired voices that defied that hierarchy Gifted with an extraordinary mind an intense spiritual passion and an awesome charisma Anne Hutchinson arrived in Massachusetts in 1634 and established herself as a leader of women She held private religious meetings in her home and later began to deliver her own sermons She inspired a large number of disciples who challenged the colony's political social and ideological foundations and scarcely three years after her arrival Hutchinson was recognized as the primary disrupter of consensus and order she was then banished as a heretic Anne Hutchinson deeply centered in her spirituality heard in the word of God an imperative to ignore and move beyond the socially prescribed boundaries placed around women The Passion of Anne Hutchinson examines issues of gender patriarchal order and empowerment in Puritan society through the story of a woman who sought to preach inspire and disrupt

The Generation of Identity in Late Medieval Hagiography Gail Ashton, 2012-09-10 In this interdisciplinary and boundary breaking study Gail Ashton examines the portrayals of women saints in a wide range of medieval texts She deploys the French feminist critical theory of Cixous and Irigaray to illuminate these depictions of women by men and to further our understanding of both the lives and deeds of female saints and the contemporary and almost always male attitudes to them
