Hull Siebren Miedema, 2009 This volume is a tribute to our esteemed colleague Professor John Martin Hull for his exceptional academic achievements in the field of religious education Especially worth mentioning are his worldwide continuous efforts in trying to realize interreligious education and interreligious learning in public schools In his approach there is a strong emphasis on openness dialogue and encounter When we are looking for an adequate vignette to characterize the contribution of this famous religious educator a good one might be religious education as encounter That is why this volume is systematically focusing on this topic It brings together contributions from leading researchers in the international field of religious education adhering to a great variety of religious or worldview traditions and it addresses a wide range of perspectives regarding the concept of encounter in religious education Living Spiritual Praxis Eric J. Obedience, Suspicion and the Gospel of Mark Lydia Neufeld Harder, 2006-01-01 How do our social political and religious commitments influence our interpretation of biblical texts Are obedience and suspicion necessarily opposite ways to respond to the authority of the Bible Can one criticize and be transformed at the same time Lydia Neufeld Harder explores these questions from the vantage point of a scholar a feminist and a member of a faith community A hermeneutics of obedience rising out of the Mennonite theological tradition and a hermeneutics of suspicion advocated by many feminist theologians seem to represent opposite approaches to the Bible's authority The resulting polarization could easily have led to static definitions of authority and the subtle domination of those who differ from the majority However by focusing on the common theological concept of discipleship Harder has constructed a critical dialogue beginning a process of creative change in her own view of authority This new view opens the way for an interpretation of the Gospel of Mark A new appreciation of both the power and the vulnerability of the biblical text leads to a view of authority that embraces both suspicion and obedience in a dynamic interpretative process
