Remarks and Inventions Rodney Needham, 2013-11-05 This volume scrutinizes the questions of conceptualization method and history in the fields of kinship social anthropology and structuralism It puts forward a radical revision of the conventional approaches and criteria Exploring analysis and method in the disparity between relative age and kinship categories as means of social classification the book makes theoretical readjustments largely inspired by the precepts of Wittgenstein Originally published in 1971 Review of Remarks and Inventions Lee Sackett, 1976 Remarks and Inventions Rodney Needham, 2013-11-05 This volume scrutinizes the questions of conceptualization method and history in the fields of kinship social anthropology and structuralism It puts forward a radical revision of the conventional approaches and criteria Exploring analysis and method in the disparity between relative age and kinship categories as means of social classification the book makes theoretical readjustments largely inspired by the precepts of Wittgenstein Originally published in 1971 The Ethics of Kinship James Faubion, 2001-12-13 What need is there for kinship What good is it anyway The questions are as old as anthropology itself but few answers have been enduringly persuasive Kinship systems can contribute to our enslavement but more often they permit channel and facilitate our relations with others and our further fashioning of ourselves as kin but also as subjects of other kinds When they do they are among the matrices of our lives as ethical beings Each contributor to this innovative book treats his or her own alterity as the touchstone of the exploration of an ethnographically and historically specific ethics of kinship Together the chapters reveal the irreducible complexity of the entanglement of the subject of kinship with the subject of nation class ethnicity gender desire The chapters speak eloquently to the sometimes liberating stories that we cannot help but keep telling about our kin and ourselves Anthropological Perspectives On Kinship Ladislav Holy, 1996-10-20 This authoritative introductory text takes into account the changes in the conceptualisation of kinship brought about by new reproductive technologies and the growing interest in culturally specific notions of personhood and gender Holy considers the extent to which Western assumptions have guided anthropological study of kinship in the past In the process he reveals a growing sensitivity on the part of anthropologists to individual ideas of personhood and gender and encourages further critical reflection on cultural bias in approaches to the subject Kinship Ideology and Practice in Latin America Raymond Thomas Smith, 1984 In this volume an international group of anthropologists and historians examines the complex relationships between family life culture and economic change in Latin America and the Caribbean Dissatisfied with interpretations based on European experience Landmarks Andrew Strathern, 1993 Landmarks addresses a wide range of questions relevant to the recent history of anthropology and its importance to contemporary issues These questions include the significance of anthropology for Third World studies the debate on whether anthropology is a scientific or a humanistic subject anthropology as a means of reflecting on ourselves as well as others and the criticisms of anthropological work that have emerged out of postmodernism Drawing on his research findings in Papua New Guinea since 1964 and his more recent work on the cross cultural study of medicine the author examines the extent to which we can achieve understanding between different cultures and the relative merits of approaches that stress indigenous categories or those of the observer He concludes that the discipline now requires reconstruction rather than deconstruction and advances the call for holistic models of human behavior which reconceptualize the relationship between body and mind

Anthropology and Theology Douglas Davies, 2020-05-18 Anthropology and Christian Theology have traditionally interpreted religion in quite different ways and have often been thought of as hostile to one another In fact a fundamental concern for human experience lies at the heart of both disciplines This innovative book takes a new look at key anthropological and theological themes and explores the intricacies of their interplay throughout history and in the present Sacrifice embodiment ritual incarnation symbolism gift and power are all related in ways that shed new light on religious behaviour and belief Detailed analysis of fundamental Christian rites shows how they help generate emotional meaning and inspire philosophical ideas and demonstrates how the body serves as a vehicle for religious beliefs Through an examination of these issues and much more Davies reveals how religious rituals help people to become secure in their sense of identity This accessible foray into new territory is essential reading for anthropologists theologians or anyone interested in religion who is seeking new interpretations of familiar themes

First In Their Field Julie Marcus, 2014-03-07 The image of early women anthropologists in Australia has been one of Daisy Bates seated in the middle of nowhere recording the habits and customs of a dying race A harmless eccentric or a serious pioneer of field anthropology When anthropology began as a serious academic discipline in Sydney in the 1920s its lecturers and theoreticians were male Yet much of the fieldwork and research was carried out by women whose contribution remains marginalised or omitted from the history of anthropology In First in their Field seven distinguished women writers look at the way those remarkable women worked their difficulties and their hopes This volume documenting their courage and determination is long overdue

Inconceivable Conceptions Jane Haynes, Juliet Miller, 2004-03-01 It is over two decades since the first test tube baby was born During this period a new belief that all infertile women can now have babies has become widely accepted indeed infertile couples may feel great pressure to seek a medical solution However the psychological and social effects of the changing experiences of infertility remain confusing both for those who experience infertility and for wider society In this book a distinguished range of contributors including novelist Hilary Mantel and Germaine Greer examine the experience of infertility from both male and female perspectives the psychological aspects of infertility diagnosis and treatment and the often radical and unexpected effects on kinship Drawing from a wide range of theoretical backgrounds including Jungian analytical and compelling personal reflections this book aims to unravel the implications of advancing reproductive technology for our understanding of ourselves and our families

Circumstantial Deliveries Rodney Needham, 2024-06-04 This simulating book gathers five lectures that ask questions of the broadest general intellectual interest What is religion Do other peoples have the same emotional states as we do Why do humans make use of body imagery In Circumstantial Deliveries Rodney Needham shows that the comparative study of societies may furnish the answers Circumstantial Deliveries challenges the methodology and substance of many conventional ideas about human nature and calls for more radical and comparative analyses For instance the author discredits the notion that to primitive peoples the colors red white and black symbolize blood semen and feces respectively arguing that an extensive comparative study of primitive societies discovered no such relationship These essays sound a common theme If a deeper appreciation of the value of life can be had from reading Crime and Punishment or if a more acute assessment of the springs of action can be acquired from Hamlet then in principle it should be conceded that like benefits may be derived from a sympathetic observation of other men engaged in their daily affairs This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1981

Tennekes, 2012-12-11 An Introduction to Theory in Anthropology Robert Layton, 1997 In this innovative introduction Robert Layton reviews the ideas that have inspired anthropologists in their studies of societies around the world An Introduction to Theory in Anthropology provides a clear and concise analysis of the theories and traces the way in which they have been translated into anthropological debates The opening chapter sets out the classical theoretical issues formulated by Hobbes Rousseau Marx and Durkheim Successive chapters discuss Functionalism Structuralism Interactionist theories and Marxist anthropology while the final chapters address the competing paradigms of Socioecology and Postmodernism Using detailed case studies Professor Layton illustrates the way in which various theoretical perspectives have shaped competing or complementary accounts of specific human societies

Anthropology and Politics Joan Vincent,2022-08-16 In considering how anthropologists have chosen to look at and write about politics Joan Vincent contends that the anthropological study of politics is itself a historical process Intended not only as a representation but also as a reinterpretation her study arises from questioning accepted views and unexamined assumptions This wide ranging cross disciplinary work is a critical review of the anthropological study of politics in the English speaking world from 1879 to the present a counterpoint of text and context that describes for each of three eras both what anthropologists have said about politics and the national and international events that have shaped their interests and concerns It is also an account of how intellectual social and political conditions influenced the discipline by conditioning both anthropological inquiry and the avenues of research supported by universities and governments Finally it is a study of the politics of anthropology itself examining the survival of theses or schools of thought and the influence of certain individuals and departments

Payback G. W. Trompf,1994-07-14 In this ambitious study the first monograph on religion and the logic of retribution Professor Trompf shows how various aspects of payback both negative and positive provide the best indices to an understanding of Melanesian views of life The book explores the reasons why people pay back and opens up a whole new dimension in the cross cultural study of human consciousness The author conducts his readers through the most complex anthropological pageant on earth illustrating his arguments from western New Guinea to Fiji
