Rhetorical Adaptation in the Greek Historians, Josephus, and Acts vol.I John M. Duncan,2022-10-24 Greco Roman rhetorical theorists insist that speakers must adapt their speeches to their audiences in order to maximize persuasiveness and minimize alienation Ancient historians adorn their narratives with accounts of attempts at such rhetorical adaptation the outcomes of which decisively impact the subsequent course of events These depictions of speaker audience interactions moreover convey crucial didactic persuasive insights to the historians own audiences This monograph presents a detailed comparative analysis of the intra and extra textual functions of speeches and audience responses in Greek historiography

Josephus and Acts with special emphasis on Luke's distinctive depiction of the apostles as adaptable yet frequently alienating orators This is volume I of a set of two volumes The History of Rhetoric and the Rhetoric of History Nancy S.

Struever, 2023-05-31 In the articles collected here Nancy Struever explores the basic assumption that rhetoric is not simply a bag of persuasive tricks but functions necessarily as a mode of inquiry investigating not simply the mechanics of production and reception of discourse but the psychological factors of reason and passion engaged by the assertion modification and contest of beliefs and dispositions of the civil communities The first section looks both at contemporary historians employing rhetorical constructs and tactics and at contemporary accounts of the employment of rhetorical pedagogical material and theoretical texts in medieval and Renaissance cultural practices The second set of articles considers change and continuity in the rhetorical exploitation of genre forms in cultural programs focuses on the strong reorientation of Classical forms of moral inquiry on the ingenious use of the proverb of etymology of the exemplum as well as on the changes in strategies in the theater the novel and art criticism The final section deals with the strong historical interconnections of rhetoric with other disciplines the motives and investigative tactics of medicine and rhetoric in the Renaissance and Early Modernity and the shared interests and interwoven careers of rhetoric and law Acts: An Exegetical Commentary : Volume 4 Craig S.

Keener, 2015-10-06 Highly respected New Testament scholar Craig Keener is known for his meticulous and comprehensive research This commentary on Acts his magnum opus may be the largest and most thoroughly documented Acts commentary ever written Useful not only for the study of Acts but also early Christianity this work sets Acts in its first century context In this volume the last of four Keener finishes his detailed exegesis of Acts utilizing an unparalleled range of ancient sources and offering a wealth of fresh insights This magisterial commentary will be an invaluable resource for New Testament professors and students pastors Acts scholars and libraries The complete four volume set is available at a special price

Averroes' Middle Commentary on Aristotle's Rhetoric Averroës, 2023-04-03 This Arabic English translation of The Middle Commentary of Ibn Rushd known in the West as Averroes on Aristotle's Rhetoric makes available to English speaking scholars and students of rhetoric for the first time one of the most significant medieval Arabic commentaries on Aristotle's famous rhetorical treatise Speech, Print and Decorum in Britain, 1600--1750 Elspeth Jajdelska, 2016-03-10 Filling an important gap in the history of print and reading Elspeth Jajdelska offers a new account of the changing relationship between speech rank and writing from 1600 to 1750 Jajdelska draws on anthropological findings to shed light on the different ways that speech was understood to relate to writing across the period bringing together status and speech literary and verbal decorum readership the material text and performance Jajdelska's ambitious array of sources includes letters diaries paratexts and genres from cookery books to philosophical discourses She looks at authors ranging from John Donne to Jonathan Swift alongside the writings of anonymous merchants apothecaries and romance authors Jajdelska argues that Renaissance readers were likely to approach written and printed documents less as utterances in their own right and more as representations of past speech or as scripts for future speech In the latter part of the seventeenth century however some readers were treating books as proxies for the author's speech rather than as representations of it These adjustments in the way speech and print were understood had implications for changes in decorum as the inhibitions placed on lower ranking authors in the Renaissance gave way to increasingly open social networks at the start of the eighteenth century As a result authors from the lower ranks could now publish on topics formerly reserved for the more privileged While this apparently egalitarian development did not result in imagined communities that transcended class readers of all ranks did encounter new models of reading and writing and were empowered to engage legitimately in the gentlemanly criticism that had once been the reserve of the cultural elites Shortlisted for the European Society for the Study of English ESSE book prize 2018

A Short History of Writing Instruction James J. Murphy, 2012-05-04 Short enough to be synoptic yet long enough to be usefully detailed A Short History of Writing Instruction is the ideal text for undergraduate courses and graduate seminars in rhetoric and composition It preserves the legacy of writing instruction from antiquity to contemporary times with a unique focus on the material educational and institutional context of the Western rhetorical tradition Its longitudinal approach enables students to track the recurrence over time of not only specific teaching methods but also major issues such as social purpose writing as power the effect of technologies the rise of vernaculars and writing as a force for democratization The collection is rich in scholarship and critical perspectives which is made accessible through the robust list of pedagogical tools included such as the Key Concepts listed at the beginning of each chapter and the Glossary of Key Terms and Bibliography for Further Study provided at the end of the text Further additions include increased attention to orthography or the physical aspects of the writing process new material on high school instruction sections on writing in the electronic age and increased coverage of women rhetoricians and writing instruction of women A new chapter on writing instruction in Late Medieval Europe was also added to augment coverage of the Middle Ages fill the gap in students knowledge of the period and present instructional methods that can be easily reproduced in the modern classroom      Sea Voyages and Beyond Vernon K. Robbins,2018-09-14 Explore insights methodologies and advances in socio rhetorical interpretation Essays in this volume from Vernon K Robbins merge social and rhetorical strategies of interpretation and set the stage for how socio rhetorical interpretation has developed in the context of research into the rhetoric of religious antiquity This book contains By Land and By Sea The We Passages and Ancient Sea Voyages 1978 which initially received widespread praise and then became an object of significant criticism The volume includes Robbins s varied detailed responses to both encouragement and critique of his approach Features Introduction to the collection by David B Gowler Twelve essays that programmatically study early Christian texts using resources from the social sciences Reflections on the future of socio rhetorical criticism      Text Messages John Tucker,2017-12-06 Facebook Twitter Snapchat We live in a rapidly changing world a world that seems to be increasingly inhospitable toward preaching In the face of digital technology social media cultural pluralism and pastoral burnout how can Christian preachers proclaim the gospel faithfully and effectively This book answers that question by bringing together a selection of important voices from across North America Asia and the Pacific It argues that Spirit empowered preaching is characterized by five attributes it opens the Scriptures engages the culture addresses the listener dissects the preacher and elevates the Savior With contributions from authors like William Willimon Darrell Johnson Lynne Baab Robert Smith Jr and Paul Windsor this is an excellent resource for ordained ministers lay preachers theological students and anyone wrestling with the challenge of preaching God s word in a smartphone world      Paul de Man Martin McQuillan,2001 Paul de Man s work is key to the American deconstruction movement and to the so called political turn in critical theory Seventeen years after his death his works continue to arouse violent reactions among critics This book explains why de Man is such an important voice detailing his critical position exploring his intellectual and historical contexts tracing the influence of his work and enabling readers to undertake independent study of his criticism      The Oxford History of Classical Reception in English Literature Rita Copeland,2016-01-28 The Oxford History of Classical Reception in English Literature OHCREL is designed to offer a comprehensive investigation of the numerous and diverse ways in which literary texts of the classical world have stimulated responses and refashioning by English writers Covering the full range of English literature from the early Middle Ages to the present day OHCREL both synthesizes existing scholarship and presents cutting edge new research employing an international team of expert contributors for each of the five volumes OHCREL endeavours to interrogate rather than inertly reiterate conventional assumptions about literary periods the processes of canon formation and the relations between literary and non literary discourse It conceives of reception as a complex process of dialogic exchange and rather than offering large cultural generalizations it engages in close critical analysis of literary texts It explores in detail the ways in which English writers engagement with classical literature casts as much light on the classical originals as it does on the English writers own cultural context This first volume and fourth to appear in the series covers the years c 800 1558 and surveys the reception and transformation of classical literary culture in England from the Anglo Saxon period up to the Henrician era Chapters on the classics in the medieval curriculum the trivium and quadrivium medieval libraries and medieval mythography provide context for medieval reception The reception of specific classical authors and traditions is represented in chapters on Virgil Ovid Lucan Statius the matter of Troy Boethius moral philosophy historiography biblical epics English learning in the twelfth century and the role of antiquity in medieval alliterative poetry The medieval section includes coverage of Chaucer Gower and Lydgate while the part of the volume dedicated to the later period explores early English humanism humanist education and libraries in the Henrician era and includes chapters that focus on the classicism of Skelton Douglas Wyatt and Surrey
