Remembering Africa:

Remembering Africa M. Elisabeth Mudimbe-boyi, 2002 This collection of essays is concerned less with the representation of Africa than with the memory of the continent Remembering Africa and Its Diasporas Audra Dipse, David Vincent Trotman, 2012 Remembering Africa and its Diasporas is a collection of essays concerned with the construction of memories and public histories It also explores the various dynamics that have shaped the way in which Africa and its diasporas have been viewed and chronicled outside of academia The chapters focus on how public perception are used both within Africa and within numerous African diasporas The essays are written by a broad range of authors from around the globe and discuss diasporas in Latin and North America as well as the Caribbean Forgotten Africa Graham Connah, 2004-08-19 Forgotten Africa introduces the general reader and beginning student to Africa's past emphasizing those aspects only known or best known from archaeological and related evidence It covers four million years of history across the continent examining important aspects of Africa's momentous human story Graham Connah is concerned to raise public awareness both inside and outside Africa to this frequently overlooked and often forgotten subject Forgotten Africa examines human origins the material culture of hunter gatherers the beginnings of African farming the development of metallurgy the emergence of distinctive artistic traditions the growth of cities and states the expansion of trading networks the impact of European and other external contacts The result is a fascinating and important story told in a straightforward and readable manner

Africa Air University (U.S.). Library, 1993 Remembering Africa Jo Paroz, 2005-03-17 After a 30 year career in New Mexico it was time for a change but what to do next That was the dilemma Jo was seeking something unknown and unnamed until she found her way to Africa a place where she could live out her dream of adventure and travel Remembering Africa Moments in Time is the author's memoir of the two years she lived in Dar es Salaam Tanzania while teaching at an International School with students and teachers from many different countries Through her personal stories she portrays both the humor and struggle of daily life in Dar and working at the International School there She provides a window for the reader to share her travel adventures to the exotic island of Zanzibar the Seychelles Zimbabwe Ethiopia Namibia and safari adventures into the Serengeti Ngorongoro Crater etc Jo was enchanted with the land and people of this amazing continent and she recorded events from those memorable years in a journal When she returned to the states the memories of her life in Africa lingered and begged to be shared Remembering Africa had to be written The poem Moments in Time written by Jo was inspired by her experiences while living and working in Dar es Salaam Tanzania Talking to the Dead LeRhonda S. Manigault-Bryant, 2014-05-14 Talking to the Dead is an ethnography of seven Gullah Geechee women from the South Carolina lowcountry These women communicate with their ancestors through dreams prayer and visions and traditional crafts and customs such as storytelling basket making and ecstatic singing in their churches Like other Gullah Geechee women of the South Carolina and Georgia coasts these women through their active communication with the deceased make choices and receive guidance about how to live out their faith and engage with the living LeRhonda S Manigault Bryant emphasizes that this communication affirms the women s spiritual faith which seamlessly integrates Christian and folk traditions and reinforces their position as powerful culture keepers within Gullah Geechee society By looking in depth at this long standing spiritual practice Manigault Bryant highlights the subversive ingenuity that lowcountry inhabitants use to thrive spiritually and to maintain a sense of continuity with the past

South Africa's Struggle to Remember Kim Wale,2016-04-14 Transitional justice studies typically focuses on how nations remember face and deal with histories of past violence This book however shifts the frame from national discourses of transitional justice onto local memory actors who attempt to engage with these broader systems of meaning from below The case study is based on the memory struggles of individuals and groups who are attempting to gain access to the discourses and benefits associated with dominant memory identities of victim and veteran in the context of post transition South Africa They share a common history of squatter resistance in the Western Cape in the 1980s and a common struggle for inclusion in dominant memory frameworks The main theme of this book is the politics of memory as it relates to the conversation between national and local memory Integrated within this theme is the further theme of alternative histories and counter memories of struggle from below In focusing on counter memories of violence and transition this book aims to tell a different version of South African liberation history in relation to the dominant narrative It analyses local memory actors attempts to bring their lived histories into conversation with national discourses of reconciliation and the national liberation struggle In doing so it unpacks a memory paradox occurring within these narratives which highlights the politics of inclusion and exclusion within the frames of transitional justice knowledge On the one hand this alternate story exposes the paradox between local and national memory while on the other hand it brings into focus the local experience of the intersection between international transitional justice discourses and national transition politics This book will be of local and international interest to scholars and students in the field of transitional justice memory politics national liberation struggle and South African historiography It will also be of interest to a broader South Africa public as it offers a deeper understanding of South Africa s history which challenges taken for granted transitional justice frames of knowledge

Concepts of Cabralism Reiland Rabaka,2014-07-16 By examining Amilcar Cabral s theories and praxes as well as several of the antecedents and major influences on the evolution of his radical politics and critical social theory Concepts of Cabralism Amilcar Cabral and Africana Critical Theory simultaneously reintroduces chronicles and analyzes several of the core characteristics of the Africana tradition of critical theory Reiland Rabaka s primary preoccupation is with Cabral s theoretical and political legacies that is to say with the ways in which he constructed deconstructed and reconstructed theory and the aims objectives and concrete outcomes of his theoretical applications and discursive practices The book begins with the Negritude Movement and specifically the work of L opold Senghor Aim C saire and Jean Paul Sartre Next it shifts the focus to Frantz Fanon s discourse on radical disalienation and revolutionary decolonization Finally it offers an extended engagement of Cabral s critical theory and contributions to the Africana tradition of critical theory Ultimately Concepts of Cabralism chronicles and critiques revisits and revises the black radical tradition with an eye toward the ways in which classical black radicalism informs or should inform not only contemporary black radicalism African nationalism and Pan Africanism but also contemporary efforts to create a new anti racist anti sexist anti capitalist anti colonialist and anti imperialist critical theory of contemporary society what has come to be called Africana critical theory

Political Development and the New Realism in Sub-Saharan Africa David Ernest Apter, Carl Gustav Rosberg, 1994 Since the 1950s David Apter and Carl Rosenberg have been among the leading American scholars in African Studies In this volume they along with other major specialists in the field explore the new configurations of African politics With tentative efforts at a revival of democracy now taking place it seems appropriate to reassess the theoretical debates and empirical themes that have characterized postwar Sub Saharan African politics Focusing on new realism that has emerged among Africanists since the dismantling of colonial rule the essays are presented as a corrective both to the initial euphoria informing African studies and to the later tendency to place blame for all Africa s political and economic difficulties on the receding specter of colonial oppression

Re-Reading Tragic Africa Amy Rushton, 2024-05-31 Grounded in world systemic analysis this book revisits the literary and social implications of tragedy in relation to global narratives about Africa and within fiction by writers from the continent It argues that working through the full complexity of tragedy helps to identify and challenge plots that depict Africa as reaching a tragic impasse Instead reconsidering tragedy allows for further related interventions including the implications of narratives of development the argument for formally engaging with literary texts that present challenging material reformulations of African political and cultural agency and the possibilities to be found in utopian thinking It claims that contemporary fiction helps to scrutinise the familiar big picture of Africa and create space for discussions about wider political and historical commonalities between the continent and the rest of the world As such the novels discussed in this study are not simply about Africa these fictional narratives position Africa as a central actor within the global history of late capitalism

Africana Critical Theory Reiland Rabaka, 2009-01-16 Building on and going far beyond W E B Du Bois and the Problems of the Twenty First Century and Du Bois s Dialectics Reiland Rabaka s Africana Critical Theory innovatively identifies and analyzes continental and diasporan African contributions to classical and contemporary critical theory This book represents a climatic critical theoretical clincher that cogently demonstrates how Du Bois s rarely discussed dialectical thought interdisciplinarity intellectual history making radical political activism and world historical multiple liberation movement leadership helped to inaugurate a distinct Africana tradition of critical theory With chapters on W E B Du Bois C L R James Negritude Aime Cesaire and Leopold Senghor Frantz Fanon and Amilcar Cabral Africana Critical Theory endeavors to accessibly offer contemporary critical theorists an intellectual archaeology of the Africana tradition of critical theory and a much needed dialectical deconstruction and reconstruction of black radical politics These six seminal figures collective thought and texts clearly cuts across several disciplines and therefore closes the chasm between Africana Studies and critical theory constantly demanding that intellectuals not simply think deep thoughts develop new theories and theoretically support radical politics but be and constantly become political activists social organizers and cultural workers that is folk the Italian critical theorist Antonio Gramsci referred to as organic intellectuals In this sense then the series of studies gathered in Africana Critical Theory contribute not only to African Studies African American Studies Caribbean Studies Cultural Studies Gender Studies and Postcolonial Studies but also to contemporary critical theoretical discourse across an amazingly wide range of traditional disciplines and radical political activism outside of and in many instances absolutely against Europe's ivory towers and the absurdities of the American academy

Transcendence and the Africana Literary Enterprise Christel N. Temple, 2017-11-22

Africana literary critic and cultural theory scholar Christel N. Temple whose groundbreaking books Literary Pan Africanism: History, Contexts, and Criticism (2005) and Literary Spaces: Introduction to Comparative Black Literature (2007) have been some of the most influential models of contemporary Africana Studies based literary criticism responds to the demand for a core disciplinary source that comprehensively defines and models literary praxis from the vantage point of Africana Studies This highly anticipated seminal study finally institutionalizes the discipline's literary enterprise Framing the concept of transcendence she covers over a dozen traditional African American works in an original and thought provoking analysis that places canonical approaches in enlightened discourse with Africana studies reader response priorities This study makes traditional literature come alive in conversation with topics of masculinity womanism Black Lives Matter humor Pan Africanism transnationalism worldview the subject place of Africa cultural mythology hero dynamics Black psychology demographics history Black liberation theology eulogy cultural memory Afro futurism the Kemetic principle of Maat social justice rap and hip hop Diaspora and performance Scholars now have a focused Africana Studies text for both introductory and advanced literature courses to capture the power of the African American literary canon while modeling the most dynamic practical applications of humanities to social science practices

The Long Shadow of German Colonialism Henning Melber, 2024-09-01

A no holds barred account of how German society struggles with its colonial legacy

Memories of German Colonialism in Tanzania Reginald Elias Kirey, 2023-08-21

German colonial history in today Tanzania Mainland is extensively documented but it has not been studied from its memory perspective despite it being widely remembered among the Tanzanians This book documents German colonial memories as shared cultural legacy that exists in forms of monuments archives and historical sites It also presents them as trans generational memory narratives that live in people's memories that are also commemorated in different ways like erection of war monuments The book analyzes memories of colonialism from the historical perspective showing how the collective memories like monuments and commemorations have undergone structural and institutional changes over time The study uses Michael Rothberg's multi-directional theory together with other theoretical approaches to analyze various forms of German colonial memories in Tanzanian context. The findings which are analyzed historically indicate that the collective memories of the Germans are cultural, communicative, commemorative, functional and topographical. They are also traumatic as well as nostalgic.

Decolonising African University Knowledges, Volume 2 Amasa P. Ndofirepi, Felix Maringe, Simon Vurayai, Gloria Erima, 2022-10-14. This book explores the influence of neoliberal globalisation on African higher education considering the impact of the politics of neoliberal ideology on the nature and sources of knowledge in African universities. Written by African scholars, the book engages with debates around the commodification of knowledge, socially just knowledge, knowledge transformation, collaboration and partnerships and indigenous knowledge systems. It challenges the neoliberal approach to knowledge production and dissemination in African universities and contributes to debates around decolonising knowledge production in Africa. The chapters draw on experiences from universities in different sub-Saharan countries to show how the manifestation of neo-colonialism through the pursuit of the hegemonic neoliberal philosophy is impacting on decolonising university knowledge in Africa. Providing a unique critique of the impact of neoliberal higher education in Africa, the book will be essential reading for researchers, scholars and postgraduate students in the field of Sociology of Education, decolonising education, Inclusive Education and Education Policy.

German in the World Benedict Schofield, James R. Hodkinson, 2020. Weighs the value of Germanophone culture and its study in an age of globalization, transnationalism and academic change.

V. Y. Mudimbe Pierre-Philippe Fraiture, 2013. This study charts the intellectual history of the seminal Congolese philosopher, epistemologist and philologist V. Y. Mudimbe from the late 1960s to the present day, exploring his major essays and novels. It highlights Mudimbe's trajectory through major debates on African nationalism, Panafrikanism, neo-colonialism, negritude, pedagogy, Christianisation, decolonisation, anthropology, postcolonial representations and a variety of other subjects using these as contexts for close readings of many of Mudimbe's texts, both influential and lesser known.

Narrating the Self and Nation in Kenyan Autobiographical Writings Samuel Ndogo, 2016. Author Samuel Ndogo offers an understanding of the autobiographical genre in contemporary Kenyan literature. He draws attention to life writing as a form of cultural re-imagining in post-colonial Africa. Taking into consideration contradictions and paradoxes of referentiality in life writing, this book examines the autobiographies of Jaramogi Oginga Odinga, Ngugi wa Thiong'o, Wangari Maathai and Bethwell Ogot. The analysis dwells on self-representations in correlation with imaginations of the Kenyan nation in these works. Thus, the study gives a critical account into the modern memoir, the forms and styles it takes, the ways in which these authors tend to understand and present their lives.
