Winston-Salem Northern Beltway (western Section) ,1996 Archibald MacLeish Scott Donaldson,2016-06-28
Poet lawyer Librarian of Congress statesman and professor MacLeish 1892 1982 revived the Homeric ideal of a poet as a man in the world In this authorized and idealized biography his only flaws are a demanding nature many discreet infidelities and lack of interest in his children Fortunately Donaldson is as successful in celebrating MacLeish s strengths as he has been in tracing the demons that destroyed Cheever Fitzgerald and Hemingway Born into a wealthy Illinois family MacLeish attended Yale and Harvard Law married his childhood sweetheart and moved to Paris where he joined the circle around Joyce and Hemingway his lifelong friend and sustained by family resources devoted himself to poetry Returning to N Y C he spent the 30 s editing and writing for Fortune magazine while producing radio and stage plays starring the young Orson Welles that expressed his liberal politics In the 40 s MacLeish served as the first Librarian of Congress then as Secretary of State for Cultural Affairs and after helping to write the preamble to the UN Charter worked for UNESCO Even after accepting a Harvard professorship in 1946 he remained a mediator between the worlds of art and of public life urging the release of Ezra Pound from his mental asylum and publishing the day after the first moon landing a celebratory poem on the front page of The New York Times MacLeish s last years were spent lecturing traveling gathering prizes entertaining friends including Richard Burton and Liz Taylor and writing dramas as well as private but unrevealing poems about old age his various affairs and the bliss he found in his marriage For such a long and spectacular life this is a spare and unpretentious biography like MacLeish s verse Donaldson is informed respectful and comfortable with the many different roles his subject played He tastefully draws on unpublished verse to illuminate the shadows but mostly like MacLeish himself stays in the light
