traces how disability politics colluded with notions of Philippine mestizaje He demonstrates that Filipino mestizo writers in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries used mestizaje as a racial ideology of ability that marked Indigenous inhabitants of the Philippines as lacking in civilization and in need of uplift and rehabilitation Heteronormative able bodied and able minded mixed race Filipinos offered a model and path for assimilation into the US empire In this way mestizaje allowed for supposedly superior mixed race subjects to govern the archipelago in collusion with American imperialism By bringing disability studies together with studies of colonialism and queer of color critique Cor ez Bolton extends theorizations of mestizaje beyond the United States and Latin America while considering how Filipinx and Filipinx American thought fundamentally enhances understandings of the colonial body and the racial histories of disability Research in Education, 1969
