Mama Talks Too Much:

Mama Talks Too Much Marisabina Russo, 1999-08-26 On the way to the store Celeste is frustrated when her mother constantly stops to talk with neighborhood friends until Celeste finds a reason of her own for stopping By the author of Hannah's Baby Sister Unconquered Johnny Neil Smith, 2012-01-15 After four years of bitter struggles and immeasurable cost in human lives and property the armies laid down their weapons and the country was reunited But there was a magnitude of problems emerging from the rebellious and war torn South and the now freed slaves The freed slaves excited about their liberation were led to believe that they would receive forty acres of land and a mule but this didn't happen The politicians felt that freedom citizenship and the right to vote was enough for them True equality was never pondered and these people emerging from servitude were met with apathy and resentment Who would represent these people and who would mend the bitter feelings and destruction left by the war John Wilson who first appeared in the author's Hillcountry Warriors which was acclaimed as an above par work of period fiction by Publishers Weekly was such a man Wilson had fought for the Confederacy and upon returning to his home in Mississippi felt there was room for all races In essence he was a man beyond his time As long as Federal troops were stationed in the South some order existed but when they were removed in 1876 an internal struggle for power erupted As time passed Wilson was eventually appointed a district judgeship and he felt that he could make his dream of justice for all a reality This is his story and the story of many who labored to mend the bitter feelings and destruction left by the Civil War JOHNNY NEIL SMITH author of the critically acclaimed Hillcountry Warriors of which Unconquered is the sequel is now a retired educator and has always had a deep interest in early American history Since four of his great grandfathers served in the Confederate Army he is fascinated with the American Civil War and has spent years of research on the subject The Lady from Havana Luis Santeiro, 1991 THE STORY In Act One Mama an elegant older woman from Cuba arrives at the Miami home of her daughter Marita with her former maid Zoila in tow as well as a host of misgivings about living in exile in the United States As the mother and daug

Mama James Golden, 2017-11-27 James now retired and living in Las Vegas gets word that Mama is ill He had to make a decision to either stay in his retirement home or give it up to go back to New York and take care of her The decision was not as hard as he thought it would be he was going home James had always been in conflict with his mother He never understood why she was always sending him away from her Over time he came to believe that it was that she didn't love him as she did his other brothers and sisters The time spent with her would be the most rewarding and well spent time of his life The bond they had built the questions answered and the newfound love and respect he gained for her have made him a new man and the trust she had in God was passed on to him This is a story about a son who spent nine years taking care of his mother and the bond that was created through that period 'Charge It': Keeping Up With Harry Irving Bacheller, 2022-11-21 Irving Bacheller's Charge It Keeping Up With Harry intricately weaves moral instruction into its narrative fabric embodying the essence of didactic fiction With the central character the Honorable Socrates Potter embodying the voice of wisdom Bacheller artfully delivers a tale that is as entertaining as it is edifying The plot pivots on Potter s attempts to mitigate the luxurious excesses of his friend Lizzie examining through its literary style the intricacies of human nature and societal expectations The literary context of the novel emerges from a time when literature was frequently utilized as a tool for moral education resonating with the works of the 19th and early 20th centuries that sought to blend amusement with ethical lessons Irving Bacheller an astute observer of the human condition and an advocate for virtue through narrative draws upon his extensive experience in journalism and literature to construct the world of Socrates Potter Bacheller s personal philosophies likely informed his depiction of the central protagonist with Socrates Potter serving as an instrument through which the author could express his concerns about societal and individual morality Highly recommended for readers who appreciate classic fiction with a purpose beyond mere storytelling Charge It Keeping Up With Harry offers a reflective journey into the social mores of its time It beckons to those interested in exploring the intersections of friendship fiscal responsibility and the broader implications of personal conduct Bacheller s novel remains a compelling read for anyone seeking insight into the timeless human struggle with moderation and the temptations of extravagance Dreaming of a Place Called Home Greg Wiggan,2016-07-08 This book auto ethnographically explores the experiences of students and teachers both locally and globally while addressing the critical intersection of race class and gender in education It explores diversity perspectives on schools and society in Japan the United States Bahamas and Jamaica in regards to living and attending schools in a foreign country being an international minority student in the U S and being a minority teacher in U S public schools In doing so the book addresses minority experiences as it seeks to promote agency and advocacy for the underserved both locally and globally and making the world more humane and inclusive through education It acknowledges that we live in a global society and as such we must become global citizens and ambassadors of the world in which we live Greg Wiggan is an Associate Professor of Urban Education Adjunct Associate Professor of Sociology and Affiliate Faculty Member of Africana Studies at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte His research addresses urban education and urban sociology in the context of school processes that promote high achievement among African American students and other underserved minority student populations In doing so his research also examines the broader connections between the history of urbanization globalization processes and the internationalization of education in urban schools His books include Global Issues in Education Pedagogy Policy Practice and the Minority Experience Education in a Strange Land Globalization Urbanization and Urban Schools The Social and Educational Implications of the Geopolitical Economy Curriculum Violence America s new Civil Rights Issue Education for the New Frontier Race Education and Triumph in Jim Crow America 1867 1945 Following the Northern Star Caribbean Identities and Education in North American Schools Unshackled Education for Freedom Student Achievement and Personal Emancipation In Search of a Canon European History and the Imperialist State

Onorato,2004-01-08 Seventeen year old Jenia Cabresi stomped out of the Corner Caf into a late gray afternoon in downtown Los Angeles that slick November day in 1947 a day when billowy dark cumulus clouds hovered above the city bringing an eerie dampness into every crevice of the metropolis Drifting westward toward the blurred thirsty Santa Monica mountains the pending storm promised relief for the withering plants and fading foliage The unusual appearance of the Los Angeles winter season begged for the moisture that was about to embrace every living thing in its path A row of bright headlights splashed cautiously down Broadway in the approaching dusk accompanied by honking horns emitting different pitch tones transit buses puffing out black exhaust fumes delivery trucks and merchant hand carts pushed by men scurrying in and out of

side alleys running for shelter Ill show him Ill show him That sonuvabitch Jew Swartz Jenia cried Hes got it coming Yelling at me again in front of all my customers in the middle of lunch hour Who the hell does he think he is anyway Slivers of rain rushed down her face beside her tears of despair Mama where are you when I need you she silently implored Then her thoughts switched abruptly to the slums of the East Bronx New York in the late 1930s and 1940s where her mother Tina lived with her boyfriend Sal who tormented beat and abused Jenia and her sister Dorothy for more than 12 years Rarely a day went by in their young lives that he didnt find a reason to whip them with his belt or punish them in one sadistic way or another She remembered how she and her East Bronx girls gang would snuggle up in the corner of the junkyard light a cigarette and pass it around for each to inhale profusely The street kids made solemn oaths to keep shared secrets to themselves Jenia once told them about Sal catching the mouse in his wire box trap holding two live electric wires to the metal box while making the girls watch the tiny mouse squirm squeak and go belly up Sal just laughed The girls screamed in horror She tried to shake thoughts of Sals cruelties out of her mind by recalling the events that had sparked her off earlier in the day Overhead a ferocious looking black cloud appeared to be descending Perfect she thought sardonically marching onward as the cloud erupted above her with a roar that nearly jerked her off the ground Goddam Damn A couple of nuns scooted past her Jenia lowered her head to avoid eye contact She wanted to be a nun when she was in her early teens She attended confession every Saturday with Dorothy and mass every Sunday She loved church and God It seemed to be the one retreat where she was free of the turmoil and anger around her but time has taken its token Glancing at the dignified sisters she made the sign of the cross whispering In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost amen God forgive me but that Jew guy is driving me crazy The nuns dressed in full habit kept their heads bowed and sheltered under a black umbrella without noticing Jenia Thank God they didnt hear me she whispered For sure I would have had to say 1000 Hail Marys and 1000 Our Fathers To the east in the heart of the business garment district torrents of hail furiously bounced off the windshields of crawling cars Shining through the darkness illuminating the hustle and the bustle of the days end a bright slit of sun squeezed its way across the tall vertical gray city buildings It cast lively silhouettes framed by a half moon rainbow stretching its circle like aura over the cement slab horizon While clouds roared angrily above releasing torrents of wet hail on the glass like sidewalks people darted like little ants in and out of doorways trying to shield themselves from the sting of relentless pellets holding umbrell
