Man Against Tsetse John J. MacKelvey, 1973 Man Against Tsetse John J. McKelvey, 1973 Man Against Tsetse; Struggle for Africa [By] John J. McKelvey, Jr John J. McKelvey, 1973 Imperialism and the natural world John M. MacKenzie, 2017-03-01 Imperial power both formal and informal and research in the natural sciences were closely dependent in the nineteenth century This book examines a portion of the mass produced juvenile literature focusing on the cluster of ideas connected with Britain's role in the maintenance of order and the spread of civilization It discusses the political economy of Western ecological systems and the consequences of their extension to the colonial periphery particularly in forms of forest conservation Progress and consumerism were major constituents of the consensus that helped stabilise the late Victorian society but consumerism only works if it can deliver the goods From 1842 onwards almost all major episodes of coordinated popular resistance to colonial rule in India were preceded by phases of vigorous resistance to colonial forest control By the late 1840s a limited number of professional positions were available for geologists in British imperial service but imperial geology had a longer pedigree Modern imperialism or municipal imperialism offers a broader framework for understanding the origins long duration and persistent support for overseas expansion which transcended the rise and fall of cabinets or international realignments in the 1800s Although medical scientists began to discern and control the microbiological causes of tropical ills after the mid nineteenth century the claims for climatic causation did not undergo a corresponding decline Arthur Pearson's Pearson's Magazine was patriotic militaristic and devoted to royalty The book explores how science emerged as an important feature of the development policies of the Colonial Office CO of the colonial empire Wildlife, Wild Death Rodger Yeager, Norman N. Miller, 1986-06-30 This book examines the relationship between agricultural land use and wildlife protection in two eastern African countries Kenya and Tanzania Although both elements are vital to the societies and economies of these countries environmentally sensitive land use practices and effective wildlife management are seriously lacking in Kenya and Tanzania Within the broader context of environmental public policy the book traces the origins of these problems in the different policy experiences of the two countries and explores their current dimensions and magnitudes It also recommends future research and policy reforms that must be undertaken if Kenya and Tanzania are to achieve their developmental goals while avoiding environmental disaster and the extinction of their endangered wild animals Through its analysis the book provides a better understanding of similar conflicts wherever they appear in a world of increasing competition among threatened life forms Bibliography of the History of Medicine , Race, Science and Medicine, 1700-1960 Waltraud Ernst, Bernard Harris, 2002-01-04 Considering cases from Europe to India this collection brings together current critical research into the role played by racial issues in the production of medical knowledge Confronting such controversial themes as colonialism and medicine the origins of racial thinking and health and migration the distinguished contributors examine the role played by medicine in the construction of racial categories
