children this book examines the recent popularity of children's biographies and how they engage with the biggest issues of our time: environmental change, health crises, education, and children's personal and political development. Beginning with a literary historical overview, Children and Biography proceeds to examine 21st-century examples and trends such as illustrated texts including Women in Science, the Fantastically Great Women Who Changed the World books, Rebel Dogs, Goodnight Stories for Rebel Girls, Kids Who Did It, My Beautiful Birds, and The Journey. The book also considers archives of children's writings and drawings, in particular the testimonies of child asylum seekers, children's biographical art, and Lockdown diaries produced during the Covid-19 pandemic. By analyzing these works alongside empirical studies into how such material is received by child readers and how texts generated by children are perceived both by them and their parents, this book provides new knowledge on how biographies for children are produced and read. Comprehensive and original, Children and Biography presents an ethical methodological framework for scholarly practice when reading, witnessing, and interpreting children's life narratives. The book offers a mandate for future researchers to place children's voices and writing at the centre of inquiries in ways that facilitate genuine agency for child authors.

Ur in the Twenty-First Century CE, 2021-01-25 The city of Ur, now modern Tell el Muqayyar in southern Iraq, also called Ur of the Chaldees in the Bible, was one of the most important Sumerian cities in Mesopotamia during the Early Dynastic Period in the first half of the third millennium BCE. The city is known for its impressive wealth and artistic achievements evidenced by the richly decorated objects found in the so-called Royal Cemetery, which was excavated by the British Museum and the University of Pennsylvania from 1922 until 1934. Ur was also the cult center of the moon god, and during the twenty-first century BCE it was the capital of southern Mesopotamia. With contributions from both established and rising Assyriologists from ten countries and edited by three leading scholars of Assyriology, this volume presents thirty-two essays based on papers delivered at the 62nd Rencontre Assyriologique Internationale held in Philadelphia in 2016. Reflecting on the theme Ur in the Twenty-First Century CE, the chapters deal with archaeological, artistic, cultural, economic, historical, and textual matters connected to the ancient city of Ur. Three of the chapters are based on plenary lectures by senior scholars Richard Zettler, Jonathan Taylor, and Katrien De Graef. The remainder of the essays, arranged alphabetically by author, highlight innovative new directions for research and represent a diverse array of topics related to Ur in various periods of Mesopotamian history. Tightly focused in theme yet broad in scope, this collection will be of interest to Assyriologists and archaeologists working on Iraq.
