Nerves Anna Furse, 2020-05-14 Academic interest in hysteria has burgeoned in recent decades The topic has been probed by feminist theorists cultural studies specialists literary scholars anthropologists sociologists psychologists medical and art historians as well as novelists The hysteric is construed as a powerless voiceless subject marginalised by the forces of the patriarchy that have been the root cause of their distress dissembling and disablement In Performing Nerves Anna Furse interweaves her artistic and academic practice drawing on her own performance texts to explore four different versions of debilitating hysteric suffering Each text is extensively annotated revealing the dramaturgical logic and in turn the historical medical and cultural contexts behind their protagonists illnesses which are argued as environmentally caused in each case This unique reflective insight into a playwright and director s craft offers not only an account of how mental suffering can manifest in different contexts and times from the 19th century to today but also a breadth of access to the ideas that can motivate creative research This book is an invaluable resource for scholars of theatre studies performance studies
